JOURNALS

OF THE

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY

OF THE

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO.

Thursday, 9th January, 1879.

3 o'clock P.M.

This being the first day of the Fourth Session of the Third Legislature of Ontario for the Despatch of Business, pursuant to a Proclamation of the Honourable Donald Alexander Macdonald, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province, and the House having met, the Lieutenant-Governor entered the House and, having taken his seat on the Throne, was pleased to open the Session by the following gracious Speech :—

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly—

It is with much pleasure and satisfaction that I once more meet you, assembled for the discharge of those very important functions which, under our Constitution, devolve upon the Members of a Provincial Assembly.

It would have been most gratifying to me, had I been able to congratulate you upon a complete return of financial and commercial prosperity to our country. But, while a partial renewal of trade, and a moderately good harvest have afforded a measure of relief, various causes have checked our progress and compelled a longer endurance of a period of depression.

While however our agriculturists are suffering from the low prices of grain and other produce, it is most satisfactory to notice the already extensive and growing trade between Ontario and Europe in live cattle, horses, sheep, meats and dairy products, in which many of our enterprising citizens are now engaged, with, I trust, profitable results to themselves, and, certainly, to the benefit of the country at large.

You will, I know, have shared in the general feeling of pleasure excited by the selection, as the successor of the Earl of Dufferin, of a nobleman so distinguished for his personal worth, and his varied attainments, as the new Governor-General of Canada.

The spontaneous welcome accorded to His Excellency has been rendered more than ordinarily warm and enthusiastic by the fact that he is accompanied by his illustrious consort, Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise, whose presence is a fresh proof of the deep interest felt by our Gracious Sovereign in the welfare of Her Canadian subjects, and a renewed pledge of the close and loyal bond which unites the people of the Dominion to the Empire and the Throne.

Nor can I refrain from expressing the sympathy we all must feel in the bereavement which has cast a cloud over the earlier days of the residence of Her Royal Highness among us.

It is a subject for congratulation that the long-pending controversy between Ontario and Quebec, respecting the division of the public debt and assets of the Province of Canada, has since your last Session been closed by the judgment of the Privy Council to which a case was submitted. The contention of Ontario has been sustained, the advice tendered by their Lordships to Her Majesty having affirmed the validity of the award.

It is also my pleasing duty to call your attention to the settlement, by arbitration, of the northern and western boundaries of Ontario since you last assembled. The decision of the Arbitrators declares the boundaries of the Province to extend to the waters of Hudson's Bay on the north and to the north-west angle of the Lake of the Woods on the west, these limits embracing an area of many thousand square miles beyond the limits to which the claim of the Dominion since 1871 would have confined us. You will be invited to approve of a measure having for its object the preservation of order, the administration of justice, and the encouragement of settlement and enterprise in this territory. I have reason to believe that the outlay necessary to secure these objects will be more than compensated by the revenue to be derived from the country.

The illustration of our Provincial system of Education exhibited at the Universal Exposition held at Paris during the past year, was one of the most interesting features of the Canadian Department, and produced a very favorable impression upon all who witnessed it. It is encouraging to know, that not only are the efforts to promote the liberal and useful education of our people at home increasingly appreciated by them, but that the Province of Ontario has by this means gained no small honour and distinction in the eyes of the world at large.

I am glad also to learn that, through the energetic efforts of our people to make the Canadian Exhibition at Paris successful, a stimulus has been given to several branches of manufacturing industry in Ontario, and that a considerable trade is likely to develop itself as the result of the more widely-known value and excellence of certain classes of our manufactured goods.

I desire to commend to your continued attention the subjects of municipal assessments, of exemptions from local taxation, and of sanitary laws and arrangements.

The recent discoveries in the application of artificial light to domestic purposes, and the probability that the progress of scientific enquiry may lead to important changes in the method of heating and lighting our streets and buildings, have suggested the advisability of providing by a general Act the powers necessary to enable Companies to make such changes in their arrangements as may be necessary to meet the public demands.

The proceedings at Election trials, and in connection with the rectification and adjustment of the Voters' Lists, have suggested the expediency of some supplementary provisions, which will be embodied in a measure to be submitted to you.

A Bill will be submitted to you for the purpose of extending the right of voting for School Trustees to those classes of parliamentary electors who have not hitherto enjoyed that privilege.

You will also be invited to consider a Bill to simplify the laws relating to Juries, and thereby to render the Jury system less costly, without impairing its efficiency.

The new Reformatory for Women will be completed during the present year. You will be asked to approve a measure required to legalize the application of this building to penal and reformatory purposes, and to provide for such other matters as may be needed to carry out the objects for which the Institution is designed.

The advantages which, in certain districts, have attended a liberal expenditure in Drainage operations, will, I trust, induce you to regard favorably a proposal to apply a further sum for the encouragement of works of this description, by the purchase of Municipal Debentures issued for the purpose, and which, while they supply the Municipalities with an easy and economical means of raising the money needed, afford at the same time a safe investment of a portion of our surplus funds.

I have directed that the Public Accounts of Receipts and Expenditure shall be laid before you.

The Estimates for the current year will be presented to you at an early day. They will exhibit, I do not doubt, a due regard for economy, while framed with the desire to meet demands upon the Treasury tending to the advancement of the public welfare.

I shall rejoice to know that your deliberations, during the Session now opening, have resulted in strengthening your claims upon the respect and confidence of your fellow-countrymen.

The Lieutenant-Governor was then pleased to retire.

Mr. Speaker informed the House, That he had received the following notifications of vacancies which had occurred, during the recess, in the representation of the Electoral Districts of :—South Riding of Simcoe; Algoma; North Riding of Essex; West Riding of Elgin; Monck, and Toronto East, and, That he had issued his Warrants for new Writs for the Election of Members to serve in this present Legislature for the said Electoral Districts.

3 o'clock, P.M.

The following Petitions were severally brought up, and laid upon the Table :—

By Mr. Currie—The Petition of W. O. Buchanan, and others, of the Town of Clifton.

By Mr. Meredith—The Petition of the County Council of Lincoln.

By Mr. Lauder—The Petition of the Yorkville Loop Line Railway Company; also, the Petition of the Lake Simcoe Junction Railway Company.

By Mr. Clarke (Wellington)—The Petition of the Township Council of Luther.

By Mr. Barter—The Petition of the County Council of Haldimand.

By Mr. Williams—The Petition of the Snowdon Iron Mine and Blast Furnace Company.

By Mr. Tooley—The Petition of the County Council of Middlesex.

By Mr. Bell—The Petition of the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal Company.

The Order of the Day, for taking into consideration the Speech of the Lieutenant-Governor, having been read,

Mr. Harcourt moved, seconded by Mr. McLaws,

1. That an humble Address be presented to His Honour, the Lieutenant-Governor, thanking His Honour for his gracious Speech at the opening of the Session, and tendering him our acknowledgments for the pleasure and satisfaction he expresses at once more meeting us assembled for the discharge of those very important functions which, under our Constitution, devolve upon the Members of a Provincial Assembly.

2. That it would have been most gratifying to us had His Honour been able to congratulate us upon a complete return of financial and commercial prosperity to our country; but, while a partial renewal of trade, and a moderately good harvest, have afforded a measure of relief, we regret, with His Honour, that various causes have checked our progress, and compelled a longer endurance of a period of depression.

3. That we share His Honour's satisfaction in noticing that, while our agriculturists are suffering from the low prices of grain and other produce, an already extensive and growing trade between Ontario and Europe in live cattle, horses, sheep, meats, and dairy products, in which many of our enterprising citizens are now engaged, with, we trust, profitable results to themselves, and certainly, to the benefit of the country at large.

4. That we have shared with His Honour in the general feeling of pleasure excited by the selection, as the successor of the Earl of Dufferin, of a nobleman so distinguished for his personal worth, and his varied attainments, as the new Governor-General of Canada.

5. That we have been glad to observe the spontaneous welcome accorded to His Excellency, which has been rendered more than ordinarily warm and enthusiastic by the fact that he is accompanied by his illustrious consort, Her Royal Highness, the Princess Louise, whose presence is a fresh proof of the deep interest felt by our Gracious Sovereign in the welfare of her Canadian subjects, and a renewed pledge of the close and loyal bond which unites the people of the Dominion to the Empire and the Throne.

6. That we unite with His Honour in the expression of the sympathy all must feel in the bereavement which has cast a cloud over the earlier days of the residence of Her Royal Highness among us.

7. That we join with His Honour in feeling it to be a subject for congratulation that the long-pending controversy between Ontario and Quebec, respecting the division of the public debt and assets of the Province of Canada, has since our last Session been closed by the judgment of the Privy Council to which a case was submitted, and that the contention of Ontario has been sustained, by the advice tendered by their Lordships to Her Majesty having affirmed the validity of the award.

8. That we thank His Honour for calling our attention to the settlement, by arbitration, of the northern and western boundaries of Ontario since we last assembled; also, to the fact that the decision of the Arbitrators declares the boundaries of the Province to extend to the waters of Hudson's Bay on the north, and to the north-west angle of the Lake of the Woods on the west, these limits embracing an area of many thousand square miles beyond the limits to which the claim of the Dominion since 1871 would have confined us; and we assure His Honour that our best attention will be given to a measure having for its object the preservation of order, the administration of justice, and the encouragement of settlement and enterprise in this territory; while we are glad to learn that His Honour has reason to believe that the outlay necessary to secure these objects will be more than compensated by the revenue to be derived from the country.

9. That we thank His Honour for reminding us that the illustration of our Provincial system of Education, exhibited at the Universal Exposition held at Paris during the past year, was one of the most interesting features of the Canadian Department, and produced a very favourable impression upon all who witnessed it; and we are encouraged by knowing that not only are the efforts to promote the liberal and useful education of our people at home increasingly appreciated by them, but that the Province of Ontario has by this means gained no small honour and distinction in the eyes of the world at large.

10. That we are glad to learn that, through the energetic efforts of our people to make the Canadian Exhibition at Paris successful, a stimulus has been given to several branches of manufacturing industry in Ontario, and that a considerable trade is likely to develop itself as the result of the more widely known value and excellence of certain classes of our manufactured goods.

11. That we shall, as recommended by His Honour, give our continued attention to the subjects of municipal assessments, of exemptions from local taxation, and of sanitary laws and arrangements.

12. That in view of recent discoveries in the application of artificial light to domestic purposes, and the probability that the progress of scientific enquiry may lead to important changes in the method of heating and lighting our streets and buildings, we shall give our best consideration to His Honour's suggestion of the advisability of providing by a general Act the powers necessary to enable Companies to make such changes in their arrangements as may be necessary to meet the public demands.

13. That we thank His Honour for informing us that the proceedings at Election trials, and in connection with the rectification and adjustment of the Voters' Lists, have suggested the expediency of some supplementary provisions, which will be embodied in a measure to be submitted to us, and to which we shall give our careful attention.

14. That we will fully consider the Bill to be submitted to us for the purpose of extending the right of voting for School Trustees to those classes of Parliamentary Electors who have not hitherto enjoyed that privilege.

15. That we thank His Honour for inviting us to consider a Bill to simplify the laws relating to Juries, and thereby to render the Jury system less costly, without impairing its efficiency.

16. That we thank His Honour for informing us that the new Reformatory for Women will be completed during the present year, and we will give our best consideration to any measure for legalizing the application of this building to penal and reformatory purposes, and for providing for such other matters as may be needed to carry out the objects for which the Institution is designed.

17. That we agree with His Honour as to the advantages which, in certain districts, have attended a liberal expenditure in Drainage operations, and assure His Honour that we shall give due attention to any proposal to apply a further sum for the encouragement of works of this description, by the purchase of Municipal Debentures issued for the purpose, which, while they supply the Municipalities with an easy and economical means of raising money needed, afford at the same time a safe investment of a portion of our surplus funds.

18. That we thank His Honour for directing that the Public Accounts of Receipts and Expenditure shall be laid before us.

19. That we thank His Honour for informing us that the estimates for the current year will be presented to us at an early day, and for the belief His Honour expresses that they will exhibit a due regard for economy, while framed with the desire to meet demands upon the Treasury tending to the advancement of the public welfare.

20. That we shall rejoice with His Honour to know that our deliberations, during the Session now opening, have resulted in strengthening our claims upon the respect and confidence of our fellow-countrymen.

The first paragraph of the proposed Address, having been read the second time, was agreed to.

The second paragraph having been read the second time,

Mr. Morris moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Meredith,

The Debate was resumed.

The thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth, nineteenth, and twentieth paragraphs of the proposed Address having been read the second time, were agreed to.

Resolved, That the above Resolution be referred to a Select Committee composed as follows :—The Attorney-General, and Messieurs Crooks, Harcourt and McLaws, with instructions to prepare and report an Address to the Lieutenant-Governor, in conformity therewith.

The Attorney-General, from the Select Committee, reported an Address, which was read as follows :—

To His Honour Donald Alexander Macdonald, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario:

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOUR :

We, Her Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, in Parliament assembled, humbly thank Your Honour for your gracious speech at the opening of the Session, and tender you our acknowledgments for the pleasure and satisfaction you express at once more meeting us assembled for the discharge of those very important functions which, under our Constitution, devolve upon the Members of a Provincial Assembly.

It would have been most gratifying to us had Your Honour been able to congratulate us upon a complete return of financial and commercial prosperity to our country; but, while a partial renewal of trade, and a moderately good harvest, have afforded a measure of relief, we regret, with Your Honour, that various causes have checked our progress and compelled a longer endurance of a period of depression.

We share Your Honour's satisfaction in noticing that, while our agriculturists are suffering from the low prices of grain and other produce, an already extensive and growing trade between Ontario and Europe in live cattle, horses, sheep, meats, and dairy products, in which many of our enterprising citizens are now engaged, with, we trust, profitable results to themselves, and, certainly, to the benefit of the country at large. And we beg to assure your Honour that having regard to the efficiency and proper administration of the public service, we will use our best endeavours towards keeping the actual expenditure on account of Provincial affairs within the Revenue.

We have shared with Your Honour in the general feeling of pleasure excited by the selection, as the successor of the Earl of Dufferin, of a nobleman so distinguished for his personal worth, and his varied attainments, as the new Governor-General of Canada.

We have been glad to observe the spontaneous welcome accorded to His Excellency, which has been rendered more than ordinarily warm and enthusiastic by the fact that he is accompanied by his illustrious consort, Her Royal Highness, the Princess Louise, whose presence is a fresh proof of the deep interest felt by our Gracious Sovereign in the welfare of her Canadian subjects, and a renewed pledge of the close and loyal bond which unites the people of the Dominion to the Empire and the Throne.

We unite with Your Honour in the expression of the sympathy all must feel in the bereavement which has cast a cloud over the earlier days of the residence of Her Royal Highness among us.

We join with Your Honour in feeling it to be a subject for congratulation that the long-pending controversy between Ontario and Quebec, respecting the division of the public debt and assets of the Province of Canada, has since our last Session been closed by the judgment of the Privy Council to which a case was submitted, and that the contention of Ontario has been sustained, by the advice tendered by their Lordships to Her Majesty having affirmed the validity of the award.

We thank Your Honour for calling our attention to the settlement, by arbitration, of the northern and western boundaries of Ontario since we last assembled; also, to the fact that the decision of the Arbitrators declares the boundaries of the Province to extend to the waters of Hudson's Bay on the north, and to the north-west angle of the Lake of the Woods on the west, these limits embracing an area of many thousand square miles beyond the limits to which the claim of the Dominion since 1871 would have confined us; and we assure Your Honour that our best attention will be given to a measure having for its object the preservation of order, the administration of justice, and the encouragement of settlement and enterprise in this territory; while we are glad to learn that Your Honour has reason to believe that the outlay necessary to secure these objects will be more than compensated by the revenue to be derived from the country.

We thank Your Honour for reminding us that the illustration of our Provincial system of Education, exhibited at the Universal Exposition held at Paris during the past year, was one of the most interesting features of the Canadian Department, and produced a very favorable impression upon all who witnessed it; and we are encouraged by knowing that not only are the efforts to promote the liberal and useful education of our people at home increasingly appreciated by them, but that the Province of Ontario has by this means gained no small honour and distinction in the eyes of the world at large.

We are glad to learn that, through the energetic efforts of our people to make the Canadian Exhibition at Paris successful, a stimulus has been given to several branches of manufacturing industry in Ontario, and that a considerable trade is likely to develop itself as the result of the more widely-known value and excellence of certain classes of our manufactured goods.

We shall, as recommended by Your Honour, give our continued attention to the subjects of municipal assessments, of exemptions from local taxation, and of sanitary laws and arrangements.

In view of recent discoveries in the application of artificial light to domestic purposes, and the probability that the progress of scientific enquiry may lead to important changes in the method of heating and lighting our streets and buildings, we shall give our best consideration to Your Honour's suggestion of the advisability of providing by a general Act the powers necessary to enable Companies to make such changes in their arrangements as may be necessary to meet the public demands.

We thank Your Honour for informing us that the proceedings at Election trials, and in connection with the rectification and adjustment of the Voters' Lists, have suggested the expediency of some supplementary provisions, which will be embodied in a measure to be submitted to us, and to which we shall give our careful attention.

We will fully consider the Bill to be submitted to us for the purpose of extending the right of voting for School Trustees to those classes of Parliamentary Electors who have not hitherto enjoyed that privilege.

We thank Your Honour for inviting us to consider a Bill to simplify the laws relating to Juries, and thereby to render the Jury system less costly, without impairing its efficiency.

We thank Your Honour for informing us that the new Reformatory for Women will be completed during the present year, and we will give our best consideration to any measure for legalizing the application of this building to penal and reformatory purposes, and for providing for such other matters as may be needed to carry out the objects for which the Institution is designed.

We agree with Your Honour as to the advantages which, in certain districts, have attended a liberal expenditure in Drainage operations, and assure Your Honour that we shall give due attention to any proposal to apply a further sum for the encouragement of works of this description, by the purchase of Municipal Debentures issued for the purpose, which, while they supply the Municipalities with an easy and economical means of raising money needed, afford at the same time a safe investment of a portion of our surplus funds.

We thank Your Honour for directing that the Public Accounts of Receipts and Expenditure shall be laid before us.

We thank Your Honour for informing us that the estimates for the current year will be presented to us at an early day, and for the belief Your Honour expresses that they will exhibit a due regard for economy, while framed with the desire to meet demands upon the Treasury tending to the advancement of the public welfare.

We shall rejoice with Your Honour to know that our deliberations, during the Session now opening, have resulted in strengthening our claims upon the respect and confidence of our fellow-countrymen.

The Address, having been read the second time, was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Address be engrossed, and presented to His Honour by such Members of the House as are of the Executive Council.

On motion of Mr. Wood, seconded by Mr. Crooks,

Resolved, That this House will, on Friday next, resolve itself into the Committee of Supply.

Resolved, That this House will, on Friday next, resolve itself into the Committee of Ways and Means.

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

MOST GRACIOUS SOVEREIGN,—

We, Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, in the Dominion of Canada, in Session assembled, humbly beg leave to approach Your Majesty to express the deep sorrow we have felt on hearing of the bereavement Your Majesty has sustained in the death of Your Majesty's beloved daughter, Her Royal Highness the Princess Alice, Grand Duchess of Hesse Darmstadt.

The loyal attachment of Your Majesty's subjects, in all parts of the British Empire, to Your Majesty's Person and Throne, must always cause them to take the deepest interest in everything affecting Your Majesty's welfare and happiness.

Especially will the decease of Her Royal Highness, and the grief so sad an event must occasion to Your Majesty, excite a sympathetic response in a land where the domestic virtues are so prized, and the domestic tie is so honoured, as in Your Majesty's Dominion of Canada.

Permit us, then, Most Gracious Sovereign, to express the earnest hope that in this and all other trials and afflictions Your Majesty may be called upon to bear, Your Majesty may be supported by the consolations of a Christian faith, and of the unwavering love of your whole people.

To the RIGHT HONOURABLE SIR JOHN DOUGLAS SUTHERLAND CAMPBELL, Marquis of Lorne, Knight of the Most Ancient and Most Noble Order of the Thistle, Knight Grand Cross of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Governor-General of Canada, and Vice-Admiral of the same.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,—

It is with deep and unfeigned satisfaction that we, Her Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, in Session assembled, respectfully beg leave to congratulate Your Excellency upon Your Excellency's appointment by Her Majesty, to the high and important office of Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada.

By the laborious efforts of Your Excellency's distinguished predecessor, the Earl of Dufferin, to advance in every respect within his power the happiness and social well-being of the people whom, in behalf of his Sovereign, he ruled, a new interest has been excited in the functions of the Governor-General, and a stronger desire has been created that the office may always be filled by one whose tastes and sympathies are likely to identify him with those of the community at large.

We are happy, in Your Excellency, to recognize a nobleman who will, we believe, in this sense and every other, worthily fulfil our hopes and expectations.

The historical traditions of your House, the liberality of thought and the kindness of heart of which you are the immediate inheritor, and the experience you have gained in the representative branch of the British Parliament will, we feel sure, all tend to identify you in heart and feeling with the free speech, free thought, and free institutions of the country you are called upon to govern.

With a profound reverence for the law, and a just regard for the principles of the Constitution, we do not doubt you will surmount every difficulty, and at the close of your vice-royalty, secure from the people a tribute of grateful and admiring commendation.

It is a source of the highest pleasure to us, on this occasion, to express our loyal and respectful welcome to your illustrious Consort, Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise. The presence, as the Wife of the Governor-General of Canada, of a daughter of our beloved Sovereign, testifies to the deep regard Her Majesty has ever evinced in the welfare of the Dominion, and her desire to show her appreciation of the loyalty of all classes of her subjects in Canada to her Person and Throne.

We trust that, notwithstanding the heavy cares and responsibilities incidental to your exalted position, Your Excellency and Her Royal Highness will find ample compensation in the pleasure your presence will afford wherever your travels may extend, and in knowing that your rule has at once advanced the interests of the Dominion, and rivetted even more firmly than ever the links that unite us to the Empire.

The Address, having been read the second time, was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Address be engrossed.

Resolved, That an humble Address be presented to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, praying that His Honour will be pleased to transmit the Address adopted by this House, congratulating His Excellency the Governor-General, on His arrival in Canada, and His appointment as Governor-General of the Dominion; and tendering a respectful welcome to Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR LORDSHIP :

We, Her Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, in Session assembled, respectfully beg leave to express to Your Lordship our deep sense of the distinguished services rendered by Your Lordship while occupying the high position of Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada.

The interest exhibited by Your Lordship in the working of our system of government, and in all those questions affecting the well-being of the community with which the respective Legislatures have to deal, as well as the eloquent language in which both in Canada and Great Britain Your Lordship's views are expressed, were calculated to inspire every Canadian with increasing devotion to public duty, and with a greater pride in the honour and reputation of his country.

While never forgetful of the claims of your person and office to the respect of all who approached you, the conviction in the public mind that nothing was too humble to deserve your attention, and that none were too lowly to claim your regard—while in our social as well as in our political relations, Your Lordship was always ready to act the part of a just critic or to pay a generous tribute where praise was deserved—has caused you to be cherished in our memories, not less as a friend than as an enlightened ruler.

We trust that your Lordship may long be spared to Your Sovereign and your country, and that with the Countess of Dufferin, who has seconded Your Lordship's efforts with so much graceful kindness and condescension, Your Lordship may ever look back upon your term of office in Canada with feelings of unmixed happiness and satisfaction.

Of George J. Duncan and others, of Drummondville, praying that the Bill before the House for the incorporation of the Village of Niagara Falls may not pass.

Of the Village Council of Maiboc ; also, of the Village Council of Midland City ; also, of the Village Council of Gravenhurst ; also, of the Village Council of Vienna, severally praying for certain amendments to the Municipal Act respecting the enforcement of statute labour.

Mr. Droche, from the Committee on Standing Orders, presented their Second, Third and Fourth Reports, which were read as follow :—

The Committee have carefully examined the following Petitions, and find the Notices, as published in each case, sufficient :

Of M. O'Donovan and others, praying that an Act may pass to incorporate the Ontario Central Railway Company.

Of the trustees of St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, praying that an Act may pass to consolidate their debt, and for other purposes.

Of the City Council of St. Catharines, praying that an Act may pass to confirm certain by-laws, and for other purposes.

Of M. Boyd and others of Harvey, praying that an Act may pass to detach certain lands from Harvey, in the County of Peterborough, and annex the same to Verulam, in the County of Victoria.

Of the Consumers' Gas Company of Toronto, praying that an Act may pass to amend their several Acts of incorporation.

Of Roger Hedley and others, of St. Mary's, praying that an Act may pass to alter the boundaries of the Town of St. Mary's.

Of Andrew Smith and others, of Toronto, praying that an Act may pass to incorporate the Ontario Medical Veterinary Association.

Of the Hamilton and Dundas Street Railway Company, praying that an Act may pass to amend their Act of incorporation.

Of the County Council of Kent, praying that an Act may pass to amend the Act incorporating the Eric and Huron Railway Company, and for other purposes.

The Committee have also examined the Petition of the Walkerton High and Public School Boards, praying that an Act may pass to empower them to convey certain lands, and find that notice of the intended application has, through some inadvertence on the part of the promoters of the measure, not been inserted in any local paper, as required by the Rules of the House. The Committee have, however, had before them a certified extract from the minutes of a public meeting called by the Mayor of the Town of Walkerton, to consider this matter, and also a declaration that an intimation of such minutes of meeting was published in the Bruce Herald and Walkerton Telescope on the 13th December last. The Committee consider the fact of such meeting having been so held, and the minutes thereof published as aforesaid, sufficient notice to all parties interested, and therefore recommend the suspension of the Rule in this case.

The Committee have also carefully examined the Petition of the Farmers' Loan and Savings Company, praying that an Act may pass to amend their Act of incorporation, and for other purposes, and find that notice of the intended application has been inserted the requisite number of times both in the Ontario Gazette and in a local paper, but that the Petition asks for more than is covered by the notice. The Committee recommend that the notices be considered sufficient, except as to power to alter and amend rules of the Company as to which no notice has been given.

Mr. Derache, from the Committee on Printing, presented their First Report, which was read as follows :—

The Committee recommend that the following documents be printed :

Mr. Deroche, from the Committee on Standing Orders, presented their Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth Reports, which were read as follows : —

The Committee have carefully examined the following Petitions, and find the Notices in each case sufficient :

Of the Victoria College of Cobourg, praying that an Act may pass to amend their Act of incorporation.

Of Joseph Jeffreys and others of London, praying that an Act may pass to extend the time for the completion of the London Junction Railway Company.

Of Adelaide Maccauley and others of Lindsay, praying that an Act may pass to empower the trustees under a certain deed of trust made by T. Keenan, to sell the lands therein described.

Of William Hoskins and others of Hamilton, praying that an Act may pass to incorporate the Association of Provincial Land Surveyors of Ontario.

Of the City Council of Ottawa, praying that an Act may pass to amend the Act incorporating the Ottawa City Passenger Railway Company.

Of the City Council of Ottawa, praying that an Act may pass to vest in them the powers accorded to the Ottawa Water Works Commission.

Of the Town Council Guelph, praying that an Act may pass to legalize a certain by-law respecting the Water Works of the said Town.

Of the Town Council of Guelph, praying that an Act may pass to incorporate the City of Guelph.

Of the Town Council of Guelph, praying that an Act may pass to vest in them a certain lot hitherto used as a burying ground for the purposes of a public park.

Of the Union St. Joseph d'Ottawa, praying that an Act may pass to amend their Act of incorporation.

Of J. O. McEwen and others, of Tiverton, praying that an Act may pass to confirm a certain by-law relating to the Village of Tiverton.

Of the Barton and Glandford Road Company, praying that an Act may pass to grant them further time for completion of a portion of their road.

Of A. J. Cattanauch and others, of Toronto, praying that an Act may pass to incorporate the Toronto Fire Insurance Company.

Of the St. Catharines and Welland Canal Gas Light Company, praying that an Act may pass to extend their powers.

The Committee have also carefully examined the Petition of the City Council of Ottawa, praying that an Act may pass to enable them to aid the construction of a certain bridge; and the Committee find that notice of such intended application has been inserted the proper number of times in the Ontario Gazette, and that such notice has also been inserted in the Ottawa Daily Citizen; but the requisite number of such latter insertions have not been produced before the Committee; this being, however, a matter which has to come before the electors to be voted upon, and the Petition being signed by the Mayor and City Clerk, the representatives of the parties interested, the Committee consider that sufficient notice has been given, and would, therefore, recommend the suspension of the Rules in this case.

The Committee have also carefully examined the Petition of the Grand Junction Railway Company, praying that an Act may pass amending the several Acts relating to the Company, confirming certain bonuses, and for other purposes; also, the Petition of the Bellecille and North Hastings Railway Company, praying that an Act may pass to amend their Act of incorporation, and beg leave to report that as to all the matters in respect of which legislation is prayed for by the Petitions, except as to the legalization of certain municipal by-laws, due and sufficient notice has been given, but that no notices have been given in respect of the application by such petitioners to legalize such by-laws; and that no action be taken as to those parts of such Petitions as are not covered by the notices.

The Committee have also carefully examined the Petition of George Russell and others, of Leamington, praying that an Act may pass to amend cap. 72, of 40 Vic., relating to the Leamington, Comber, and Lake St. Clair Railway Company, and find that further powers are asked for by the Petition than are covered by the notice. The Committee beg leave to report the Petition, except as to those powers of which no notice has been given.

The Committee have also examined the Petition of the Strathroy, Port Franks and Port Stanley Railway Company, praying that an Act may pass to extend the time for building said road, and also to legalize certain municipal bonuses granted to aid its construction. The Committee find that proper notice has been published in the Ontario Gazette and in the Strathroy Age, a newspaper published in the County of Middlesex, but that no notice has been published in either of the other counties effected by the proposed legislation. The Committee therefore consider the notices as furnished to them not sufficient, and report that the Rules of the House have not been complied with in the matter of the foregoing petition.

PRAYERS.

Mr. Speaker informed the House, That the Clerk had received from the Judges appointed to inquire into and report on Estate Bills, their Reports in the following cases:—

Bill (No. 22), An Act respecting the property of the Congregation of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Almonte.

Bill (No. 31), An Act respecting certain property in the Town of Peterborough.

Bill (No. 54), An Act to authorize the sale of certain lands in the Village of Loulton East, heretofore known as the Methodist Cemetery.

OSGOODE HALL,

30th January, 1879.

The undersigned, to whom with other Judges of the Superior Courts of Law and Equity, Commissions have been issued to report in respect of Estate Bills which may be submitted to the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, have the honour to state in reference to Estate Bill (No. 22), and the Petition of the Reverend John Francis Coffee, the Priest and Members of the Congregation of St. Mary's Church, in the Village of Almonte, in the County of Lanark, that they consider Bill objectionable for the following reasons:—

The first section proposes to confirm an election of trustees of property, conveyed for the use of a church and burying ground to trustees, who have died without appointing their successors as provided in the trust deed. But the Rev. Stats., c. 216, provides for the election of the trustee of any land to which the congregation is entitled, and the trustees who have been appointed are stated to have been appointed pursuant to the Act. The effect of the appointment is specified in the 12th section to be that the land shall from time to time vest in, and be held by the trustees so appointed immediately upon the registration of the proceedings, without any further conveyance or instrument whatever.

The first section of the Bill seems to us therefore to be wholly unnecessary.

The second clause proposes to declare a mortgage made by the trustees valid. Neither in the Bill nor in the Petition does it appear for what purpose the mortgage was made, nor how the money has been or is intended to be applied, nor is there said to have been any power to mortgage in the original deed. The Rev. Stats., c. 216, s. 2, only authorizes mortgages upon the church property, to secure a debt contracted for certain specified purposes, the building, repairing, extending or improving of a church, meeting house, chapel, etc.

If for any purpose authorized by the Act, it needs no legislation; if for any other purpose, we cannot say whether it is reasonable or not, as we are not informed of the trusts of the original deed.

J. G. SPRAGGE, C.

W. PROUDFOOT, V. C.

To Charles T. Gillmor, Esq.,
Clerk Legislative Assembly.

OSGOODE HALL,
31st January, 1879.

We, the undersigned Commissioners, have examined the Bill respecting certain property in the Town of Peterborough, marked (No. 31).

We think the proposed Bill should contain some statement as to the present ownership of the lands, and we suggest the introduction of certain words in the preamble—"Being lands stated in said Petition to have been granted or conveyed to the then Council of the District of Colborne as a general burying ground," or to that effect.

Assuming all the allegations to be true, it seems to us to be reasonable that such Bill do pass into law.

J. G. SPRAGGE, C.

JOHN H. HAGARTY, C. J.

To Charles T. Gillmor, Esq.,
Clerk Legislative Assembly.

OSGOODE HALL,
3rd February, 1879.

In the matter of the Petition of Murray Anderson and others, of the City of London, praying that an Act may be passed authorizing the removal by the trustees in the Petition named, of the bodies interred in the burying ground in the said Petition named, and the sale of the lands therein also mentioned.

SIR,

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 29th of January last upon the 1st instant, in the above matter, and also the enclosures therein contained, namely, a copy of the said Petition and a copy of the Bill presented to the Legislative Assembly, founded upon the Petition, and requesting me to report upon the Bill in pursuance of the terms and requirements of the sixty-second rule of the House, relative to Estate Bills.

I have examined the Petition and Bill referred to me, and as the Bill provides generally for the sale of the lands, which were granted to the trustees as aforesaid, and as the purpose of the Bill is to empower the trustees to give or grant by lease or otherwise, an estate in the lands freed from the trusts of the deed of the 12th of October, 1854, it will be better to express that fact distinctly in the Bill.

The amendment might be added to the end of the 4th section, and it might be as follows:—"And every deed or conveyance of lease or sale so made shall be freed and discharged from all precedent trusts of every kind declared in, or referred to, by the deed bearing date the twelfth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, and the lessee or purchaser shall hold the same lands so demised or sold to him and his heirs, or interest therein, freed and discharged from the said trusts, as if the same had not been created or declared."

I think it would also be advisable to provide that all deeds and conveyances made under the Act, should refer in some short terms to the Act under which they are made as follows:—

"This Indenture made the———day of———in the year of our Lord———under the authority of an Act of the Legislature of Ontario, passed in the———year of Her Majesty's Reign, chapter———intituled 'An Act to authorize the sale of certain lands in the Village of London East, heretofore known as the Methodist Cemetery."

I think the trust funds arising from the lease or sale of these lands will be sufficiently secured to the persons or fund to which they rightly belong, by the control which "the Annual Conference of the Methodist Church of Canada, within the bounds of which the said lands are situate," has in giving, or withholding their consent to the making of such leases or sales.

But it might be advisable to insert in the Bill that such trust funds shall be dealt with and disposed of by the said "Annual Conference," in such manner as they shall from time to time declare, according to the usual manner of proceeding in such cases.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

A. WILSON, C. J. C. P.

I concur in the above Report.

PRAYERS.

Mr. Speaker informed the House, That the Clerk had received from the Judges appointed to inquire into and report on Estate Bills, their Reports in the following cases :—

Bill (No. 20), Respecting the public burial ground in the Town of Guelph.

Bill (No. 2), To authorize the trustees of St. Andrew's Church, Williamstown, to sell certain land.

Bill (No. 45), Respecting the Walkerton School Board.

Bill (No. 78), To confer on the City of Toronto extended powers with regard to local improvements, and other matters.

Bill (No. 4), To enable the County of Carleton to sell certain land in the City of Ottawa.

Bill (No. 34), To empower the trustees under a deed of trust, made between Thomas Keenan, of the Town of Lindsay, and others, to sell the land therein mentioned.

The Reports were then read by the Clerk at the Table as follow :—

We, the undersigned Commissioners, have examined the Bill respecting the public burying ground in the Town of Guclph, marked No. 20.

Assuming all the allegations in the recital to be true, we think it is for the Legislature to consider whether the conversion of a burying ground, after removal of the dead, into a place of public recreation is proper under the circumstances.

We see no legal objections to the Bill being passed.

W. PROUDFOOT, V. C.

To Charles T. Gillmor, Esq.,
Clerk Legislative Assembly.

We, the undersigned Commissioners, have examined the Bill to authorize the trustees of St. Andrew's Church, Williamstown, to sell certain land, marked No. 2.

We are of opinion that the trustees can attain the object they have in view under the provisions of "The Act respecting the property of Religious Institutions," Rev. Stat. Ont., chap. 216, and that therefore the passing of a Special Act for the purpose is neither necessary, nor expedient.

OSGOODE HALL,

February 4th, 1879.

The undersigned, to whom with other Judges of the Superior Courts of Law and Equity, Commissions have been issued to report in respect of Estate Bills or petitions for Estate Bills which may be submitted to the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, have the honour to state in reference to Estate Bill No. 78, as follows :

It is referred to us to report only upon section 11 of the proposed enactment and we abstain therefore from making any observations upon the other portions of the Bill.

With regard to the Ordnance Lands, the site, as the petition states, of the late Exhibition Buildings, we are not informed upon what trusts the same were granted to the City, or whether the Attorney-General on behalf of the Crown has assented to the proposed sale, and the proposed application of the proceeds thereof.

Further, this section proposes to enact that all sales, leases or other dispositions of these lands heretofore made by the Corporation shall be, and be deemed to have been valid, notwithstanding anything in the patent contained. We are not informed what sales, leases or other dispositions of this land have been made by the Corporation. They may, or may not be such as it would be proper for the Legislature to validate, and we cannot be in a position to give any opinion as to the propriety of what is asked, in ignorance of what has in this respect been done by the Corporation. In our opinion the sanction of the Legislature should not be given to what has been done, without full information being given as to what has been done.

In the event of these difficulties being removed it will be for the Legislature to consider whether what is called the new Exhibition Park, or the still more distant High Park, can be taken as a fair substitute for the open space, containing over thirty acres of land in the western part of the City, for the sale of which the Corporation asks the sanction of the Legislature. The Corporation state in their petition that these other "Parks" will meet all the requirements of the citizens for many years to come, but it is to be observed that in the future, land fit for such purposes can in all probability only be obtained with great difficulty and at great cost, if obtainable at all.

To Charles T. Gillmor, Esq.,

OSGOODE HALL,
5th February, 1879.

Bill (No. 45), An Act respecting the Walkerton School Lands.

The undersigned, Commissioners of Estate Bills, having perused a copy of the above-mentioned Bill, and of the petition on which the same is founded, have to report that in their opinion, presuming the allegations contained in the preamble to be proved to the satisfaction of the House, it is reasonable that the Bill do pass into law, and that, the provisions thereof are proper, the third section being somewhat modified for carrying its purposes into effect.

JOHN H. HAGARTY, C. J.
J. C. MORRISON, J.

To Charles T. Gillmor, Esq.,
Clerk Legislative Assembly.

OSGOODE HALL,
January 30th, 1879.

The undersigned beg to report on Bill (No. 4). To enable the County of Carleton to sell certain lands in the City of Ottawa, referred to the Commissioners of Estate Bills, in compliance with the Order of the Legislative Assembly for their report.

The preamble refers to the report of a decision of the Court of Common Pleas in the case of the Corporation of the County of Carleton against the Public School Board of the City of Ottawa, from the examination of which it appears that the deed contained a defeasance, in the event of the land being used for any other purpose, or sold or alienated.

From this the inference is, that the operation of the instrument was to make a gift of the land simply for the purpose of maintaining a school-building, and that its sale, or appropriation to any other purpose, however closely connected with education, would vest the property in the heirs-at-law of Le Breton.

The donor had the right to annex any conditions to the grant; so that if the proper interpretation of the deed be that he was willing to give the land as long as a school house was actually maintained upon it, but no longer, and that if from any cause the donors became unable to maintain a school there the property should revert, it would seem to be contrary to sound principle to deprive the heirs-at-law of their estate.

In our opinion it is not reasonable that the Bill should pass into law.

THOMAS MOSS, C. J.
C. S. PATTERSON, J. A.

To Charles T. Gillmor, Esq.,
Clerk Legislative Assembly.

OSGOODE HALL,
February 5th, 1879.

The undersigned beg to report on Bill (No. 34), To empower the trustees under a deed of trust made between Thomas Keenan, of the Town of Lindsay and others, to sell the land therein mentioned, referred to the Commissioners of Estate Bills, in compliance with the Order of the Legislative Assembly, for their report:—

From the statement of the deed contained in the petition, it appears that the power would have enabled Mrs. Macaulay to select certain of the children as appointees to the exclusion of the rest; and consequently no individual child had, under the settlement, an absolute interest.

The arrangement which the Legislature is now asked to sanction seems to be equitable, and for the benefit of the children as a class. If, as the petition alleges, a sale is necessary for the support, &c., of the children, it seems reasonable that it should be permitted in the manner proposed. But to prevent all danger of the Act being drawn into a precedent for authorizing the sale of estates, or interests in remainder vested in infants, simply in order to realize a larger immediate income, it appears desirable to state more fully in the preamble the special circumstances. In the margin of the printed copy of the Bill returned herewith, we have indicated the addition which we would suggest.

Upon the preamble being thus amended we think it reasonable that the Bill should pass into law.

THOMAS MOSS, C. J.

C. S. PATTERSON, J. A.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen—

In receiving from you, the Members of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, the Address with which you have honoured me, containing your kindly congratulations on my entry on the duties of the high office with which Her Majesty has entrusted me, and your cordial welcome to the Princess, my wife, I rejoice to accept a fresh proof of your loyalty to the Sovereign whose representative I am, and who has no more faithful, loving and devoted subjects, than the dwellers in your mighty Province.

It is certainly the greatest encouragement which can be offered to any man in my position to endeavour to perform his duty among you, to observe with what fidelity you remember the services, and recognize the merits of those illustrious men who have been my predecessors. It is an especial pleasure to me to observe the tribute you delight to pay to the Earl of Dufferin, the genial statesmanship of whose rule will always be remembered, as it is in the present day, among the brightest traditions, and happiest influences which have attended the first years and opening history of our Canadian Dominion.

Should it be my lot to be remembered by you at the end of my term of service, with the good feeling which you have extended to me on my arrival, I shall consider myself among the most fortunate of men.

In asking you to accept my thanks, I assure you I am sensible of the debt of gratitude I already owe to the Canadian people, and that it will be my effort and ambition to promote in every way the welfare of this country, which is so dear to the Queen and her subjects in the Mother Country.

PRAYERS.

Mr. Speaker informed the House, That the Clerk had received from the Judges appointed to inquire into, and report on Estate Bills, their Report with reference to Bill (No. 72), To amend an Act to authorize the Churchwardens of St. James' Church, Toronto, to issue debentures.

The Report was then read by the Clerk at the Table, as follows:—

OSGOODE HALL,
12th February, 1879.

Report in the matter of Bill (No. 72), entitled “ An Act to amend an Act to authorize the Churchwardens of St. James' Church, Toronto, to issue debentures. (37 Vic. c. 92.)”

The preamble alleges that, in carrying out the wishes of the vestry of St. James' Cathedral, the churchwardens have been called upon to expend a greater sum than was contemplated when they applied for the Act, 37 Vic. c. 92, and that it is necessary to make provision for such expenditure; and that, for that purpose, they desire to consolidate the debts of the vestry at a greater sum, and to be empowered to issue debentures to a greater amount than was by the said Act authorized: and that the holders of the debentures already issued have consented and agreed to purchase the further debentures which it is proposed to issue under the authority of the Act.

This preamble appears fully to recite the substance of the petition.

The first section of the Bill amends the first section of the Act of 37 Vic., by substituting the increased amounts mentioned in the petition for those in the original Act.

Presuming the allegations to be proved to the satisfaction of the House, particularly touching the consent of the present debenture holders to the new issue ranking upon the security of the property pari passu with the existing debentures, it seems to us reasonable that the first section should pass into a law.

The second section is different in its character and scope.

It vests in the churchwardens the soil and freehold, which by the Church Temporalities' Act (3rd Vic. c. 74), are vested in the parson, or incumbent for the time being.

It transfers to the churchwardens alone the possession of the church and property, which under the Church Temporalities' Act is in the incumbent and the churchwardens, jointly.

And it gives power to sell the property without the sanction required by the Act (41 Vic. c. 25), which extended to the Church of England, the rights, powers and privileges conferred by the Religious Institution Act (R. S. c. 216).

There is nothing alleged in the preamble or the petition to indicate the necessity or the propriety of thus changing the legal ownership and tenure of this Church and property, or conferring powers of sale of an exceptional character.

The first section of the Bill seems to fully answer the prayer of the petition.

We are therefore of opinion, that it is not reasonable that the second section should pass into a law.

GEO. H. BURTON.

C. S. PATTERSON.

C. T. Gillmor, Esq.,
Clerk Legislative Assembly.

PRAYERS.

Mr. Speaker informed the House, That the Clerk had received from the Judges appointed to inquire into, and report on Estate Bills, their Reports with reference to the following Bills :—

Bill (No. 2), To authorise the trustees of St. Andrew's Church, Williamstown, to sell certain land.

Bill (No. 22), Respecting the property of the Congregation of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Almonte.

The Reports were then read by the Clerk at the Table, as follow :—

OSGOODE HALL,
13th February, 1879.

The undersigned to whom with other Judges of the Superior Courts of Law and Equity, Commissions have been issued to report in respect of Estate Bills or Petitions for Estate Bills, which may be submitted to the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, have the honour to state in reference to Estate Bill (No. 2), referred to us for our opinion, is that of the trustees of a Congregation applying to the Legislature for authority to sell certain land, and to apply the proceeds of such sale for the purpose of improving other property which is attached to the Church or for purposes connected with the interests of the Congregation adhering to said Church.

Inferring from such statement in the preamble of the Bill, that the property in question was property held in trust for the Congregation, we in our Report referred to the provisions of the Act respecting the property of Religious Institutions (Rev. Stat. Ont., c. 216), and expressed the opinion that the trustees could attain their object under the provisions of that Act, and that therefore the passing of a special Act for that purpose was neither necessary nor expedient.

Since our Report the patent from the Crown to certain persons named therein as Trustees of the Presbyterian Church at Williamstown, has been sent to us together with a consent of the Presbytery of Glenjarry, in relation to a proposed sale of the land.

Upon perusing the patent we find that the trust is not for the benefit of the Congregation of the Presbyterian Church at Williamstown, but for the benefit of the resident Minister for the time being of that Congregation, and therefore that the Stat., c. 216, does not apply to the case.

We address ourselves to the considerations that with the information now before us appear to us to apply to it. The Bill enacts that the Trustees may sell and that "The vendors shall apply the proceeds of such sale to the improvement of the Glebe or property attached to the Church, or in such other manner as they may deem best for the interest of the Congregation adhering to said Church."

This enactment makes the Trustees who may sell to apply the proceeds of the sale to purposes materially differing from the purpose prescribed in the trust contained in the patent from the Crown to the detriment of the Minister and the benefit of the Congregation.

A consent by the Presbytery to the application of the proceeds of the sale to purposes not within the trust would not—if given—be a reason for the sanction by the Legislature of said application. But upon perusing the consent we find it not to be a "consent to the proposed Bill." It is only a consent to the sale, and on the understanding that the proceeds of such sale, should it be effected, shall not be alienated from the purpose for which the land was originally granted. The proposed Bill does authorize the alienation from that purpose of the proceeds of the sale.

It does not appear that the Minister of the Congregation for whose benefit, and the benefit of his successors, the land is held in trust, has been consulted in relation to what is proposed; but even if he had been and his consent had been given, it would not be a sufficient reason for assenting to what is asked, inasmuch as what is proposed would affect the interest of his successors as well as his own.

Our attention is directed to the provision in the Rule of the House respecting Estate Bills (No. 62), that our opinion is requested after perusing the Bill, without requiring any proof of the allegations thereof. We have not overlooked this provision, but have to observe that the proposed Bill contains no allegation of fact beyond the one fact that the Trustees of this Congregation have presented a Petition praying for authority to sell this land, and to apply the proceeds to the purposes to which we have already referred.

Upon the facts that are before us and for the reasons that we have given, we have to express our opinion that it is not reasonable that the proposed Bill should pass into a Law.

J. G. SPRAGGE, C.

W. PROUDFOOT, V. C.

To Charles T. Gillmor, Esq.,
Clerk Legislative Assembly.

OSGOODE HALL,

14th February, 1879.

The undersigned, to whom with other Judges of the Superior Courts of Law and Equity, Commissions have been issued to report in respect of Estate Bills, or Petitions for Estate Bills, which may be submitted to the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, have the honour to state in reference to Estate Bill No. 22, that the same having by Order of the Legislative Assembly been referred back for reconsideration in connection with the original trust deed, and that deed being now laid before us, we have perused the same, and find it to be a conveyance to trustees, in trust to hold the same for ever as places for a church and burying ground.

The parties in trust named in the conveyance are the Right Reverend Remigius Gaulin, Bishop of Kingston, and the Reverend John Hugh McDermogh, the then officiating Priest of the Catholic Church in the Town of Perth; the deed contains provisions for the appointment of new trustees providing for "the Catholic Pastor of the aforesaid Town of Perth, for the time being, being always one of such trustees;" and it does not appear that such Catholic Pastor of the Town of Perth is one of the trustees appointed by the Priest and Congregation of the Church in pursuance of c. 216 of the Revised Statutes; and from the description of the trustees appointed we infer that such Catholic Pastor is not one of them, and we think it not unreasonable that, in order to the removal of any doubts that may arise as to the validity of the appointment of the trustees named in the Act, that their appointment should be validated in manner provided by the first section of the Act, upon the Legislature being satisfied that for some sufficient reason the Catholic Pastor of the Town of Perth was not appointed one of the trustees.

Instead of section 3 of the proposed Act, we are of opinion that it would be more proper that it should be left to the congregation in accordance with s. 10 of c. 216 of the Revised Statutes to provide for the future appointment of a trustee or trustees instead of limiting their choice as proposed in s. 3.

After perusing the trust deed our objection to s. 2 of the proposed Act remains. The deed contains no power to mortgage and we are still uninformed for what purpose the mortgage was made, or how the money has been or is intended to be applied.

J. G. SPRAGGE, C.

W. PROUDFOOT, V. C.

2.30 O'CLOCK P.M.

Mr. Speaker informed the House, That he had received from the Judges selected, pursuant to the Controverted Election Act, their Certificate and Report relating to the Election for the County of Lincoln.

The Certificate and Report were then read by the Clerk at the Table, as follows:—

To the Honourable the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario:—

The Honourable Christopher Salmon Patterson, Justice of Appeal, and the Honourable Samuel Home Blake, Vice-Chancellor, in pursuance of the Statute in that behalf, report as follows:—

The Petition of Nathan Henry Pawling against the election and return of John Charles Rykert, as a Member of the Legislative Assembly for the County of Lincoln, came on for trial before the said Mr. Justice Patterson and Mr. Vice-Chancellor Blake, on the eleventh day of September, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, and the trial thereof was proceeded with upon that day, and upon other days to which the proceedings were, from time to time, duly adjourned.

That certain allegations of corrupt practices against the said John Charles Rykert and his agents, contained in the said petition, were tried by the said two Judges sitting together; and it was proved before them that one John Junkin, an agent of the said John Charles Rykert, committed a corrupt practice at the said election, by the bribery of one Anne Belcher; and that one Dexter Potter, an agent of the said John Charles Rykert, committed corrupt practices at the said election by the bribery of one John Jackson, and one Abram Hollingsworth; and illegal practices having been shown to have been committed at the said election by Arthur Aikins and others, and the said Judges having decided that the corrupt acts committed by the said agents, were not of such trifling extent in connection with the said other illegal practices that the result of the election could not be reasonably supposed to have been unaffected thereby, they the said Judges did, upon the fourth day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, determine that the said John Charles Rykert was not duly elected.

That the said petitioner having affirmed, and the said John Charles Rykert having denied, that Sylvester Neelon, a candidate at the said election, had been duly elected thereat by a majority of good and lawful votes, a scrutiny of the votes polled at the said election was, by the direction of the said Judges, held before Charles Allan Brough, Esquire, their Registrar, and the further proceedings at the said trial, for the purpose of determining if the said Sylvester Neelon had been so duly elected, were taken partly before the said Judges, sitting together, and partly before Mr. Justice Patterson sitting alone.

That it was not shewn that the said Sylvester Neelon, or that any person had been duly elected at the said election.

That the trial being now concluded the said Judges determine and report that the said John Charles Rykert was not, nor was it proved before them that any other person was duly returned or elected at the said election; and they adjudge that the said John Charles Rykert do pay to the said petitioner his costs of the trial of the charges of corrupt practices, to be taxed by the proper officer up to, and including the fifth day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, and that each of the parties bear his own costs of all other proceedings.

A copy of the evidence taken at the trial of the said charges of corrupt practices is appended to this Report.

And the said Judges further Report as follows:—

That no corrupt practice was proved to have been committed at the said election by, or with the knowledge of any candidate thereat.

That John Junkin, Dexter Potter, Arthur Aikins, and James Brownlee, were proved at the said trial to have been guilty of corrupt practices.

That there is reason to believe that corrupt practices extensively prevailed at the said election.

And the said Judges further specially report, that while the scrutiny was proceeding before the Registrar at the Court House in the City of St. Catharines, some of the papers which had been procured from the custody of the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery, for the purpose of the trial, namely, some ballot-papers, some counterfoils and a Voters' list, were stolen from the said Court House and were not recovered, and that, by reason of the loss of those papers, it was impossible for the Judges to determine for whom the majority of good and lawful votes was polled at the said election.

S. H. BLAKE.

MR. SPEAKER then said :—

May it please your Honour :

We, Her Majesty's most dutiful and faithful subjects, the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, in Session Assembled, approach Your Honour at the close of our labours with sentiments of unfeigned devotion and loyalty to Her Majesty's person and Government, and humbly beg to present for Your Honour's acceptance a Bill intituled "An Act for Granting to Her Majesty certain sums of money to defray the expenses of Civil Government for the year 1879, and for other purposes therein mentioned," thus placing at the disposal of the Crown the means by which the Government can be made efficient for the service and welfare of the Province.

To this Bill, the Clerk of the Legislative Assembly, by Command of the Lieutenant-Governor, did say :—

"The Lieutenant-Governor doth thank Her Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, accept their benevolence, and assent to this Bill in Her Majesty's name."

The LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR was then pleased to deliver the following Speech :—

Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly :

In relieving you from further attendance upon your Legislative duties, I have to thank you for your assiduous attention to the public business, and for the useful and practical results of your labours.

The large number of Private Bills which have received your consideration, have entailed upon you work of a very arduous character, and demanding the closest and most pains-taking attention.

I am happy to observe that, besides formally confirming the award of the Arbitrators appointed to determine the Northerly and Westerly Boundaries of the Province of Ontario, you have also provided for the Administration of Justice in the extensive territory over which the jurisdiction of my Government is now declared to extend.

The measures which you have passed providing for the regulation of the Reformatory for Women, and establishing an Industrial Refuge for Girls, will, I trust, under the Divine blessing, be the means of accomplishing much good, and of preserving many from a career of crime and misery.

The further aid which you have decided on granting for drainage purposes and your amendments of the Drainage Acts, will give an additional encouragement to this important branch of local improvements.

The measure authorizing my Government to appoint an Inspector of Fire Insurance Companies, while it will not create any new charge upon the public treasury, will give increased confidence to Insurers, and prove beneficial to the Institutions thus subjected to supervision.

The Act to enable Gas Companies to adopt the new discoveries of science for the supply of artificial light, and the Act to facilitate the incorporation of Steam Heating Companies, are in accordance with the progressive demands of the times, and may in an economic sense, prove most valuable to the public.

I have been happy to give my assent to measures for the further improvement of the School Law, for the amendment of the Election Laws in the light of the most recent experience of their operation, for simplifying and improving the laws relating to Juries, and to numerous other reforms.

I thank you for the supplies which you have voted for the service of the year. They will be applied with the most careful regard to economy consistent with the public requirements.

In bringing to a close this last Session of your Parliamentary term, I pray that an all-wise Providence may so direct the minds of the people as to cause them to send as their Representatives in the next Legislative Assembly, men as patriotically and honestly disposed to advance the best interests of their country as those who have hitherto filled that responsible and important position.

Mr. Hardy, Provincial Secretary, then said:—

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:—

It is the Lieutenant-Governor's will and pleasure that this Legislative Assembly be prorogued; and this Legislative Assembly is accordingly prorogued.

The following is the Answer to the Address to Lord Dufferin (See page 27) received on the 4th April, 1879:

BRITISH EMBASSY, ST. PETERSBURG,

March 2nd, 1879.

To the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario:

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to return to you my warmest thanks for the kind Address with which you have honoured me. The fact of it having overtaken me in a foreign land, and after I have left your shores, makes it doubly welcome, and has afforded me a fresh assurance of the abiding sympathy of my Canadian friends.

It was on my progress through the Province of Ontario that I first learnt to appreciate the great qualities of the Canadian people; their loyalty to the Queen and the Mother Country, their self-reliance, their energy and the mighty industry which has enabled them to convert what a century ago was a vast wilderness into a glorious group of rich, prosperous and well-cultivated English Counties.

Representing as you do the population through which I passed on that occasion, who welcomed me to their towns and villages with such enthusiasm, I am more than ever desirous of making you understand how deeply grateful I am for the kindness of your farewell.

Lady Dufferin desires to join with me in these expressions of my thanks; and we both unite in the fervent hope that your future deliberations may still further promote the happiness of the loyal, law-abiding and God-fearing constituencies whom you represent.

DUFFERIN.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE.

TORONTO, February 4th, 1879.

John Smith, Immigration Agent at Hamilton, was called, sworn, and produced the books of his agency.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. You are agent of the Dominion and Local Governments at Hamilton? A. Yes.

Q. What are your duties there? A. Immigration agent. We receive immigrants when they come in, look after them, and place ourselves in communication with people throughout the country, and those conducting public works, with the view of being in a position to locate immigrants when they come.

Q. What advice have you beforehand of the arrival of immigrants? A. We have none at Hamilton. We have to be on the trains every time they come in.

Q. You just watch the trains then? A. Yes.

Q. How do you find out whether they are immigrants or not? A. The people on the platform know us, and when the immigrants come off the trains they usually enquire for the immigration agent. Then some come to our office inquiring if we know where work is to be got.

Q. Where do they come from chiefly? A. We will take the month of June, 1877, for instance. In that month we had 53 who came by the St. Lawrence, and 1,132 by the States.

Q. From what place would they come? A. On crossing the frontier they come from Suspension Bridge, and Buffalo, or Fort Erie.

Q. How do you get at the number? A. There are entries each day.

Q. In your book you say you had 1,132 by the Suspension bridge in June, 1877? A. Yes.

Q. You don't say anything about Buffalo there? A. We just say by the States. There was no International bridge when these forms were printed.

Q. Then you have them divided into nationalities? A. I will explain: On June first, we had 25—3 English and 22 German. The 3 English and 6 of the Germans remained in Ontario, and the remaining 16 Germans went through to the Western States.

Q. In June 275 Germans and 200 Danes went to the United States? A. Yes.

Q. How many remained in Canada during the month of June? A. 574.

Q. How do you ascertain that? A. I do not happen to have the figures of the month of June with me. I brought to the end of the year. I will take July. In that month 770 remained in Canada and 383 went to the States; 126 came by the St. Lawrence and 1027 by the States.

Q. How do you ascertain that these 770 remained in Canada? A. On the 1st July the arrivals by the Suspension bridge were 24—22 English and 2 Scotch. They are thus disposed of: 8 English in Ontario, 2 Scotch in Ontario, 14 English through. If you add these numbers together you will find that they correspond with the 24, and if you add the nationalities taken together, they will also correspond with the 24, but of that 24, 4 went to London.

Q. How do you know that they went to London? A. By being at the Depot and seeing them away.

Q. Have you anything to do with placing them at London or getting them employment there? A. No, the agent there does that. All I know is that they went to London. I cannot account for them after they leave my place.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. You book them day by day? A. Yes.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. What have you to do with placing them in Hamilton? A. When they arrive in Hamilton I go around and try to find employment for them. For instance, I am acquainted with all the different workshops and with people employing labour, and the immigrants being strangers, I ascertain where they can get employment.

Q. You confine yourself to Hamilton? A. No, sir, I confine myself to the Niagara Peninsula, Wellington, Grey and Bruce, and the County of Oxford. I do not go further west than that.

Q. How many have you placed in that way during 1878? A. I suppose I must have placed in the neighbourhood of 2,000 or 3,000.

Q. And during 1877? A. About the same number.

Q. You have located that many yourself? A. Yes.

Q. Do you keep a record of these cases? A. Only where we send them to. And then there are a number who have their own place to go to. There may be a family of a husband and wife and five children, and when we locate them, they count in that way.

Q. What resources have you at Hamilton station for assisting these people—What moneys are placed at your disposal? A. No money.

Q. Have you authority to grant orders at Hamilton? A. Yes, from the Department here.

Q. Have you any of those orders with you—orders for meals, tickets, railway fares, &c. A. In taking charge of the agency, I received general instructions to carry out what my predecessor did. When an immigrant arrives, who has no means whatever—nothing with which to get a meal—we give him a meal.

Q. What evidence does he produce to show that he is an immigrant? A. I speak for myself. I make myself perfectly satisfied before I do anything and that is one of the great difficulties I have to contend with.

Q. Don't you demand some evidence—his passage ticket or something of that kind? A. His passage tickets are given up before he comes to us.

Q. What evidence do you get? A. The evidence of an expert in finding out whether they are really immigrants or not.

Q. Take those that come from Suspension Bridge—what kind of evidence do you get that they are really immigrants? Do you satisfy yourself that they came from the ships at New York? A. Yes, before I grant any assistance. There are numbers with whom we have nothing to do, except to find out that they are immigrants, and where they are going to locate. But before I grant any assistance to any one, I satisfy myself that he is a bonâ fide emigrant.

Q. What do you call a bonâ fide immigrant? A. One coming from Europe to this country for settlement.

Q. What evidence do you get? Do you examine his baggage, &c.? A. Yes, and by smelling the salt water, and making him turn up his boots to show what kind of soles they have.

Q. Do you insist on any evidence? A. Not written, but on such evidence as an officer of the Government can get.

Q. Do you ask them generally for letters or papers? A. In special cases. For instance, a man says, "I want to go to Windsor." That is rather suspicious to me at once, as Windsor is on the border line, and all he has to do is to step across, and I ask, "Have you got any letter?" or, "What evidence can you produce?" He says, "I have a letter from my brother to show that he has a job for me in Windsor." In that case we send him.

Q. Before you give them a railway ticket or assist them in any way, don't they show you a voucher, or an order of some agent in Europe? A. No, sir.

Q. What evidence have you that a man is a Canadian immigrant at all? A. I ask him questions, and I thoroughly satisfy myself that he is going to settle in Canada before I have anything to do with him at all.

Q. You have only his own word? A. Yes, and my own perception. You cannot mistake one of these people when he comes into a place.

Q. After you satisfy yourself that he is an immigrant, what do you do? A. The next thing is, he wants some assistance or something to do.

Q. What power have you to grant assistance—have you any orders for granting assistance? A. I get no orders.

Q. Where do you get the money? A. I send the accounts into the Department.

Q. Well, what next do you do? I relieve indigent immigrants, get them employment, see that they are located, and send statistics to the Department.

Q. What course do you take to get them something to eat? I take them to a place where we have a contract for feeding these people.

Q. Who are they? A. Mrs. Henderson.

Q. Who made the arrangements? A. I did.

Q. Who pays her? A. The Department.

Q. Have you any others beside Mrs. Henderson? A. No, sir.

Q. Suppose an immigrant asks for assistance on the railway, what do you do? A. I ask him where he wants to go, and what his object is in going. If I find employment for him myself, I know that before he can enter on that employment he must get to the place. I then give him a ticket for his destination, and in a large number of cases I give him a letter to the person I send him to.

Q. Do you keep a record of these cases? A. Yes.

Q. Have you the record with you of the orders you gave for passages in July, 1877? A. Yes. (The witness produces a number of checks).

Q. I see that on July 12, 1877, you passed a man from Hamilton to Belle River; where is Belle River? A. On the line of the Great Western.

Q. (Reading), Hamilton to Clifton. That is at the Bridge? A. Yes.

Q. He would come by the St. Lawrence, and apply for assistance to go from Hamilton to Suspension Bridge? A. Yes.

Q. Where was he going? A. The Great Western absorbs a number of men there, and it is an objective point from which to go elsewhere.

Q. What do you mean by "absorbing men?" A. Giving them employment—mechanics and labourers.

Q. What record have you for Hogan, for instance, whom you sent to Clifton? Have you any record to show that he was going to work on the Great Western? A. No.

Q. Do you recollect anything about him? A. Not the individual case. I was perfectly conversant with it at the time.

Q. On the 20th two other men were sent to Clifton, were they all going to the Great Western Railway? A. There is a district between Clifton, Niagara and St. Catharines. A portion of them going into the agricultural district would get off at St. Catharines.

Q. I see you sent a large number to London and some to Sarnia. What evidence have you in your book that they got employment there? Have you any communication from Sarnia, from any one wanting labourers? A. I have not brought any letters with me. A person comes out and gets as far as Hamilton. He has a brother or an uncle a farmer near Sarnia, and he wants to get there, and as he has no means, we send him. A great many cases arise in that way.

Q. But do you keep no minute in your book of the people you assist in this way? A. I have no record of what each one is going for, whom he is going to, and all that. I have a record of where they all go, and I know that under the rules of the Department, I am justified in sending them.

Q. Do you make any record of the reason you send so many to Sarnia? A. No, that would require too many clerks.

Q. Don't you put any remark opposite their names? Don't you say "Assisted so-and-so," or anything like that? A. I have a record of the names of all those assisted in July, 1877.

Q. Does it show where they went to? A. No.

Q. What is this book kept from? A. My memorandum, as it goes along.

Q. Would it not be well for you to keep a memorandum, showing where each immigrant goes to? A. I can tell where any one of these went to. The number we assist is very small in proportion to the number we receive.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. You never assist them either in meals or passage money, unless you are satisfied that they are going to locate in Canada? A. Not at all.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. You keep a memorandum every day? A. Yes.

Q. Does it contain any more jottings than this book? There is nothing here but the names—the amount does not appear here at all? A. Just the names.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. These Sarnia, London, and Windsor cases in July—do you pay their full fare? A. No, sir.

Q. What portion? A. A cent a mile.

Q. Does the Company carry them for that? A. Yes, the Great Western.

Q. You sent a number to Windsor during that month—did you pay their passages? A. I don't pay anything. That is the duplicate order, and that is my record of the number of tickets issued. It contains their names, their ages, where they come from, &c.

Q. Are many of them farm labourers? A. Some of them. There are others.

Q. Have you these Windsor and Sarnia cases every month? A. Yes, you will find the same thing going on constantly.

Q. You are in the habit of assisting them to Sarnia and Windsor during the whole year? A. There are very few in proportion who go to these places.

Q. Perhaps you could tell us how many you assisted to Sarnia during 1877? A. During the whole year of 1877 we sent to Sarnia 17½ passengers.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. How many to Windsor? A. 33.

Q. How many to Clifton? A. 31.

Q. How many to Northumberland? A. 27.

Q. More than you sent to Sarnia? A. Yes.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. Did you send these from Hamilton station? A. Yes.

Q. Mrs. Henderson is the contractor for meals, and you paid her during 1877 $530.-20. Is that contract in writing? A. No, sir, I contracted with her at 20 cents a meal.

Q. You give her an order? A. Yes. (The witness produced several orders for July, 1877.)

Q. On July 1st you ordered how many meals? A. Nine, and six lodgings.

Q. Are the people you grant meals to the same people that you assist on the railway? A. Some are and some are not.

Q. A fellow would not want a meal if he was able to pay his passage? A. No; but a person, for instance, comes to Hamilton and finds work there. I keep him a couple of days before he gets located. He would not want a railway passage, but he would want his meals.

Q. How many remained in Hamilton in 1877? A. 2,196.

Q. You located them in Hamilton? A. No, sir, I did not locate them, but they stopped at Hamilton, and a portion of them would remain probably in the city for a few days or a week, and then go to Toronto, London, Guelph, or somewhere else. Hamilton is an objective point to which immigrants come from the States.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. And immigrants that try the States for a time come over and think they will try Canada? A. Yes.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. How many are charged for meals on July 1st, 1877? A. Six breakfasts, three dinners and three suppers.

Q. How much do they charge for lodgings? A. 20 cents.

Q. Who made that arrangement? I did. When I went to Hamilton, a person named Burt was supplying the meals. I found that it was not a desirable place, and I made an arrangement with this other place which was much more preferable and I reported the same to the Department.

Q. What did you report? A. That I had made an arrangement with Mrs. Henderson in consequence of irregularities that had taken place at Burt's.

Q. When did you begin your duties? A. In 1874.

Q. Who preceded you? A. Mr. Ray.

Q. What became of him? A. He died. He was superannuated before he died.

Q. Why did you change these meal contracts? A. I did it because the man Burt, who was an Orangeman, was always blazing into Roman Catholics. When Catholics went into his place, he abused them and turned them out.

Q. Then Mrs. Henderson sends her accounts to the Department? A. To the Department through me. I have to certify these accounts.

Q. Who gets the checks?

Mr. Harris, of the Treasury Department, stated that the Department sent the checks direct to the parties themselves.

Q. How many tickets can you issue—what instructions have you on that point? A. My instructions are not to incur any more expense than possible, and to get quit of the immigrants as soon as possible; also that they ought to be out in two days; but we cannot always comply with that. When a man is there with his family it is not always possible to get them located in two days.

BY THE CHAIRMAN.

Q. Have you written or printed instructions? A. No, sir; I have got my authority, and that is all. The instructions come from day to day through the Department.

BY MR. WILLS.

Q. I find in the Public Accounts for 1877, an account of $530.20 for meals, charged to Mrs. Henderson. Is that the Henderson? A. Yes, that is the one that supplies meals and lodgings.

Q. I also find in the same account $803.90, charged to J. Smith for meals. Is that you? A. It cannot be me.

Hon. Mr. Hardy suggested that it might be the caterer at London.

Q. Don't you pay Mrs. Henderson? A. No; the payment is made direct to her by cheque from the Government.

Q. I also see a charge to J. Smith in 1876. Who supplied the meals in 1876? A. Mrs. Henderson.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. You give the immigrant a check for a meal? A. No, that is not our system. Our system is to superintend everything ourselves. We see the meals given, and when they are given, Mrs. Henderson gets two coupons, one of which she sends in with her account, at the end of the month, and retains the other.

Q. Do you mean to say you always personally attend and see that the meals are given? A. Either I or my assistant.

Q. Are you ever both away from Hamilton? A. I think not. There is no authority for these people to do anything but by the order of my assistant or myself.

Q. The accounts come to you, you certify them, and the Department pays them on that evidence? A. Yes.

Q. Is there no other evidence? A. The coupons must correspond with the accounts, or the Department would have no check.

Q. On her delivery of the coupons and your certifying the accounts, the Government pays the accounts? A. Yes.

Q. I do not wish to charge or to insinuate anything, but just to enquire about the system. On that system, there is nothing easier than for you and Mrs. Henderson to make the accounts? A. Any system of trust would be open to the same objection.

Q. No account is verified by affidavit? A. I never swore to an account.

BY THE CHAIRMAN.

Q. You state now on oath, however, that all these accounts are correct? A. Yes, they are correct.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. (Showing the witness an account dated March, 1878). Is that your writing? A. No, I think it is Mr. Young's writing. He was a person boarding there at the time.

Q. What does he do? A. He is a clerk.

Q. Where was he a clerk? A. He was in Hamilton at that time. He has gone West somewhere.

Q. Where was he employed? A. He was with James Turner at one time. I do not know that he was employed at that time. He was sometimes doing something, and sometimes nothing.

Q. Was he helping you in the Immigration Office in March, 1878? A. Yes, I think he was. He used to come in there, and if I was busy, he would give me a hand.

Q. He made out the account and you certified it? A. Yes.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. He made out the account for Mrs. Henderson? A. Yes.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. And what did he make it out from? A. I suppose from such data as Mrs. Henderson furnished.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. But the check book in your office would still remain? A. Yes.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. A member of the Committee stated the other day that you gave tickets for the immigrants. You state that you do not? A. We give an order good for six, or eight, or ten meals, as the case may be. When I went there, there was not the check that I wanted in verifying the accounts, and I, having been on the railway, adopted a check we had there that must come into the office with an account before it is verified and sent to the Department.

BY MR. HARDY.

Q. Just explain your system? A. This counterfoil which we keep is attached to two coupons. Mrs. Henderson keeps both, and when she returns her account at the end of the month, she retains one herself, and the other is attached to the account when it comes into the Department.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Then the immigrant in no case can trade off his checks for anything else? A.

No, and I may state that that was one of the reasons why we adopted this system—some of these tickets went for whiskey.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. Mrs. Henderson would give whiskey for these? A. No, sir.

Q. Well, Burt would? A. Yes, and that is one of the reasons why I discharged him.

Q. The immigrant does not get the ticket at all—it is between Mrs. Henderson and yourself? A. Yes; we stay there and see that they get their meals.

Q. Where is Mrs. Henderson's? A. Just opposite the gate, and our office is next door.

Mr. Deacon asked Mr. Spence, of the Immigration Department, if these vouchers accompanied the accounts. Mr. Spence replied, "These tickets always come into the Department with the accounts."

BY MR. WILLS.

Q. Do you get a receipt from Mrs. Henderson for the moneys paid? A. I get two—one I file in the office, and the other goes to the Department. I always take care to get receipts for everything.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. As I understand, the money is not sent to you, but the checks are? A. Yes.

Q. You deliver them and get the receipts? A. Yes.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. Whom do you employ as a doctor there? A. Dr. Wolverton.

Q. I see the name of Dr. Richardson in the Public Accounts, for $300.

Mr. Harris said that was for Toronto.

Q. Dr. Wolverton's account is small—only $21. Your medical account for 1876 was not large. A. If the sickness is permanent we send the patient to the hospital.

Q. Do you send many to the hospital? A. Not many. I do not suppose that during the five years I have been there, we sent any more than a score.

Q. Did you attempt to make any arrangements with the railways to carry immigrants at less than the ordinary fares? A. The Great Western carries them at one-third of the regular fare. It is a departmental matter.

Q. Have arrangements been made with the other railways? A. I understand that arrangements have been made.

Mr. Lauder—I see that Mrs. Henderson was paid $1,334 for meals in 1877.

Mr. Ross—The accounts for 1876 are included in that.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. How did it come that the meals for 1876 and 1877 were all paid in 1877? A. I cannot answer that.

Q. Do you know if Mrs. Henderson delayed sending in her account? A. I cannot speak from memory.

Q. How came that $803 check to be charged to Mr. Smith?

Hon. Mr. Hardy said that was not for meals alone; it included railway fares, &c.

Q. Why were these checks sent to you? A. The Department, on the accounts being sent in, sends them to me in bulk, and I get the receipts and send them back to the Department.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. All these accounts are charged to you as "John Smith, Immigration Agent?" A. Yes, they all come through me. Dividing the number of immigrants by the amount paid for meals and lodgings, it averages seven meals and lodgings to each assisted immigrant for 1877, amounting to a fraction over $739.20.

Mr. Ross stated that the $803.90 included accounts for railway fares. If $521, paid to Mrs. Henderson, and $115.50 paid to Dr. Wolverton for medical attendance were deducted, $167 would be left in the account of December, 1876.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. With reference to your name—is it the practice of all these people to refer their accounts to you as Immigration Agent, and you send them down to the Department? A. Yes.

Q. Then what is the practice of the Department in making these payments—checks are issued and sent to whom? A. When the accounts are sent in to the Department, the first intimation I get is from Mr. Harris, the Deputy Treasurer, and the accounts are all sent back to me in one parcel, with the warrants or checks for the money.

Q. These checks are payable to whose order? A. To the order of the party who has rendered the account.

Q. Not your order? A. Not at all.

Q. You cannot pay the money? A. No sir.

Q. Then you go and hand the parties their accounts? A. Yes, I take the necessary vouchers, and the receipts, which are in form, keeping one for my own protection and returning the other to the Department.

Q. So that you handle no money at all? A. I handle the actual expenses incurred by myself.

Q. But you handle none of the money going to these people? A. No; the only money I handled was about $10 in five years.

Q. You say Dr. Wolverton is the regular medical attendant? A. Yes.

Q. In 1875, I see his account amounted to $115.50. That does not appear to have been paid till 1877. Can you tell how that was? A. Doctors are slow in sending in their accounts sometimes.

Mr. Hardy asked Mr. Spence—Can you tell me how it is that Dr. Wolverton's account is charged along with the account for meals? Mr. Spence—The appropriation includes meals and medical attendance.

Q. (To Mr. Smith). As I now understand, this item of $803.90, charged to "J. Smith," includes Mrs. Henderson's account of $521, to June, 1876, $167.40 from June to December, 1876, and also $115.50 to Dr. Wolverton, for services in 1876? A. Yes.

Q. In sending these immigrants to the frontier towns, as Clifton, Sarnia and Windsor, do you take such precautions—the best precautions that may be taken—to ascertain that they are people who intend to settle in the neighbourhood to which you send them? A. Yes.

Q. By enquiries from themselves and their friends? A. Yes; and as I have already explained to the Committee, it will occur that a person wants to go to one of those frontier places, and in order to protect the Government, I must have satisfactory and conclusive evidence before I will do a single thing, that they are bonâ fide.

Q. Most of them, I understand, have friends at those particular places? A. Yes; and, as I have explained, I ask them if they have documentary evidence, and they show me letters from their friends.

Q. Probably in many cases their friends send them money to bring them out? A. Yes; but they probably get just enough to bring them to New York. They get into Castle Garden, and there become paupers on the city. They do nothing there, and they make for the Canadian frontier, and as soon as they get here we have to deal with them.

Q. I see that in 1877 there is a charge of $21 for medical attendance, and in 1875 the account is $115. Is there any special reason for this difference? A. Yes, you will remember that in 1875 there was a very late opening, and the Gulf of St. Lawrence was so blocked that the steam-ships lay in the ice—some of them for weeks. The immigrants coming from them suffered from severe colds, and we had more sickness and medical attendance then than we have had since.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. These colds would not extend from December to June, July and August? A. We had them in the spring, and one or two died from them.

By MR. GIBSON.

Q. That account would be for the whole year? A. For the whole year.

By HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. What are the railway fares—the Great Western charges only a cent per mile—what is the ordinary rate of travel? A. Over three cents.

Q. But by special arrangements the Department has with the Great Western, they carry these immigrants for one cent per mile? A. Yes.

Q. A similar bargain is made with the other railways, though perhaps not so favourable in some cases? A. Yes. There are commutation fares with all the railways. I consider that the Great Western is as well paid by a cent a mile as some of the smaller roads are by a larger sum, because they do not get so many, and some of them do not run second-class coaches. But the Great Western have second-class cars, and they put the immigrants in these.

Q. This system of aiding immigrants with meals and forwarding them to places where they can get employment, has been in force how long? A. For 25 years.

Q. Not constantly? A. Yes. At the time I was connected with the Great Western Railway in 1854, the system was in existence.

Q. It is not a new system since Confederation? A. No.

By MR. DEACON.

Q. Was Dr. Wolverton the Medical attendant when you were appointed in 1874? A. No.

Q. Who was at that time? A. I think it was between Dr. White and Dr. O'Reilly, and we did not like the arrangement because one was an hospital man and the other a professional man. When the immigrants were sent to the hospital I wanted them sent direct.

Q. It was you, then, that employed Dr. Wolverton? A. Yes.

Q. When did you? A. We once had a case and Dr. Wolverton was the first man I got, and afterwards, as a certificate was required to admit a man into the hospital, I continued Dr. Wolverton.

Q. Were you requested by any one from Toronto by letter or otherwise, to employ any person? A. No.

Q. You had no experience of the old system of employing a Doctor to attend immigrants? A. I did not know there had been any. I found out afterwards that others had been attending them. In fact Dr. O'Reilly came to me and said I was taking money out of their pockets.

Q. But you had no experience with other doctors before employing Dr. Wolverton? A. No.

By HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. Was there anything paid to Dr. Wolverton before this $115? A. No, nothing before that.

Q. So that during the whole time he must have been paid $136 all told.

By MR. FERRIS.

Q. At page 23 of the Immigration Report for 1877 statement C shows the location of all the immigrants that passed through the Hamilton Agency? A. Yes.

JOHN SMITH,
Immigration Agent.

Q. Statement E. shows the amount of capital brought into Canada by immigrants or settlers? A. Yes.

The statement is as follows:—

E.—STATEMENT showing the amount of Capital brought into Canada by immigrants and Settlers, at the Hamilton Immigration Agency, for the years 1876 and 1877.

MONTH.	1876.	1877.	Increase.	Decrease.
January	$11,935 00	$17,335 00
February	27,015 00	25,095 00
March	20,740 00	29,534 00
April	35,710 00	43,900 00
May	51,995 00	73,465 00
June	33,500 00	28,790 00
July	33,370 00	42,990 00

November	21,730 00	37,365 00
December	16,216 00	27,395 00
Total	$342,629 00	$437,341 00	$94,712 00

JOHN SMITH,
Immigration Agent.

Q. How do you arrive at that? A. From enquiries that we make and opinions that we gather. This does not represent the whole amount brought, but what we find out is brought.

Q. So that you are satisfied that at least that amount has come? A. I am satisfied there is that amount, but there are others that of course we have no means of ascertaining.

Q. So that the amount of capital brought in by the immigrants located would be in the neighbourhood of half-a-million of dollars? A. Yes.

By Mr. GIBSON.

Q. You would not assist these? A. No sir. Many of these people come into the office and ask me where they can buy a farm, or where is the best place to invest their money.

By Mr. FERRIS.

Q. Statement G. shows the expenses of your agency for all purposes for that year? A. Yes.

The statement is as follows:—

G.—STATEMENT shewing the expenditure at the Hamilton Immigration Agency for the following service for the year ending December 31st, 1877.

Expenditure.	Amount.	Total.
Medical Attendance	$21 00
Provisions and Lodgings	739 20
Railway Fares for Indigent Immigrants	1,183 73
Moving Baggage and Immigrants	20 40

JOHN SMITH,
Immigration Agent.

Q. I don't see that you have any incidental expenses connected with that office. How did you manage that? A. There were very few. I am the Dominion Government agent, and the contingencies of the office, such as fuel, stationery, etc., are paid by the Dominion Government.

Q. And what portion of the salary? A. The whole of it by the Dominion Government.

Q. So that all the Hamilton office costs us, either in salaries, contingencies, or otherwise, is contained in this $1,964? A. Yes.

Q. The whole number of passengers that came to your office in 1877 was how many? A. 7,242.

Q. That remained in Ontario? A. Yes; 4,494 passed through Hamilton to the States.

Q. When your attention is drawn to their wants, is your first question whether they are going to remain in Ontario or not? A. Yes.

Q. If they are not going to remain in Ontario do you render them assistance in any way? A. Not in any way.

Q. Out of the whole number of 7,242 that remained in Ontario, you assisted how many? A. 939.

Q. Did you submit the arrangements you made as to the meals, to the Department for their approval? A. I wrote to the Department what I had done.

By Mr. Ross.

Q. In table B the number of passes issued at the Hamilton Agency is stated to be 1,058, and in statement D the number is said to be 1,311½. How do you account for the discrepancy? A. Suppose for instance that I am sending a person from Hamilton to Allandale on the Northern. I have to give a pass for the Western and one for the Northern, although there is only one pass through. Statement D. shows the number of people that have gone to the various places; but they would not all have passes, because children under eight years of age do not pay anything, but are counted as immigrants.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE.
TORONTO, February 7th.

Mr. T. C. Scoble was called and examined with reference to the following item (p. 118, Public Accounts, 1877): “T. C. Scoble, travelling expenses, $600.”

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. You were employed on some special commission in 1877. What was the nature of it? A. I was engaged in investigations respecting the Northern and Western boundaries of Ontario, in London and Paris.

Q. What was the arrangement made with you? A. In October, 1877.

Q. What was the nature of it? A. I was instructed to go to London and Paris as the special agent of the Ontario Government, in order to search the Archives of Paris and the public Records of London, with the view of finding any information I could respecting the boundaries of New France.

Q. What arrangement was made with you, or was there any, as to your remuneration? A. The arrangement made was that I was to get $5 a day as salary, and $5 a day for travelling expenses.

Q. You received in advance $600 on account of expenses? A. Yes.

Q. Then you proceeded—? A. I proceeded to London, and after getting letters from the Foreign Secretary to Lord Lyons in Paris, and receiving from him credentials to the different ministers, I proceeded to search the Archives in Paris.

Q. Did you get information that was of value? A. I think so; I got a great deal that was never brought to light before.

Q. Did you make a report? A. I did.

Q. To whom? A. The Attorney-General.

Q. In writing? A. In writing.

Q. When did you return? A. In April, 1878.

Q. What sums have you received on account of your services? A. I have not a statement with me, not having received notice that I was to be examined before the Committee. I received the bare amounts that were specified, together with my disbursements, in purchasing a number of old maps &c.

Q. Copies, I suppose? A. I made a number of maps, and copied 30 or 40 maps that contained information with respect to the boundary. I also purchased a lot of old maps, and other documents.

Q. You were away about six months? A. About six months.

Q. Where did you search in London? A. The Public Records Office, the Foreign Office, and the British Museum.

Q. And what information did you get? A. I got a good deal at the Public Records Office—not much at the Foreign Office.

Q. About what did your disbursements amount to? A. I really could not tell you; as I say, these disbursements were for maps, &c., and I furnished a statement of the expenditure to Mr. Mowat.

Q. Were you visiting in England or intending to visit? A. No, this was a special mission.

Q. What special knowledge had you of the subject? A. Well, I had read up the matter—not with a view of any such mission, but as an interesting matter to me personally.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. In order to secure copies of these maps, it was necessary to have some person who had facility in engineering drawings? A. Yes.

Q. You were summoned, I understand, rather hastily? A. Yes, I had only two or three days' notice.

Q. Information was received by Mr. Mowat in reference to this information that could be obtained, and you were despatched. One of your qualifications was that you were acquainted with engineering drawing, and that you had the knowledge necessary to make maps? A. Yes, and another was that I spoke French with facility.

Q. Then you also, I believe, had means to inform yourself of the points of information required before going? A. Yes.

Q. You received ample instructions on that point from Mr. Mowat? A. Yes.

Q. Did you find any information in the Archives in London? A. Yes, I found a great deal of information.

Q. Made copies of maps there? A. Yes.

Q. These copies were furnished to Mr. Mowat for his brief in the argument on the Boundary question? A. Yes.

Q. The same in reference to France? A. The same in reference to France.

Q. You had to exercise, to a very considerable extent, your own judgment and discretion as to what would be of service? A. Yes.

Q. That is the reason it was impossible to obtain this information by writing for it? A. Certainly. I examined hundreds of documents, I suppose, and I had to exercise my discretion as to those which I should use.

Q. I suppose that you did not find the $5 a day for expenses too much? A. No, I was rather a loser, I think. Five dollars a day is less than the amount usually allowed to commercial travellers. I thought it was liberal when I started, but I found by the time I got through that it hardly met my expenses.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Do you know upon whose recommendation you were appointed? A. I think it was the recommendation of my previous services.

Q. From them the Attorney-General would not know that you had any special knowledge of this subject? A. I have been in the service of the Government for several years, and I suppose I shewed such discretion.

Q. Do you know who brought your name to the attention of the Government? A. I don't think anybody; the first intimation I had was that Mr. Mowat sent for me and asked me if I spoke French. I said yes, and then he asked me if I would be prepared to go to Europe almost at an hour's notice.

Q. You were formerly in the service of this Province? A. Certainly.

Q. When did you cease to be employed? A. I never ceased to be employed.

Q. You were formerly second in the Department of the Inspector of Asylums and Prisons? A. Yes.

Q. When did you cease to hold that position? A. In January, 1877, I think.

Q. Were you employed after that? A. Yes, in making investigation into the affairs of the Educational Depository. I made a report upon that.

Q. Have you been continuously in the employ of the Province. A. Not continuously.

Q. You are now? A. Yes.

Q. Were you since you finished the Depository investigation? A. I finished my report on the Educational Depository in June, and since then I have been fulfilling the office of Assistant-Secretary in Mr. Eckart's place.

Q. You also investigated into the manufacture of beet root sugar? A. Yes.

Q. Since your return from London and Paris have you been engaged continuously in the Departments? A. No, I was engaged in getting up papers in reference to the Boundary question a short time after my return.

Q. Have you had any special mission since? A. No, no special mission.

Q. What is your employment now? A. I am engaged in the Treasury Department.

Q. In what occupation? A. I am making a number of statements and investigating into figures.

Q. With a view to the General Election? A. I could not say.

Q. How long have you been employed there? A. Since November.

Q. And what is your remuneration? A. I have not received any.

Q. What is the arrangement? A. There is not any specific arrangement.

Q. What do you expect? A. I think I shall get what Mr. Wood considers is right.

Q. You haven't discussed it with him? A. No, I have not discussed it.

Q. Were any of those statements prepared in his office which he made use of in the House the other day? A. I could not tell you. I have too much to do here to see what is going on in the House.

“E.”

Mr. J. W. Langmuir was called and examined in reference to the following item, (p. 42, Public Accounts, 1877): “J. W. Langmuir, travelling expenses, $800.” He produced papers relating to the same.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. I see the amount in the detailed account is in excess of that in the Public Accounts. How was it that the whole account was not paid—$820.40? A. In 1876 there was a balance due, and the balance was brought forward to the next year. I make drafts on the Treasury as required, and the balance is carried forward to the next account.

Q. Is it customary to leave these balances from one year to another? A. There was a larger balance that year for this reason. In the previous account for 1876, the Treasury had charged my travelling expenses connected with a special investigation at Belleville, and also my expenses in going to Philadelphia, which left the appropriation considerably overdrawn.

Q. Do the Public Accounts correctly represent the expenditure for the different years in your Department? A. They correctly represent it.

Q. The whole expenditure? A. You are speaking of the official year?—the 30th September is the end of my official year.

Q. Do these accounts carry down the expenditure only to the 30th September? A. Not at all—to the end of the year.

Q. Can you say if there were in 1877 any outstanding accounts which were not paid? A. Which were paid in 1878? I am not aware. I think in the Penetanguishene Reformatory account there was a small balance.

Q. Nothing of any moment? A. Nothing of any moment—it would not exceed $2,000, all told.

Q. With regard to 1878? A. I say that, with the exception of the account of the Penetanguishene Reformatory, which was overdrawn because there was not a sufficient amount to the credit of the appropriation, (for which a special appropriation will be required to be asked this year) and also an overdraft on account of the Belleville institution, altogether amounting to about $3,500, every item connected with the Public Institutions Department is paid off. I issue instructions to the Bursars that every account must be in by the 17th of December, and the accounts which have come in indicate that my instructions have been complied with.

Q. Hasn't it been usual for you in your annual report to estimate what is required for the ensuing fiscal year? A. It was at one time. I discontinued that for this reason. I now advertise for tenders in December, and I find that it is far better to base the estimates upon the tenders. I commenced that system two years ago, and I find that the estimates approximate more closely to the annual expenditure than they did before. I have the tenders before me of what the things are actually going to cost.

Q. And your report being brought down to the 30th September, you could not include them? A. I could not include them. Moreover, there are also expenditures to the end of the year which are unforeseen and are included in those estimates.

Q. Have the estimates for the present year been furnished in accordance with your views? A. Yes.

Q. Some explanation was given by the Treasurer of the reduction in the estimates for fuel? A. I heard the Treasurer say that a considerable quantity of coal was left over.

Q. Is that true? A. Yes, particularly true at London.

Q. Have you a return made of that? A. No, the principal difference is in the Toronto Asylum in connection with the water supply there. We have abandoned the pumping engine which was formerly used to pump the water from the lake, and are getting our water from the city. This will make a difference of about $2,000 in the cost of fuel.

Q. Is the coal cheaper? A. That is one of the things I cannot tell. As a matter of fact, it was cheaper in 1878 than we ever received it before.

Q. With regard to the supplies it has been said that there was a considerable reduction in 1878 in the cost of maintaining the Public Institutions? A. Yes, considerable.

Q. Can you say what percentage? A. I can show you the main items in the contracts in which reductions took place. (The witness produced the contract book). This contains all the contracts for 1877, 1878, and 1879. The coal contract in 1877 at the London Asylum was awarded to Mr. Conger at $5.10 for hard and $4.30 for soft, and in 1878 it was awarded to Mr. Hunt at $3.94 for soft and $4.90 for hard. I may state that at the time the contracts were opened for London, they were only estimates of what they would consume, on account of new boilers being placed. Now we know exactly what they consume. In Toronto we have abandoned wood stoves, because we find coal ranges very much cheaper. This enables us to reduce the estimates for fuel.

Q. Why didn't you do that before? A. Because coal was formerly very high.

BY THE CHAIRMAN.

Q. An increase in the price of coal, then, might compel you to fall back on wood again? A. It might.

BY MR. WILLIAMS.

Q. You have not let your contracts for coal for 1879? A. We have not; I do not do that till midsummer.

Q. How much do you use in the Toronto Asylum? A. About a thousand tons. We shall use now about 1,300 tons altogether, both hard and soft.

[The witness here put in the following statement:—

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. The Public Accounts do not disclose who the persons are who have received these contracts? A. It has not been customary to do so either in Old Canada or since Confederation. It would increase the Public Accounts, as a book, some 40 or 50 pages.

BY MR. BALLANTYNE.

Q. The information is available? A. Yes, all can be got.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Are the tenders for supplies all sent to you? A. All sent direct to me.

Q. Is it the invariable practice to accept the lowest tenders? A. The invariable practice is to accept the lowest tenders.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. In all cases the lowest tender is accepted? A. In every case the lowest tender is accepted—without exception. There have been a few cases in which a person receded from his tender, and then the contract is given to the next lowest, without further tender.

BY HON. MR. WOOD.

Q. Has the political complexion of a party had anything to do with his obtaining a contract? A. I know nothing of the political complexion of tenderers.

Q. Has it ever been brought up? A. Never, by any Government that I have served.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Do you decide them yourself? A. I sit at a table, and, with the assistance of two clerks, enter all in a book and select the lowest tenderers, I then bring them to my chief, and say, "So-and-so has the lowest tender," and he at once instructs me to accept the lowest tenders.

Q. Has there ever been a case in which your action has been reversed by your chief? A. Not a single instance that I remember, except, of course, in the case where a man recedes from his tender or where two tenders are equal, and then the reason of acceptance is always stated in the book.

BY MR. WILLIAMS.

Q. How is it that you always give the meat contract to Conservatives in Hamilton? A. I don't know whether they are Conservatives or not.

The Chairman—Is that a fact, Mr. Williams?

Mr. Williams—Yes, they are all Conservatives.

BY HON. MR. WOOD.

Q. What was the reason the meat contract for the Toronto Asylum was changed in 1877? A. Mr. Lyons got the contract that year, but he receded from it. It was found to be a bogus contract, and he could give no securities. The question then was between Mallon and Thompson & Flanigan. For a portion of the previous year Thompson & Flanigan had delivered meat. The actual contractor had failed and they (Thompson & Flanigan) took his place, but they most unsatisfactorily performed the work. There was only one cent per hundred difference between their tender and Mallon's, and the contract was given to Mallon.

Q. Was there any other reason why Thompson & Flanigan did not get the contract, outside of their having proved unsatisfactory the year before? A. No other reason.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Who directs from whom the supplies not advertised for are purchased? A. My chief for the time being—the Treasurer now.

Q. It is not done on your responsibility then? A. As to prices—yes. I am responsible for prices.

Q. In what way? A. The requisitions come in quarterly from the different institutions. When they are brought in they are looked over by me, and sometimes—not frequently—if it is a large order, I take it to the Treasurer, particularly in regard to Toronto accounts, and ask him to whom he wishes to give the account. He sometimes says, “If you can do as well with So-and-so, do it.” We have very often gone to places to which he has directed, and if we can do as well, we purchase there, but if we cannot do as well as elsewhere, we do not purchase.

Q. Who makes the purchases in Brantford, London, Kingston and Hamilton? In Brantford, the purchases are made exclusively by the Bursar. His requisitions come in quarterly, and I instruct him to purchase in the open market at the lowest possible rates.

Q. In Hamilton? A. Exclusively by the Bursar.

Q. In London? A. Exclusively by the Bursar.

Q. Do you know that in London accounts have been taken away from persons who were giving satisfaction, simply because they were not in political sympathy with the Government of the day? I am not aware that was the reason they were taken away.

Q. Accounts have been taken away from persons who were not in sympathy with the Government and have been given to those who were in sympathy? A. The account for beer was taken from Mr. Carling and given to Mr. Labatt.

BY HON. MR. WOOD.

Q. Was Mr. Labatt in sympathy with the Government? A. I do not know.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Was there any correspondence in reference to that change, now that you have mentioned it? A. Yes, there was some correspondence.

Q. Official? A. I think there were a few letters.

Q. Do you know anything of a deputation having come to Toronto in reference to it? A. I am not aware of any.

Q. Do you know of any other case? A. I do not recollect any other case at the present moment. We used to deal considerably with Messrs. Adams, wholesale grocers, who gave satisfaction in their accounts. But Mr. Adams, I was informed by Mr. Matheson, did not care to give quotations for certain articles. The reason for this, Mr. Matheson stated, was that Messrs. Adams preferred to keep their own wholesale accounts; that is, they would give the quotations in some instances lower to other wholesale dealers, than to the Government.

Q. In regard to dry goods, can you undertake to say that quotations were asked from the largest leading wholesale houses in London? My instructions to the Bursar were to get quotations from the various wholesale houses in London.

Q. Have they been asked? A. They have not always been asked from Mr. Birrell's.

Q. Is that a respectable house? A. A most respectable house.

Q. Why were they not asked from him? A. I suppose other houses gave the goods as cheap.

Q. Why didn't they ask for quotations? A. I know that many quotations have been asked from Mr. Birrell's, but whether they were generally asked, I do not know. At one time the offers in London were decidedly high—higher than they are here. I do not know the reason, but they were so high that I thought it right for a time to buy some goods in Toronto. Ever since that, we have got the lowest quotations from the London dealers. We now deal quite as satisfactorily in regard to prices as in any place in the Province. In Mr. Birrell's case, however, the purchases are not large.

Q. Do not you think it advisable that you should, on your visits to London, check the operations of your Bursar? A. I always do.

Q. Did you call on Mr. Birrell? A. No, I did not.

Q. Do not you think that would be advisable, if the desire be to deal with the man who will supply the goods the best and cheapest? A. In the case of London I do this—I instruct the Bursar to go to the dry-goods and grocery houses and obtain samples and quotations. It would occupy too much of my time, I fear, to stay there for two or three days and visit all the stores myself.

Q. Suppose you went into Mr. Birrell's place and asked for quotations? A. That would be the better way, no doubt, if I had time. At first I did that, but after Mr. Matheson and the other Bursar gained experience, I left it to them.

Q. Without check, there is a tendency to looseness? A. We have a thorough check. I venture to say that the purchases in London and in all the other asylums are as low as any merchant in good standing can get them for. I think the Government of Ontario has bought its goods as low as any merchant in good standing and paying cash could get them for. And it has always been so, without reference to the Government of the day.

Q. You make large purchases from Mr. Morrison here? A. No, not large.

Q. What has been the purchase of teas at one time? A. I do not think we have purchased more than $400 worth at a time; the largest tea purchases were from Torrance & Co., and we got more tea from Geo. Michie & Co. than from Morrison.

Q. Is it not better to deal with large wholesale houses than small jobbing places? A. Yes, Morrison is a large dealer.

Q. What is Jaffray? A. Jaffray I have never dealt with. I believe he is a wholesale and retail dealer; but I have never dealt with him.

Q. You have not found it desirable to deal with him? A. I have not done so.

Q. Have you ever been asked by your chief to do so? A. I have not been asked by my chief to do so. In every case I have gone to the wholesale houses.

Q. You never happened to strike Jaffray's establishment. A. I never purchased there.

Q. How do you account for the difference in the cost per patient in the London Asylum and the Toronto Asylum? A. There are various reasons for that. The meat is a little higher in London; coal is higher; even flour is higher. Take this year, for instance. In London Asylum the flour contract is $4.85 to Prichard. In the Toronto Asylum the flour contract was let at $4.75 and the meat at $4.75. In London the meat contract was $5.36 as against $4.75 at Toronto. The coal contract, of course, is not let yet. Butter, pork, and things of that kind are rather lower in London.

Q. That would make a small difference, would it not? A. I should say about $3,000.

Q. That would be between $3 and $4 a patient? A. Yes, about that.

Q. Mr. Wood put the difference on the clothing? A. The reason there is a difference in the clothing is that we have in Toronto 250 paying patients, whose friends provide their clothing, while in London Asylum we have only about 40 paying patients who are provided with clothing in that way.

Q. What difference would that make per patient?

The witness put in the following statement:—

Q. I see that you still use beer, wine and spirits in the asylums? A. The instructions now are to use it only medicinally—not as a beverage.

Q. I see that your report and the Public Accounts do not exactly agree? A. You are aware that mine is made up to the 30th September.

Q. In your report there is a considerable item for beer, wine and spirits, and in the Public Accounts there is no such item at all? A. I think it is the same every year; but I thought it was better to separate it in my report in this way from medicines and medical comforts.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. It is put separate in the estimates? A. Yes, and I always refer to it separately in my report. As a matter of fact it is very largely reduced this year.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. How much is the difference between London and Toronto per patient this year? A. London will be about the same this year. In some things we are more favourably placed in London than in Toronto.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Some figures were given by the Treasurer with regard to the expenditures in the asylums of other countries. I believe you furnished those? A. Yes.

Q. Could you furnish the details? A. I can.

Q. Do they include the same class of items as our asylums? The same class of items. In some instances they do not include all the wages, and you have to take that into account.

Q. Have you enquired as to where the difference is? A. The salaries are, I think, the chief cause—they are higher in the States than in Ontario.

Q. Are these all State institutions? A. All State institutions—none of them private at all.

BY HON. MR. WOOD.

Q. Is not the diet a cause of difference too? A. Yes. The peculiar feature of the diet of the asylums in the States is that they give more luxuries to the patients than we do.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Do these statements include the paying patients? A. All exclude revenue received from them. The statements made by the Treasurer referred to asylums corresponding exactly with our own in regard to the character of the patients. Some asylums go much higher than those rates. For instance, the Philadelphia Asylum costs, I think, something like $300 per patient.

Q. Is the cost of maintaining patients in this Province decreasing? A. It is decreasing a little. This year it will decrease, because the contracts were taken lower this year than ever before.

Q. Was there any exceptional revenue in 1878 from the Central Prison? A. Only the sale of manufactured goods.

Q. Didn't you sell out your stock of manufactured goods and material? A. We sold out our stock of pails and hollow woodenware to Mr. Eddy. He was going to take it all when the fire occurred.

Q. The revenue from the Central Prison is given as $30,000. It was only $1,000 the year before? A. The year before no appropriation was taken for raw material.

Q. Does not that item represent the price of the stock on hand? A. It does not—all sales. The buildings and machinery are also placed differently. What appears as revenue from the Central Prison is confined to sales of manufactured goods.

Q. Have you got any of this hollow ware on hand? A. We have. When it is manufactured, it is taken off our hands by Mr. Eddy.

By HON. MR. WOOD.

Q. We have sold tub machines and pail machines. Do the proceeds from that appear? A. No.

By MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Have you made any estimate in regard to the probable cost of the maintenance of the Reformatory for women? A. I gave a statement to the Attorney-General at the time I recommended its establishment.

Q. What would you put it at? A. I think, for the full prison I put it somewhere in the neighbourhood of $22,000.

Q. I suppose you would not want that amount immediately? A. Not at all.

Q. It is not expected to be opened this year? A. No.

Q. What do you think would be the cost at the commencement? A. About $15,000.

Q. Wouldn't it have been possible to have that Reformatory managed by combining it with the Central Prison? A. I don't think so—the occupations for women are so totally different from those for men.

Q. That is done in the Penitentiary at Kingston? A. I don't suppose there are more than three per cent. of women there. It would have been a very great mistake, I think, to have put the female reformatory in the Central Prison. Moreover, there is no room in the Central Prison for it.

By HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. You have no precedent on the continent for any such combination? A. Not in prisons of that kind—in reformatories they are quite separate. Those acquainted with the subject have contended that it is extremely improper to put men and women under the same organization. One of the strongest reasons I placed before the Government for the establishment of this Reformatory was that we should have female superintendents and other officials. It is desirable that everyone about the female reformatory should be a female except the book-keeper.

By MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Do you think that will work? A. I think it will.

Q. The chief executive head to be a woman? A. Yes.

Q. Occupying the same position as a warden? A. Occupying the same position as a warden.

By HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. That is the way the Massachusetts institution is conducted? A. Yes,

By MR. MEREDITH.

Q. What class of women do you expect to get in that Reformatory? A. The same kind of offences as warrant the commitment of men to the Central Prison.

Q. As a rule the women in the gaols are vagrants and that class of people? A. There are a good many criminals, although the large proportion are for municipal offences. It is the criminal class that it is chiefly necessary to remove from the gaols.

Q. Has not the establishment of this Central Prison had the effect of putting on the Province the burden of maintaining a number of criminals who would have gone to Kingston? A. A very small proportion. I think that is shown by the fact that the terms of about 25 per cent. of the prisoners who have passed through the prison are under eight months. The Courts have the power to send them for two years.

Q. In your statement you mention a number whose terms go up to five years? A. These were removed from the Penetanguishene Reformatory on account of being incorrigible.

By HON. MR. WOOD.

Q. By what process have they been removed? A. Under the Governor-General's Warrant, giving power to remove them on their becoming incorrigible.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. A good many sentenced to the Penitentiary are sent to the Central Prison, are they not? A. I fancy ten per cent. would perhaps be the outside number.

Q. Do you find as many habitual criminals in the Central Prison as in the Penitentiary? A. Of the vagrant and disorderly character, but not of those sentenced for the higher offences. During two years there have been only 58 prisoners sentenced for two years. It is fair to assume that a portion of these might have gone to the Penitentiary.

Q. With the experience you have had of the working of this Central Prison, are you still of opinion that that institution was established in the interest of the Province? A. I am, most assuredly. I can come to no other conclusion, having regard to the fact that during the years before it was established almost absolute idleness prevailed in the common gaols. That was the great evil to be overcome. If men were kept in that sort of associated idleness, which is the very worst kind of idleness, it was reasonable to suppose that the gaols would be neither more nor less than manufactories of criminals. Whether the Central Prison pays or not is another question. But as far as discipline is concerned, it has been a great success, and I am inclined to think that in a short time it will become self-sustaining.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. Many persons have been under the impression that this Reformatory was designed as a home for fallen women? A. It is not.

Q. As I understand, it is a female prison? A. Yes, corresponding with the Central Prison.

Q. With a reformatory for girls attached, the same as that at Penetanguishene? A. Yes, but in a different part of the same building. There will be room for fifty girls under 14 years of age, and 150 women.

Mr. Ross asked for explanations regarding the following item, (p. 63, Public Accounts, 1877); Thomas Short, to pay carriage of prisoners, different Counties, $4,302.35.

The Witness.—He spent that last year in removing prisoners from the gaols of the Province to the Central Prison. He is a bailiff attached to the Prison, and he draws a certain amount every month—say from $200 to $300 at a time—and at the end of every month, he renders an account with vouchers of the expenditures for the month. This furnishes a check to the Bursar, who sends them to my office, where they are checked again.

Q. This is a different custom from that pursued in former years in regard to the Penitentiary? A. Yes, the Sheriff's formerly transferred the prisoners.

Q. Have you any table showing the cost per prisoner of the carriage of prisoners to the Central Prison? A. Yes, I give it every year. Under the old system it cost from $35 to $50 per prisoner.

BY MR. BALLANTYNE.

Q. There is a very great saving effected? A. Of course.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. What is the average now? A. Between $4 and $5 per prisoner.

Q. Don't you think that course could be pursued with advantage with regard to lunatics? A. I think it would be better.

Q. The average cost of lunatics, I suppose, would be as high as the cost of prisoners under the former system? A. I suppose it would. If the lunatic is a female, another female has to be sent with her, which increases the cost.

Q. Still you are of opinion that the new system, with proper precaution, might be profitably extended in that respect? A. I think it might be extended with profit both to the Asylums and the Provincial Reformatory at Penetanguishene. It would not be quite so favourable for lunatics, for this reason, the Bailiff we have now brings from ten to fifteen prisoners at a time, picking them up at different points, but it would be impossible to bring down that many lunatics. Still as a matter of fact, it would effect a very great reduction to transfer lunatics by a special officer.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Are many lunatics sent to the gaols now? A. Last year there were 221 transferred from the common gaols to the asylums.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. At the present time there are no lunatics allowed to remain in gaols after application? A. We are entirely out of room at the Idiot Asylum. We shall have room enough for everybody when the Hamilton Asylum is finished.

Q. Will the increased accommodation at Hamilton be utilized for idiots? A. It is a pity to put idiot patients in the insane asylums. The treatment of an insane person is very much more expensive than that of an idiot, for there is no hope of curing an idiot. At the present moment we are entirely full at Orillia, and there are a considerable number of Idiots in gaols. It might be advisable to take a ward at Hamilton for them until more room is obtained.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. What is the idiot ward at London used for? A. It is the refractory ward.

On motion of Mr. Meredith it was ordered that details in regard to item, Refunds, $678.50, be brought down before the Committee.

On motion the Committee adjourned until to-morrow at 11 o'clock.

CHARLES CLARKE,
Chairman.

“G.”

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE.

FEBRUARY 13th, 1879.

Mr. G. B. Cowper was called with reference to the item, “G. B. Cowper, extra services, $200.00,” on page 45 of the Public Accounts for 1877.

By MR. ROSS.

Q. This is the report that you made to the Hon. Commissioner of Crown Lands? A. That is the application.

Q. This is for extra services for conducting the sale of timber limits in 1877? A. Yes.

Q. You speak here of a consideration allowed you for a previous sale? A. Yes.

Q. Is the $200 allowed for both sales? A. No. I was allowed the same for a sale in 1872.

Q. This other sale was in 1872? A. Yes.

Q. Please explain the work in connection with the sale? A. It would be very difficult to explain it. There is the getting up of the sale and the dividing into limits to the better advantage of the revenue. It occupies perhaps two months or upwards, during which I have no assistants that can take up anything when I am so occupied. Anything that may have to be done, has to remain while I am so occupied.

By HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. You have to work at night? A. I have to work at nights a good deal.

Q. You also acted as auctioneer? A. Yes, I could do it better than any stranger. The work connected with the sales made me sick; it impaired my health.

By Mr. Ross.

Q. What time do you estimate that the preparation of the work for this sale would take? A. It would take every minute between the time the idea was conceived and the time of its being carried out. Every moment is fully occupied in the two or three months.

Q. What are your ordinary duties in the Department? In the Woods and Forests, all accounts and everything else are passed through my hands for the whole revenue.

Q. When you are at this particular work, no one can do your work? A. No, I am sorry to say I have no one. It would be a great relief if I had an assistant to take it.

Q. Where did these sales take place? A. At the buildings here.

By Mr. MEREDITH.

Q. Was it not an injudicious thing to tax your energies so as to unfit you to discharge your ordinary duties? A. I assure you it was, I felt it to be so.

Q. When was the sale? A. In June, 1877.

By Mr. MERRICK.

You are in connection with the Woods and Forests branch? A. Yes.

Q. What are your office hours? From half-past nine until four o'clock.

Q. This work that you performed in connection with these sales, you performed it after your office hours? A. No, it was during the office hours entirely.

Q. You had to have access to the Department to get the information to prepare the sale? A. Yes, I did it within office hours, and took it home many a time.

Q. What part of the work did you take home? A. The reports of the exploration of the lands. I have got to take reports as to quantities of timber in certain townships, and see what quantities are in certain parts of townships, in order to make the sale profitable. In the townships that settlement had rushed into, we had to see to the timber there.

Q. I suppose a large share of the work was done in your office in consequence of all the documents and papers being there? A. Yes, a large share was done in the office.

Q. You discharged the duties of an auctioneer? A. I sold this property. I suppose it would have cost $600 or $700 if an auctioneer had charged within the ordinary percentage.

Q. What time did the sale take place? A. During the day.

Q. What hour of the day? A. I do not know.

Q. The sale took place in your regular office hours? A. Yes.

Q. What salary do you receive? A. Two thousand dollars.

Q. At the time you prepared these papers and documents for this sale you were in the employ of the Government, drawing your regular pay? A. Yes.

Q. At the time you conducted the sale you were drawing your pay as well? A. Yes.

Q. Why did you ask extra pay? A. On the score of harder work occasioned, and from the thorough application to the matter. There were many things to be considered; information was to be carefully studied over, and my special work, which is the management, was left undone; in fact with the exception of the merest routine I have to do the whole.

Q. In 1873 there was another sale? A. No, in 1872.

Q. You made the preparations for that sale and acted as auctioneer? A. Yes.

Q. You were paid at that time, how much? A. Two hundred dollars.

Q. Who was Crown Lands Commissioner at that time? A. Mr. Scott.

Q. There was a sale in Muskoka in 1877? A. I believe not.

Q. Were you in the Crown Lands Department in 1871? A. I have been in it for twenty-one years.

Q. Did you prepare the papers for the sale in 1871? A. Yes.

Q. Were you paid anything for your services at that time, or was any recompense made you for your extra labour? A. No, nothing was asked.

Q. Was the labour in connection with the sale that took place in 1871 greater than that in connection with the other? A. There were no inspections made of the lands, or anything to do but to make out the list of the lots.

Q. Was there an advertisement of the sale? A. Yes.

Q. Any plans? A. No plans.

Q. Any specifications? A. No.

Q. In the sale which took place in 1877 was there any special information required other than in 1871? A. No.

Q. What information then was required? A. There were the records of the Departments furnished as to the lots being located or otherwise, and inspections of the territory, and certain information with regard to them being timbered, and you have to study these out and draw up berths with a view of making them the most profitable to the Government.

Q. You do that on every occasion when there is a sale? A. There were only three sales.

Q. On each of these occasions, 1871, '2 and '7, you performed the duty? A. Yes.

Q. How much was realized by the sale in 1871? A. About one hundred and eighteen thousand dollars.

Q. What was the extent of the limits sold? A. Some four hundred square miles.

Q. What was the extent of the sale in 1877? A. It was something about the same I think.

Q. There was not so much realized from the sale? A. No. The territory was not so well timbered, or it might have been more largely settled upon, or the timber destroyed.

Q. There were regular specifications prepared for both the sale of 1871 and that of 1877? A. Yes.

Q. In 1871 you performed the duties of making these preparations, in compiling all the necessary information, for which you received no extra compensation from the Government. A. Yes.

Q. In 1877 you performed similar duties? A. Yes.

Q. You received in 1877, for extra work, $200? A. Yes.

Q. In 1872 what did you receive? A. The same amount.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. What is your salary? A. Two thousand dollars.

Q. You have been how many years in the service? A. Close on twenty-two. This is only the third year that I have had that salary.

BY MR. WILLS.

Q. How many days did the sales take? A. From one to two days. One of them took two.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. What did I understand you to say would be the cost of an auctioneer? A. One quarter per cent. of the amount would be six or seven hundred dollars.

Q. Do they charge in that way? A. I think they charge a percentage.

BY MR. GIBSON.

Q. I think you said the work was not done in the same way in 1871 as in 1872 and 1877? A. I did not require any labour at all, only mere mechanical work of compiling lists.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. There were no reports of the inspection? A. No. If the work were done in a perfunctory and slovenly way it would be a great loss to the Government.

By Mr. MEREDITH.

Q. I hope the officers of the Government do not do their duties in that way? A. I hope not. I know I do not. If I did I would have the ceiling down about my ears; there are too many interests involved in the work I do.

By Mr. GIBSON.

Q. What was the reason you had to do more work in 1872 and 1877 than in 1871. Was it with a view of increasing the amount to be derived from the sales? A. No. It was just simply because the matter was more easy. There was a number of lots unlocated in a certain number of townships, and all you had to do was to take these lots and compile them; just to take the lots as they were, leaving out the located ones.

Q. If this labour had not been taken in 1872 and 1877, there would not have been so much money derived? A. The 1872 sale was a different sale altogether. It was unsurveyed territory; it was not lots at all, it was townships.

By Mr. MERRICK.

Q. You needed very little information about it, except the exploration? A. There was a great deal of labour attending it, notwithstanding. You had to study the matter out; a great many settlers had gone in and you had to study and consider where timber was in the townships, and not to be oppressive to the settlers in putting under license the land on which the timber was of use to them for building purposes and so on. You had to study to keep it from clashing with the settlers, and at the same time to be profitable to the revenue.

By Mr. GIBSON.

Q. But where was the extra work. If there was a sale, there would be a certain amount of labour? A. It is not exactly the labour; it is the labour that would have to be set aside and taken up again at unusual times, and with greater application than one could naturally give to it without injuring his health. I say that seriously.

By Mr. ROSS.

Q. You have three other clerks in the Woods and Forest branch. They are under you? A. Yes.

Q. Are none of them capable of taking up your work while you are attending to these sales? A. No.

Q. The $1,200 a year one, cannot he take charge of your work? A. No. It is routine work that he is doing, checking off the returns from all over the Province.

By Hon. Mr. HARDY.

Q. This work requires the knowledge and judgment of an expert? A. It requires judgment and long experience.

By Mr. ROSS.

Q. Could not the clerks in the office take up the routine work while you are away? A. No. During the twenty-two years I have been in the service, I have only been absent for a few weeks, with the exception of when I was in England, and the work that accumulated when I was away waited until I came back.

By Mr. MEREDITH.

Q. What would happen the Province in the event of your resigning your place? A. There never was a man yet that could not have his place supplied.

By Mr. WILLS.

Q. What you mean is that your clerks do the work of inferior officers? A. They are sufficiently qualified to do the mechanical work of making lists and doing routine work, but the other work of the Woods and Forests is very intricate and very onerous. All the interests, all the complaints and all the objections that can possibly be made throughout the Province require adjustment, and reports to be drawn up.

Q. Your services are rather as an arbitrator than anything else? A. Pretty much. I report on the case to the Secretary, of course it is for him to decide. It requires a great deal of labour.

Q. Did you say that the clerks in your office had not sufficient work to do? A. I did not mean that. I meant that the assistants I have have their time fully employed; in fact, they have many a time to work at night, until ten and eleven o'clock.

BY MR. GIBSON.

Q. You also led us to believe that in 1877 you had to do some of the work at night; you took it home? A. I took part of it home and worked at it there.

BY MR. MERRICK.

Q. Merely some reports in connection with the sale? A. I took home materials to compile.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. You know nothing of these refunds? A. There are a good many refunds connected with my Department.

Q. This belongs to the Mining Department; you can give us no information about that? A. No.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE,
February 14th, 1879.

Mr. Joseph Dickie was examined upon oath as to the item “Joseph Dickie, Travelling Expenses $400,” on page 45, of the Public Accounts, for 1877.

BY MR. HARCOURT.

Q. When were you appointed, Mr. Dickie? A. I was appointed in 1872, in September, I think.

Q. At what salary? A. Fourteen hundred dollars.

Q. Have you a statement of the number of courts you inspected in 1873? A. I can furnish such a statement if desired.

Q. Do you remember now how many visits you paid? A. I do not.

Q. Can you tell me in any one year how many visits you made? A. I reported last year. I have not got the report with me.

Q. How long does it take you to go the rounds of the Province? A. I do not keep on working straight around or straight ahead. I have to drop off and take special cases where complaints are made. I could not say how long it would take me. I presume working straight ahead taking interruptions into consideration, I could go over the Province once in two years. If there were no interruptions I could go over quicker than that.

Q. Last year—1878—were there many complaints against overtaxing? A. There were various complaints of overholding moneys and so on, some two or three hundred.

Q. What percentage was there of overtaxing costs? A. Quite a number of them. A great many were for clerks holding moneys or rather failing to make returns of transcripts sent from foreign offices.

Q. Do you find that there was any difference as to the practice pursued by clerks in taxing? A. Yes, there have been very wide differences; there are not so many now.

Q. They are getting more uniform now? A. They are; there is some difficulty in the way of reaching them; some of the Judges rule one way and some another on the same language.

Q. Have you had complaints as to bailiffs as well? A. Yes, my inspections have always extended to the duties of bailiffs. When I speak of complaints I mean clerks and bailiffs.

Q. Can you tell how many you visited last year? A. I think it was about eighty or ninety last year.

Q. Have you printed instructions from the chief here? A. No.

Q. What are your instructions? A. My instructions were received originally from Mr. Attorney-General Crooks, and they were to embrace the stamping of papers, seeing that the proper stamps were used, and the duties of the clerk and the office generally as governed by the statute and rules of practice.

Q. Is there any one district you have not visited at all? A. Some of the newly organized districts I have not visited. I have visited every county, some of them a great many times.

Q. What powers have you as to the production of papers? A. I have received instructions to require papers to be produced and brought as I require them.

Q. Has any clerk or bailiff refused to produce papers? A. I have had them ask what the result would be if they did refuse, and I was unable to answer.

Q. Have you ever inspected the court at Marshville in the County of Welland? A. Yes.

Q. When was that? A. I have been there two or three times; I was there in the Fall of 1877, I think.

Q. Have you a reference in your report to that court? A. It is not mentioned by name; I never name any special office or officer in my report: they are named of course to the Government.

Q. How often have you inspected in the town of Welland? A. Once. Welland is a county town. I was appointed inspector of county towns in the last month, I think, in 1877, or very late in the year—I have inspected it since then.

Q. Once having given instructions to a clerk as to his tariff, have you ever found him to stretch his tariff? Have you noticed the same clerk on the second visit make the same mistake? A. I have. I have noticed them allowing their bailiffs to pursue the course that I had objected to in reference to their charges; I have again called their attention to it, and in some instances have had it remedied.

Q. Have you averaged one hundred and fifty inspections a year since appointed? A. No.

Q. Over a hundred? A. I do not think I have averaged over a hundred.

Q. Is the $400 a lump sum, or do you give items? A. I give items for all my costs; my bills are all sworn to.

Q. In your travelling expenses do you give items? A. Yes, they are all put in to the audit of the Department and passed annually.

Q. Have there been any removals owing to investigations by you? A. Yes, I think so.

Q. Can you remember a case? A. There was a bailiff at Millbrook, whom I have reason to believe was removed by reason of an investigation I conducted.

Q. Do you remember any others? A. There was a clerk at Petrolia, also another in the County of Wellington.

BY MR. CLARKE (Wellington.)

Q. There was one in the village of Fergus, in the County of Wellington, was there not? A. That is the one I have reference to. It would have been more in the interest of the public if there had been more I believe.

By HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. Was there one in Bruce last year? A. I think there was no removal in Bruce, but there was a case where a bailiff has satisfied the judge, I think, that he will conduct his business in the future in a better way.

Q. He has put in a deputy, in that sense? A. In that sense.

Q. A bailiff in the county of York here? A. There was one in York. There have been a great many places where they were not removed, but where they were called to account in such a way that they have conducted themselves very differently.

By MR. HARCOURT.

Q. Was there a marked improvement in 1877 since the year you undertook it? A. Yes.

Q. You saw that marked improvement? A. Yes.

Q. To your knowledge that has been in the interests of the suitors? A. Very much.

Q. As well as the other parties—the parties sued? A. Yes.

By MR. DEACON.

Q. Are you a lawyer, Mr. Dickie? A. I am not.

Q. I see by your report you undertake to interpret the tariff to the clerks as you understood it? A. Yes.

Q. And to revise their taxations of costs? A. Yes, in some instances.

Q. Do you know whether the Judges of the Courts have coincided with your interpretations? A. I know some of them have not.

Q. You don't throw any blame on the clerks in many instances for not having taxed according to your idea of the tariff? A. If the Judge rules differently.

Q. It is done then on a different interpretation of the law, they having thought you interpreted one way and the Judge another way? A. Yes, some Judges do.

Q. Then the clerks would not be to blame for having interpreted differently from the way you interpreted it? A. The clerk would please himself in regard to it.

Q. He might honestly interpret it differently? A. Yes, any man might honestly interpret a matter differently from another, of course.

Q. So that if you found variations in the clerks' modes of taxing from your method, it might be honest on their part? A. Certainly, I have always represented that in my reports.

Q. I think your report shows rascality on the part of the clerks rather than a desire to interpret the law fairly. I remember looking into the report, and I could not have agreed with your conclusions in all cases; I think you were right in some. A. As to the matter of rascality, I think if you read the report carefully, you will see that I do not blame them in a criminal sense.

Q. The use of stamps in the Division Courts was abolished in 1873, I think? A. In 1874.

Q. As late as that? A. I think so. They have not been used since July, 1874.

Q. Then the principal part of the reason for your appointment was done away with after that? A. I would not be prepared to say that.

Q. I understand that you found great irregularities in the way of stamps. Stamps either not put on to the proper amount, or not cancelled and other irregularities in connection with stamping? A. I did, but I found other irregularities at the same time. I considered my instructions covered the whole routine.

Q. You said your instructions were to look after the cancelling of stamps, and see that the proper stamps were put on? A. Yes.

Q. That was a matter of importance to the Government, was it not? A. It was.

Q. The use of stamps was abolished after the first of July, 1874? A. Yes.

Q. So that you had no further to look after stamps? A. Certainly not.

Q. You had not then to look after anything which brought a revenue to the Government? A. Not except uncollected balances that were still owing.

Q. With reference to uncollected balances, since you have been Inspector, do you know of any moneys that have been sent into the Government as uncollected balances?
A. For stamps?

Q. No, not for stamps. A. I had reference to the unpaid balances due for stamps.

Q. The use of stamps has been abolished? A. Yes.

Q. There would be nothing of the uncollected moneys in the hands of the clerks? A. Yes, for fines and forfeitures.

Q. What amount of unclaimed moneys, fines and forfeitures have been paid in to the Government since you have been inspector? A. I could not tell.

Q. Do you know of any? A. Yes, some small sums. There have been some from the County of Grey that I remember. They were small amounts.

Q. What would they aggregate? A. A very small sum.

Q. Could you name it now? A. I do not suppose they would cover one hundred dollars.

Q. The unclaimed moneys, fines and forfeitures would not exceed $100? A. In connection with that I might say I do not think the forfeitures have been properly paid in to the Crown at all.

Q. Do you mean those imposed by the Judge? A. I mean forfeitures for failing to do duty by the bailiff.

Q. Where he forfeits his fees and so on? A. Yes.

Q. There may be the forfeiting which does not amount to anything, if he has not got them to forfeit? A. He is never required to forfeit what he has not got.

Q. If a bailiff has not returned his execution within a certain time he forfeits his fees does he not? A. Yes.

Q. Suppose he does not make that return at all? A. Then he has no fees.

Q. A man can forfeit his right to the fees without really having the fees to forfeit?
A. No, because he never forfeits what he has not got.

Q. You say that you think the forfeitures have never been really accounted for? A. Yes, I say there are a great many instances in which they have not been properly treated by the clerks, and I looked after them.

Q. The result of your looking after them for the time you have been inspector has been that about $100 of fines, forfeitures and unclaimed moneys have come into the Government's hands? Probably that amount.

Q. You do not pursue any regular system of inspecting the offices throughout the whole Province? A. My system of inspection, so far as it goes, is systematic and regular but the times of doing it are not.

Q. Do you begin at one end, or the middle, or any part of the Province, and take the Province regularly? A. I do it by counties, as nearly as I can make the travel to work in by railways, so as not to incur extra expense.

Q. You live in Toronto? A. Yes.

Q. Do you remain there until complaints come in, and then only do you go and investigate them? A. No, certainly not.

Q. Do you work straight along all the time, inspecting the offices? A. Inspecting and examining complaints, and other matters in connection with my duties.

Q. What are the other matters? I have a large amount of correspondence and reporting to do.

Q. To whom? A. Reporting to the Crown—to the Provincial Secretary.

Q. What reports do you make to the Provincial Secretary? A. I report offices when I find what I believe to be wrong, and when they are of a serious character. I find a great many cases that I do not consider it necessary to call the attention of the Government to; others more or less of a recalcitrant character I call the attention of the Government to.

Q. When you find irregularities in an office whose attention do you call to the fact? A. The officer offending.

Q. When you examine the office of a Division Court Clerk, and find irregularities there, that he is taxing to himself, or withholding moneys, or something of that kind, to whom do you report that irregularity? A. To the Provincial Secretary.

Q. Only? A. Yes. I of course call the attention of the officer to it.

By Mr. Ross.

Q. Do you call the Judges' attention? A. No. I have no communication with the Judges at all.

By Mr. Deacon.

Q. Don't you know that the Judge, as the law stands, is the only person who has direct control over the clerk? A. Yes.

Q. Yet he may not be told at all? A. My instructions are to report to the Government, not to the Judges.

Q. These irregularities may, so far as the Judge is concerned, continue without his knowledge, notwithstanding your inspection, if the Government do not inform him? A. Certainly.

Q. You may then find any amount of irregularities and the Judge—the only man who can directly correct them,—so far as you are concerned, is not informed? A. Certainly not.

Q. You have no communication with him at all? A. No, unless I should happen to meet him.

Q. Do you ever make it a point to see the Judge, where you know he rules one way in taxing costs and you another; do you ever try to arrange an interview with him so as to come to an understanding about a uniform practice? A. Never, because I consider I would be overreaching my duties altogether and my instructions if I were.

By Hon. Mr. Hardy.

Q. You have been at some of the Judges? A. Yes. I never brought it about.

By Mr. Deacon.

Q. You sometimes find clerks when you come a second time taxing according to the way you disapprove of? A. Yes.

Q. Did you not issue a pamphlet or sort of instructions to the clerks how to tax? A. I have never issued anything but my annual reports.

Q. In your report, if I recollect right, you taxed a number of bills as it were; you did not give the number of the Division Court nor the name of the clerk? A. No.

Q. You gave a number of samples in the report of 1877? A. Yes.

Q. Those were sent to the clerks. Did you send them to the clerks of the Division Courts? A. Those reports? Q. Yes. A. I did, under instructions from the Provincial Secretary.

Q. You afterwards found that the clerks were continuing in the same system of taxing that you were condemning in them? A. Well, those were only taken from a large number of examples of that kind. I do not know that I ever went specially to those clerks to find whether the change was made after that report.

Q. Your intelligence must point out to you clearly, the embarrassing position the clerks are in, when the only man who can directly control them is the Judge? A. I take into consideration those matters.

Q. You are sending them instructions which they cannot follow. I will tell you an instance that occurred to my own knowledge. I was in a certain judge's chambers moving a rule, when the clerk of the Division Court came into the chambers with that very report, and pointed out what you directed, and his inability to comply with it, and asked the opinion of the judge, and the judge directed the clerk to tax otherwise. A. I suppose he would.

Q. What I wish to point out is, that the clerks have been placed in an embarrassing and awkward position by the custom, and an unfair position to them. A. Where a clerk has told me that he has had the matter brought before the judge, and he has ruled differently, I have never found fault with him, because I could not. I do not know of many judges that hold differently from those rulings. I learn, of course, the opinions of the judges through the clerks, and while I know there are some judges that differ very widely from me, I know there are a great many that agree with me, and so you see the difference is amongst the judges.

Q. But the clerks are the men that suffer in consequence. They cannot obey two masters that do not agree? A. The difficulty of obeying two masters has arisen in some cases from two or three counties having been thrown into one judicial district, and where one judge pursues one course, and one another.

Q. I knew of one clerk that really did not know what he would do, and he wrote to the judge for advice. The judge threatened him with dismissal if he followed your instructions, and he was threatened with the displeasure of the Government through the judge if he did not? A. The displeasure of the Government only comes through the judge as I understand.

Q. Do you examine the offices in the cities? A. Certainly.

Q. I thought somebody else examined them in cities and towns? A. No, I do now.

Q. When did you commence to examine in the cities and towns? A. In the fall of 1877, I think.

Q. I suppose the fees received by the clerks and bailiffs in the cities are large and remunerative? A. Yes, the number of suits is so much greater.

Q. Did you ever have occasion to examine whether the fees of bailiffs in the rural sections are remunerative or not? A. Yes.

Q. Do you think they are? A. It depends on the number of suits; some of them would not pay service for one quarter of a year, and some of them would not pay two months' wages in a year.

Q. How many bailiffs do you usually find in connection with a rural Division Court? A. Generally one.

Q. Never more? A. I do find more, but generally one.

Q. Have you ascertained what he makes generally in a year? A. I never have gone into the figures to see exactly what a bailiff makes. I could tell by examining the accounts; it would depend entirely upon the number of suits.

Q. I suppose you would see if the bailiff's fees were at all excessive? A. I do not know what you mean. Do you mean the fees in each suit?

Q. Yes. A. I think the present tariff is a fair remuneration to bailiffs as I interpret it.

Q. With reference to the clerks, what do they make on an average in each suit? A. It depends upon the district that it is in.

Q. How would that make any difference? A. The suits are brought for larger amounts in one part of the country than another, but as an average all over, I think they will run about two dollars a suit.

Q. I do not think there is a clerk in our county that can make a dollar and a half. A. I think you will find a difference. I have been examining in Renfrew; they are getting more than a dollar and a half now, I think they will average about two dollars.

Q. What is the average number of suits entered in a country Division Court? A. That report would show you, there. Some of them would have fifty suits in a year; some of them would have five or six hundred; some in cities will go three or four thousand; in the rural districts it is considered a good office that will go six or seven or eight hundred suits a year.

Q. That would be a good office? A. Yes.

Q. What would the average run of them be now? A. They are so very different that it is impossible almost to average them; but if you will throw out those where the business does not exceed thirty or forty suits, and come up to two hundred and five hundred, you would get a fair average of the districts.

Q. The places where they do that small amount of business are in remote districts? A. Yes, where there is little business done and some of them are hardly needed.

Q. Did you ever visit the Court of Brudenell in Renfrew? A. Yes, that is not a very thriving business place; the Judge must travel a long distance to reach it. Who is the clerk there?

Q. I think a man named Levi Land at present. A. I do not know him personally.

Q. Is it not of great advantage to the settlers in these remote districts that the Judge should come and try their thirty or forty suits a year, rather than that some of them should go thirty or forty miles? A. I have no reference to those in newly settled countries, but simply those which are really necessary, and when you come to a place like Hastings, with a court in Belleville and another three miles behind it, they are eating one another.

Q. I have been confining my examination to the rural parts of the country. A. A rural court in a newly settled part of the country is as important to the settlers as one having five hundred suits, and as necessary to sustain.

Q. Is there not a difficulty in getting clerks and bailiffs? A. No, I think not, there are so many men in the country capable and willing to do these things if they could get the appointments.

Q. And men willing to discharge the duties of a bailiff too? A. I think so.

Q. I do not think you know much about the difficulty of getting them; do you not find a change frequently when you go back, that the man who was bailiff when you were there before is not there, and some one else is bailiff? A. Not generally.

Q. Do you visit the same court once a year? A. I visit some of them three or four times a year.

Q. As far as I can learn I never saw a man that saw or knew you, down in our section of the country, as visiting a court. A. I visited all your courts.

Q. You do not know this Levi Land? A. I do not remember him.

Q. What time were you at Brudenell? A. I do not remember now.

Q. Were you ever at the court in Daker? A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember who the clerk there was? A. I do not remember, I think I searched round the taverns, and found him taking a snooze; he was drunk.

Q. What kind of a place is Daker? A. A very wild place; I thought then he was not likely to hold his place long.

Q. Where were your last inspections in regular order? A. In the West; I begin going East of Toronto, in fact I have begun visiting already, and I hope to go all through the Eastern part of the Province this year.

Q. When were you last in the Eastern part of the Province? A. I was in Renfrew last year.

BY MR. MERRICK.

Q. When were you in Merrickville? A. Once.

Q. How many years ago? A. In my inspections in 1873, during the old gentleman's time; what is his name?

Q. Mr. Kelly. He has a new clerk there now.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. You think, Mr. Dickie, that the maintenance of a public officer to discharge the duties that you are called on to discharge is of importance to the public interest? A. I do. I think it saves an immense amount of money to suitors in a year: I can show letters of thanks that I have received from parties, for the manner in which I have got their business put through, when they could not get anything done at all.

Q. You receive $1,400? A. Yes.

Q. And your travelling expenses? A. And my travelling expenses: I only receive them as disbursements; they include stationery and such like things.

BY MR. MERRICK.

Q. How many Division Courts do you inspect in a year? A. It just depends upon how much I am drawn away from the regular course.

Q. How many did you inspect in 1878? A. I think I inspected between seventy and eighty in 1878.

Q. You don't know I suppose? A. I do not know, speaking from memory.

Q. You do not in your report mention any statement as to the number of Division Courts you inspected? A. Yes, I think I do.

Q. I have been looking and cannot find any number. A. I might mention that since this matter of inspecting Division Courts has become better known, the correspondence has increased very much, and that increase involves a large amount of time and attention, and prevents me from making as many inspections as I would otherwise be able to do ; but the time devoted to correspondence and calling upon clerks to do their duty, and frequently getting them to do it, is not wasted ; I think it is as well spent as the time occupied in my inspections.

By HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. Here are some of your reports, they are very long, going over scores of pages, setting out the difficulties in some one court ? A. Setting out as exactly as I can in language each case.

Q. It takes a good while to get up these reports, setting out the difficulties and blunders ? A. Yes.

By MR. MERRICK.

Q. They do not appear in the report made out in 1878 ? A. No, these are never published.

By HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. They involve a good deal of work in making them up ? A. Yes.

By MR. CLARKE, (WELLINGTON.)

Q. Are there many such reports in a year ? A. Yes.

By MR. MERRICK.

Q. You inspected ninety of the Courts last year ? A. I think the year before was nearly double that. I can inspect a great many more if I am required and drop the correspondence and complaints.

Q. Is there much uniformity now ? A. There is a good deal. There was irregularity, but the practice is pretty well understood now. I at first found the great majority of the clerks without any knowledge of the duties required of them ; the clerks have invariably complained to me that they never had instructions ; of course the answer to that was that they should read and make inquiries, but they have not made inquiries ; I have invariably taken them over the practice and explained it fully, and they have professed to me to be very well pleased with that part of the inspection. With reference to some of the offices, I know they are in such a state that it would be a benefit to the people if they were blotted out, they go there because the statute compels them to go and do business there, otherwise they would not.

Q. You give your full time to this work ? A. Yes.

By HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. In addition to making your annual report do you report upon particular offices to the Secretary's Department ? A. I do.

Q. What is the character of such reports ? A. The general character of those reports, will be, the naming of parties who are in default or to blame, and describing the errors of which they have been guilty. I have always thought that it would never do, to put into the annual reports, the names of particular officers, and drag them before the people in that sense, so that in them, I make everything as general as possible.

Q. What is the character of the complaints mentioned in your reports ? A. They are very often complaints for not issuing, or for want of returns of moneys, or for failing to issue executions within the time required, or to do it at the instance of the party requiring it, or failing to do it at all.

Q. That is to say, parties remain unsatisfied, although they have got judgment ? A. Yes.

Q. Or if collected, the money is retained by the bailiff or clerk ? A. A very general complaint, has been found to arise, from the bailiff taking the writ of execution from the clerk, overruling the clerk and court altogether, and failing to execute it.

Q. Have you ever found that moneys were withheld, and not paid over at all? A. Yes, I have known such cases.

Q. Have you found complaints of such cases? A. I have found complaints.

Q. And they were well founded? A. I have found some complaints well founded, of bailiffs collecting part of the money and withholding it, large sums, perhaps; they might get a writ requiring them to collect $100, they would get perhaps $70 or $80 of the money, and in the meantime they retain possession of it for perhaps several months; they say they are not required to pay it in, when in point of fact, they are required to pay in any sum of money whatever, within six days after the issue of the writ.

Q. Some of these reports that you send in upon these particular courts and the conduct of particular officers will involve allusion to how many suits; some twenty or thirty perhaps? A. The general scope of them will cover a large number of suits, but the special ones cited, run from ten to twenty.

Q. You give the details and particulars of some fifteen or twenty cases in some one report? A. Yes.

Q. Referring generally to a number of others? A. Yes.

Q. These reports cover pages of foolscap, some of them cover ten or fifteen? A. I endeavour to make them as brief as possible.

Q. The example generally given in these reports, is one standing for a number of others? A. Yes.

Q. Now, do you find that the system pursued in reference to the general management of offices, is considerably improved during the past few years? A. It has very much improved.

Q. Where did you find imperfections in that sense in reference to the books of the department? A. I found, first of all, that all the necessary books were not in many offices in which to record the business.

Q. What are the necessary books? A. The proper procedure book of the right form and the cash book, which very few offices had when I commenced inspection, and a book in which to record garnishee cases, also a bailiff's process book, which very few bailiffs had at all.

Q. How did you find them kept where they had all the books? A. I found one man working one way and another man working as nearly opposite as he could; some of them failing to give one-half the proper entries.

Q. And those entries were designed by the Government as being a requisite for the security of the public? A. Yes.

Q. Just inasmuch as they failed to keep up these entries, just so much the public lacked the opportunity of ascertaining the real facts of the case? A. So far, the public suffered.

Q. I think you made an estimate, and I think Mr. Jackson did too, as to the amount of over-charges that were practised by the clerks in the year, or by the bailiffs, which was it? A. Both.

Q. What was your estimate, judging by the observation and experience that you have had? A. I have no hesitation in saying that I am satisfied the inspection has saved the public thirty or forty thousand dollars a year, in bringing down the over-charges that necessarily crept in, in the absence of inspection. In conversation with Mr. Durand, he told me the inspection saved one hundred thousand dollars a year.

Q. He is an old lawyer and your predecessor? A. Yes.

Q. Do you think your estimate was a fair estimate? A. Yes.

Q. You devote your entire time to the duties of the office? A. I do.

Q. When you are not engaged in looking after a special complaint or some special charge, you are then making your general investigations and inspections? A. Yes, and answering correspondence.

Q. Do you find many business men, important men, manufacturers and others who write you? A. Yes, and merchants.

Q. They are now beginning to write you when they do not get their money? A. I have a large number of letters from the legal profession also.

Q. Do you find, in reference to Mr. Deacon's question as to the Judges, Judges generally throwing obstacles in your way? A. I have not found them to do so; I have been very kindly received by many of the Judges, and they have expressed their sympathy with my action; there are others again that, if I can believe the statements made to me by the clerks,—and of course I have no other way of knowing,—rule very differently from what I do.

Q. You have met some of the Judges in your inspections? A. Yes, I know some of them personally.

Q. You have had correspondence as to points where you and they differ? A. Yes.

Q. Judge Hughes and some others? A. Yes. Judge Hughes at once struck ground with my idea, in reference to the duties of a bailiff, in regard to the return of executions. I hold, that if, he has not returned an execution within the proper time, it is the clerk's duty to return his fees as forfeited to the County Crown Attorney. I hold also, that, unless a bailiff makes his fees under an execution, he is not entitled to any charge; and when he returns it nulla bona he is not entitled to any.

Q. Mr. Deacon desired to put it that one of your prominent duties was to have the forfeited fees paid up, and that the Government should in that way get a revenue; that is only an incidental part of your duties? A. That is a very subordinate part. Mostly all the getting of the returns within the time that the public might benefit: there was no idea of the Government benefitting by it. I would rather have never received a cent.

BY MR. HARCOURT.

Q. How many hours a day do you average—more than the office hours in these departments? A. Yes. When I am travelling I do not attempt to keep hours. I find my own office room, heat and light, and when I am at home I am often working until I go to bed at night.

Q. You work longer hours than the officers in any of these departments? A. Yes, much longer.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. Do you find in your experience that the Judges, who have the authority over the clerks, exercise a deficient supervision over their work? A. That is a very difficult question for me to answer, but I think that it is not so much from the lack of attention, as perhaps a lack of idea that there is anything wrong. The Judge very naturally says, "I have appointed this man, I have faith in his candour and honesty," and it would not look very well, I think, for the Judge to be going round under any pretence of inspecting the offices, but if any complaint comes before them, it would be their duty to look into it.

Q. Then the irregularities that you have found—is it because the Judges themselves do not sufficiently exercise their supervision to see them themselves? A. I think if the Judges were to discover these cases they would look into them; it is a detail of office duty that very few of them having a liking or inclination for, and many of them do not think of attending to it at all.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. It is not a pleasant duty at best? A. No it is not.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE.
February 18th, 1879.

Hon. Sydney Smith was examined, upon oath, as to the item "Hon. Sydney Smith, twelve months' salary as Inspector, $2,000," on page 45 of the Public Accounts of 1877.

BY MR. GIBSON.

Q. When were you appointed, Mr. Smith? A. In 1866, before Confederation; in the fall, I think, of 1866. I performed some duties that year.

Q. Was your salary fixed then? A. Yes.

Q. At what? A. $2,000, including travelling expenses, at which it has always stood; it never has been any larger although the work has more than doubled.

Q. What are your duties? A. My duty is to visit the registry offices at regular intervals; to examine all the registrations from the previous visit, see that they are all properly registered, dated properly, numbered properly, and signed properly, to examine the entries in the books as well, and to see that they are all signed and in their proper order; to see that the documents are in their proper places; to see that the plans and maps are there, and if they are not, to compel parties to furnish them; and to supervise and superintend the whole service. I have placed myself from the first in the position of a Court of Reference by all the registrars in the Province, and by the public as well; I am ready at all times and at all hours to answer inquiries, to give advice or direction or instruction both to the registrars and the public. I examine year by year every entry.

Q. You pay a visit to every registry office throughout the country once a year? A. At least once a year, except the outlying places which have come in since my time. I do not go to Prince Arthur's Landing more than once in two or three years; I do not think it requires it, and as I pay my own expenses it would be rather too heavy a tax to go there every year for the amount of work; there are only two hundred or three hundred documents registered there every year, and if I go at an interval of three years I have then about a thousand to examine and correct.

Q. Do you find any irregularities? A. There are always irregularities. There is only one or two offices in the whole Province in which I do not find irregularities.

Q. Of what sort? A. Omissions to sign certificates, incorrect numbers, documents out of place, wrong dates, omissions to sign certificates in the registry books, sometimes a page or two skipped in the registry book—which would open, as you can see, a very great chance for frauds as were committed in Hastings a great many years ago;—when I find pages turned over, always I believe by accident, never by design, I write my name as Inspector in the page on the spot, to prevent the possibility of fraud occurring. I have found irregularities in every place in the Province at one time or another.

Q. Had Mr. Dickson any complaint about any irregularities that were found in the office after it was reunited? A. At the time of the reunion I had made my inspection before, and the papers were to have been brought from Blyth. I got word from Mr. Dickson that the County Council was to have the papers removed from Blyth. I went to Goderich and found that Mr. Dickson had gone to Blyth for the papers. He did not come until ten o'clock at night, when it was pouring rain. The papers were in an open waggon, and they proposed to put them in a driving-house. I said I could not permit that, and said we must put them into the registry office. You may understand that they were put in higgledy-piggledy, for they had to go in through the windows. In the morning I said "Now, do you propose to keep me here—do you wish me to remodel this whole office and replace these papers where they would have been if there had been only one office?" He said "No, it is utterly useless, because it will take a month or six weeks, and I will have to increase my staff any way, as the business is doubled." The deputy, who had been at work at Blyth was at his service. It was a very peculiar thing. I said to Mr. Dickson, "whenever you have got the thing into shape, telegraph me, and I will come back again." The next thing I heard from Mr. Dickson was a very long list of irregularities, a list of deeds and false entries in the abstract of indices, patents that had been issued to George Brown, John A. Macdonald, and things of that kind. Some rascal had evidently been at work to make trouble, and instead of telegraphing me to come and correct those things, he says "I forward you a list of the irregularities I have discovered, and lost deeds, and I have sent a copy to the Provincial Secretary." I went to the Secretary and the Treasurer. I wrote to Mr. Dickson, and I got word to go to Goderich, to put this matter right. I went to Goderich. I had Mr. Dickson's paper of all the irregularities that had been discovered. I might say in the meantime, that, the deputy at Blyth had disappeared—he found it inconvenient to be there when I was there. The first thing I did was to examine the books for the entries of George Brown and these other gentlemen, and I had not much difficulty in finding where that much had come from. I had no moral doubt who did it. I saw it was a piece of very foolish mischief, but which could not work any harm to anybody, but it was mischief, and a very serious offence against the law. Though the young gentleman had disappeared, I could point very closely to who had done it. I came to the Crown Lands Office, and found that the patents had not issued, and had a pen run through them.

Q. So that was corrected? A. I set to work systematically, and of the number of deeds that could not be found by Mr. Dickson, I found all but one. I then went to Walkerton and tried to find out if it had got there, but that deed never was found, and I apprehend never will be. I think when we consider the peculiar characteristics of the registrar for North Huron at Blyth, that it is a mercy it was not a great deal worse.

Q. You consider the whole thing regulated? A. I came here and Mr. Crooks said, "Don't you think it advisable to dispose of the matter at once?" I said I did not think it was absolutely necessary at the moment, my health was such that I could not; he said, "This is the last day of the Session, and we want to propose any remedial legislation." I said, "You do not require remedial legislation, I am the legislator, I have unlimited power to amend and correct whatever I may find amiss." I am in fact a court sitting to correct any errors in any registry office. I cannot alter a conveyance, I cannot change a deed, but I can put the registration right, and whenever I find it wrong, I invariably do so.

Q. You have that unlimited power? A. I have that unlimited power.

Q. When you have gone the round of the Province have you not got the registrars schooled? A. No, they are not schooled. You may say that but I will give you a single instance: the registrar at St. Thomas was perhaps as correct and methodical a man as ever lived, there was no one more so; brought up in a counting house in Glasgow or Edinburgh, he was regularity itself. I inspected his office, and within a year after the day of his funeral the copying was vastly in arrear; a new registrar had been appointed, and the copying from the time I had been there had been allowed to get into arrear. The new registrar, however, brought the work up at his own expense. This very year, in one of the largest offices in the Province, the abstract indices, as will be shown in my report, show thirteen or fourteen hundred deeds, not abstracted, and the registrar is one of the very best in the Province.

Q. That is in one office? A. In one office, that amount accumulating between my yearly visits.

Q. Did you report the state of that office to the Government? A. Of course, I report the truth as I find it.

Q. Do you see that the errors are corrected? A. Don't I?

Q. Before you leave? A. No, I could not stay there until twelve or thirteen hundred deeds are abstracted.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Do you make a special report on every office? A. I am requested to do so.

BY MR. GIBSON.

Q. In what office did this irregularity take place? A. Possibly it might be unpleasant to mention names.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. You can see by the reports? A. The report will show.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. These reports are not confidential? A. No; my duties, to a very large degree, are confidential, for I am dealing with private rights—the title of parties to their property, some of them of immense value,—and if I find registrations improperly done, it would be a very serious thing for me to mention them in my report.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Do you have much correspondence in connection with some of the offices? A.

Some offices, such as that one the report of which I hand you, entail a good deal of correspondence. This one has caused me a world of trouble ; I was about it to-day.

BY MR. GIBSON.

Q. Mr. Ferris made a speech in the House rather in your favour, and he says that in some offices in the country, you found the papers not properly kept, in a moulded state, and getting almost rotten? A. I could explain all that.

Q. You do not find that now? A. I do not permit it now. I have caused new registry offices to be built here and there, so that that cannot take place now.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. That is corrected in consequence of the inspection? A. Yes.

BY MR. GIBSON.

Q. The registry offices in the country you consider to be up to the mark? A. With a few exceptions. There is a new office to be built at Almonte, this summer ; they were furnished with the plans.

Q. Do you give the plans? A. I give the plans and supervise the whole thing.

Q. And they are built according to your plans? A. Sometimes they are and sometimes they are not.

Q. Had you ever any difficulty with county councils when you ask them to build new registry offices? A. I never have any difficulty with the councils in the slightest when I am able to meet the councillors themselves.

Q. Do you think it in the interests of the country that a county should be divided for registration purposes? A. That is a matter of policy with which I have nothing to do. My own opinion is that it would be just as well to leave them as they were. That is a matter upon which the Government never consult me in the slightest degree.

Q. There is a return being asked for, of the County of Welland, and from what was said in the House it seems there are some reflections thrown upon you : can you give us some account as to that? A. I will be happy to give you an account of the County of Welland. When I was first appointed there was a fire-proof registry office, not on the Government plan of course, but still perfectly fire-proof, at Fonthill.

Q. Is that the county town? A. No ; it is two or three miles from the county town. Some years ago the Government ordered the office to be removed from Fonthill into Welland, and just about that time—the day of the removal or immediately before—I got a letter from Mr. Pardee, who was then Secretary, calling my attention to it. It is said that I reported without having been to see it. I went from Cobourg at my own expense—because all this travelling is at my own expense—mine is the only case in the whole Dominion, from sea to sea. I have to travel at my own expense, and when I am told to go, I go whether I am willing or not. I went some time in the winter to Welland from Cobourg, and examined the office critically and thoroughly. I have built a great deal in my time, and dealt with bricks and mortar, and I examined it thoroughly and found a large crack right across the vault, where the papers were put up, down the wall and through into the next room. I found it arched instead of being built up solid from the floor and foundations ; I found it arched underneath, and it was used for the purposes connected with the jail to store things in, or to do anything that might be chosen to be done with it ; the office itself and the vault were one story from the ground. I think it the most unfit and unsafe place ; and I say it now, with all the responsibility of what I am saying to-day, that I do not think any more unfit place could be got in the Province of Ontario to put a Registry Office than where it is. It is in connection with the Court House there, and where I have found an office in a gaol I have condemned it ; I say they should be isolated, the office should not be in a public building at all. I condemned it at Kingston, and the whole thing was burned down a few years ago,—the things were saved in a miraculous way.

Q. Is it still the same in Kingston. A. No ; we have a first-class office in Kingston now.

Q. Does the Welland Registry Office still remain in the same state? A. Yes; in defiance of the representations I have made year after year; I must say it in my own justification. I think it my duty when I am serving under the Government not to disturb or interfere with the Government—I think it my duty to serve them as faithfully as I know how. I should think myself very blamable if I made any difficulty about it, but this matter has come into such a shape that I must speak out. I say I am in hourly dread of hearing that everything was destroyed; if that building was to burn there could be nothing saved. I feel very strongly about that office. It is said that I reported on the office without going there. I have not only been there, but have slept in it twice within two years. I never reported on any office in my life without going to see it; I think it just as much a duty as to say my prayers.

Q. How many days in the year will it take you, in your ordinary way, to go round the offices of the country? A. To go round the offices, as it was when I first started, about ninety days. I work during those ninety days from eighteen to twenty hours out of the twenty-four.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. How many offices are there? A. Fifty-one.

Q. You inspect these once a year? A. Yes, when there are any irregularities I go as many times as is necessary, although it is a tax upon me to do so.

BY MR. SCOTT.

Q. You work sometimes eighteen hours out of the twenty-four? A. Sometimes I work twenty-three out of the twenty-four. I have gone into Goderich at two o'clock in the morning, made my inspection and come away at six. So long as the registrars will help me I do not spare myself.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. You went at two and came away at six? A. Yes; there were five or six of us at work. I can keep men going.

BY MR. GIBSON.

Q. They hand you the documents, and you have just to examine them? A. I am destroying my eyesight with it, but I must do my duty while I hold the place.

Q. How much do you suppose your travelling expenses amount in a year? A. Between four and five hundred dollars on an average.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. One of the chief features of your duty is to see that the registrar is solvent, and that his sureties are still solvent? A. Yes. I am watching that all the time.

Q. Whenever you discover that either the registrar or his sureties are insolvent or dead, you at once require that new and safe securities be put in? A. I notify the registrar and the Government instantly. This very day I have been poking up a defaulter.

Q. Do you notice whether the registrar's fees, as marked on the instruments, are in accordance with the law, whether they are excessive or not? A. The tariff is always posted up. I see that it is done to notify and inform the public what they are obliged to pay. They are not obliged to pay any more.

Q. How many offices did you inspect last year altogether? A. Fifty-five, I think.

Q. How many instruments? A. Over 150,000.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. Did you say fifty-five inspections. I understood you to say there were fifty-one offices? A. Fifty-one was the number before these others were grafted on. Prince Arthur's Landing for instance was put on me; Durham was put on; Glenceo was put on; and so were Bracebridge and Haliburton. I have not been to Haliburton yet; it has been so that I could not get there.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Can you tell from memory anything like the number of errors that you discover in that number of instruments? A. Probably from two to ten thousand, sometimes more, sometimes less. I should think that I find that many in a year, and all from one occasion to another.

Q. These errors would affect the titles? A. Naturally enough, if discovered, and there would be litigation about them, they might be very important, and lead to serious effects. We had a case in Cobourg of that kind, in which the matter came up, and the man lost his land.

BY MR. SCOTT.

Q. What particular class of errors occurs more than another? A. Omission to sign certificates, want of putting the correct numbers on the back of the deed. I am obliged to see that they are in their proper places.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. Do you go over every instrument that has been registered during the year and compare them with the entries in the books? A. No. I could not read a quarter or a tenth part in a year.

BY MR. SCOTT.

Q. The errors are in the registration? A. Yes. I have nothing to do with the documents themselves.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. You could not change the documents? A. No. I have been asked sometimes by people that have met me at the time of the inspection, to change the signatures of a deed.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. What is the nature of your inspection in that respect; is each document compared with the entry in the indices, to see whether it is correct as to the quantity of land, the amount and so on? A. No, the deeds may be found themselves abstracted in the abstract of indices. In many registry offices they never are put in the abstract of indices with the amount of the mortgage, and I have great difficulty with them. The examination is in this way:—I have the deeds brought to me—I see that they are in their right place so that they can be found by a man in the dark; it ought to be so that if a registrar dies, any new man may know where to put his hand on them, I see that they are under their correct heading, and that they are brought to me out of the correct box. I have for instance fifty or a hundred deeds to look over; I see that each is numbered and signed properly, and where I have got them to use stamps, I have only to see that the figures are correct; I take the registry book then, and commence where we stopped before. I put down the number in my memorandum that I keep of how many are copied, and by-and-by when I take the receiving book that they are entered in, I can tell how far they are behind; they cannot have a deed in the office that I do not know whether it is registered or not. I take that then this way, and I go over it page by page, and if they have missed a couple of pages, I take my pen and write in them my name as Inspector, so that they can never go back and register anything there, I go right through the book to where I stopped the year before, although the work is blinding my eyes. I go on in that way, and see that every certificate is signed and that the numbers are correct, page by page.

BY MR. SCOTT.

Q. Do you examine the instruments at all as to the date? A. No, I have no right to touch the dates at all.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. They may register the instrument without a date at all? A. Yes, what I have to do is with the registration.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. Do you look up the abstract, and see that the entries are properly made? A. I do not go over them, because to do so I would require twenty or thirty assistants.

Q. How long does it take you to inspect an office? A. It takes about six hours on an average; with some I have to be very critical, and they take longer; it is very tedious with them: but where I know the man, and know him to be systematic and regular, of course I indulge myself a little. I have not to be so much on the qui vive as where there is ignorance and carelessness.

Q. You mentioned that you inspected some offices two or three times a year; what offices did you inspect more than once last year? A. I do not think any last year, I do not remember. I do not think any office was inspected twice last year.

BY MR. SCOTT.

Q. Do you keep track of the securities of all the Registrars? A. Yes.

Q. What is the nature of the security which they give? A. They give security to the state to cover any malfeasance or misfeasance or any mistake the Registrars may make.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. Can you tell any particular losses that have occurred to Registrars during the last year in consequence of mistakes? A. I know that the Registrar of Colborne paid a sum of money for a mistake, the nature of which I do not know; it was not very large, fortunately for him.

Q. Many Registrars complain of being obliged to return moneys to the counties, and the large expenditure which they have? A. They complain very bitterly. If it was a matter of public policy I should say that it was an entire mistake, that there could have been a much better way of settling the question; it is none of my business; it was not this Government that settled it.

Q. I wish to know from you if there are any large amount of losses that Registrars have to bear? A. The Registrar at St. Catharines was mulcted in a sum that he told me he would have to pay; he told me of it the last time I was there. These cases occur occasionally of course.

BY MR. SCOTT.

Q. From your experience, supposing the inspection of registry offices was wholly removed, what would be the result? A. The result would be that in twelve months there would be, as there was when I was first appointed, as many different systems of registration as there are different men; when I was appointed there were fifty-one Registrars. I think there were fifty-one registry offices, and there were fifty-one different kinds of registration, and the majority of the offices were places wholly unfit and unsafe to keep anything like important documents in them—not a bit safer than the room we are in now.

Q. What would be the effect of withdrawing the inspection so far as the securities are concerned? A. A surety might die, and the Registrar not report it to the Government; there would be no one here to know it. It gives me trouble enough to watch these things. I have to watch the death columns of the newspapers now.

Q. When did you first commence your inspections? A. In 1866.

Q. How did you find the position of the Registrars then with regard to the sureties? A. When Mr. Sandfield Macdonald came in there was no real system about it; he assumed the management of the sureties as well; he told me "You don't need to trouble yourself about the sureties, we will see to that at head-quarters." He was very active, always looking after everything almost; but the present Government have adopted a different system, they hold me responsible for the supervision of the sureties.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. When you discover a surety decamped or insolvent, you at once report that to the Government? A. I either report it to the Government or see that it is done. I have been working months chasing after one man, and was at it this morning again.

Q. You have reached the whole system, as Inspector, in the matter of registration? A. Yes, I have got the system all one now: they work just like a file of soldiers, all moving at the same time in the same way.

Q. And the books the same? A. The books are uniform; the orders I have are to have them all alike.

Q. As to the furniture of the offices where the documents are kept, how is that? A. I have not succeeded in all cases to get them as I wanted.

Q. In the great number of offices? A. Uniform.

Q. Iron locks? A. Iron locks, and tin boxes for the papers to preserve them, keep them from ruin.

BY MR. WILLS.

Q. Do you examine into the fees of the registrars at all? A. Only in cases by request: they have to report fully to the Government of their fees.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. What check is there upon the registrars? A. Their oath and their books. Of course if the Government told me to examine that I should do it. I may say to the gentlemen that I hold my position in this way: on Saturday last a gentleman came to my house and took me away from my breakfast; he wanted instruction about a registration matter affecting Prince Edward; he said "I am very sorry to come to your house at this hour, but I want to get away by the eight o'clock train:" when he got done he took out a five-dollar bill; I said "I cannot do that, I am the Inspector of Registry Offices, and have to do it:" when I got down to my office he was there again: it seems he had missed the eight o'clock train. He was on some business about the registration of deeds in connection with the new railroad from Picton to Trenton. My time is at the disposal of the public; when I can steal an hour for my briefs I do so. When I was in the busiest of the court, not long ago, I got a telegram to go and inspect the new buildings at Chatham. I threw my briefs aside, started off, and was in Chatham next morning, because my Inspectorship overrides everything. I break every engagement and go the instant I get orders.

BY MR. CLARKE, (Wellington.)

Q. Do you make an annual report? A. Yes.

Q. It has never been printed? A. There is no object in printing it; besides it might affect the rights of parties whose deeds were referred to in my annual report.

BY MR. GIBSON.

Q. I do not see that there is any use mentioning them specifically, but would it not be better to give the number of those mistakes that you find? A. I could do that. I could just as well put down some of the errors.

Q. And where they were? A. Yes, of course. You might put some one on the hunt, that is all.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Do you summarize these reports in one general report at the end of the year? A. No, they request me in the Department to send in a special report that they may keep it themselves.

BY MR. CLARKE, (Wellington.)

Q. That is the only report you send in? A. That is the only report. If I find any surety failed or anything like that happens, I send in a report.

Q. You send in no general annual report? A. No.

BY MR. SCOTT.

Q. You report each year on the particular offices? A. Yes. I visit every office once a year, more than that when there is any necessity for it.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. You have continual correspondence about some particular office? A. I made a report for the Dublin Commission—a great big book. I framed this Act of Parliament, under which you are acting now, for the Government of Sandfield Macdonald. They were establishing a registry commission for Ireland, and they sent out enquiries to the Government, and I had to answer all the questions, and put the whole thing into shape. I said the Ontario system stood second to none in the world, it was as nearly perfect as possible.

BY MR. WILLS.

Q. You never examine into the amount of fees paid over to the registrar? A. I have done it.

Q. Say the fee received were $5,000, how much of that would go to the County? A. The statute points out.

Q. How would it be determined? A. There is $2,500 goes to the Registrar free, and a percentage after that.

Q. Ninety per cent. after that? A. Yes.

Q. And how for the rest? A. I do not know; I do not carry that in my head.

BY MR. GIBSON.

Q. Do you examine into the amounts paid the registrars? I assume in all cases that the registrars are honest. If there are any complaints it is my duty to act.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. All work of every description is done in the office? A. Yes; if not, they violate the rules, and I should report them if I found any cases.

BY MR. WOOD.

Q. What system is pursued in the different cities, so far as the clerks are concerned, are they hired by salaries? A. In some cases they are hired by salaries in some cases they are hired by the folio, and in some cases by the deed. In many cases they get a quarter of a dollar a deed.

Q. Do you think the hiring by folio is a good system? A. No, I do not like it. In one of the offices where they followed that plan, I found an immediate falling off in the character of the writing in the books.

Q. You examine the books and see the style of writing. A. Yes, every book and every page.

Q. Some pay two and a half cents a folio? A. Yes.

Q. That necessitates very long hours to earn a mere pittance? A. Yes.

Q. It is a complaint to me that registrars are making money by cutting down the salaries of the clerks, and not in the public interest; they can always get for fair salaries good assistants? A. I may say that is the case in some instances, and some are just as extravagantly liberal in others.

Q. How is the abstracting work paid for? A. It is not paid for specially, the registrar's deputy does that.

Q. It cannot be done by folio? A. No.

BY MR. HARCOURT.

Q. Have you found any registrars to do conveyancing? A. I have suspected that that has been done, but I never had any complaint; if I had I should have brought it to book. I have suspected it in one case.

Q. I have seen registrar's letter paper—conveyancing paper, printed? A. I would be glad if any one would complain. It was not brought to my notice. I do not examine papers so closely as to see who writes them, it would be an interminable job.

By MR. FERRIS.

Q. They are not prohibited from doing it, if they do not do it within hours? A. The registrar and his deputy are prohibited.

By MR. MILLS.

Q. What are the fees generally charged for registering a discharge of mortgage? A. Two shillings and sixpence.

Q. What for putting a certificate on a mortgage? A. They charge for that twenty-five cents, if they put it on. I always put it on in my practice. If they put the certificate on the mortgage they are entitled to it.

Q. That is seventy-five cents? A. Yes. It is put on the back of the mortgage.

By MR. WOOD.

Q. It is optional with the registrars to do that? A. It is optional with the party, the registrars do not do it unless they are asked.

By MR. GIBSON.

Q. As a matter of public policy I rather understood you to say that you did not agree with the change that has been made in regard to the registrars? A. Of return? No, not with the return to the counties.

Q. Do you think they are still well enough paid? A. They are much better off than if they got half the fees, but there is grumbling enough. I am a receptacle of grumblers.

By MR. FERRIS.

Q. It is not about this? A. Not about this.

Q. Because a registrar is entitled to his $2,500? A. Yes.

By MR. WOOD.

Q. What do you think of a system of paying by salary, and having the fees go to the county? A. I think it would be impossible to carry it out at all.

By MR. GIBSON.

Q. How would it do to make a registrar a county officer? A. A Government officer?

Q. Yes. A. I think that would not work either. I think there would be log-rolling, and a complete host of influences at work that would not be of service to the public.

By MR. FERRIS.

Q. The only way if they are paid too much is to reduce the fees? A. Of course.

By MR. ROSS.

Q. Do you think the county officials do not compare fairly with the Government officials? A. You must not ask me that. I do not think there is any service in the world that excels the registry service in this country, take it all in all.

BY MR. GIBSON.

Q. Of course we are going upon the assumption that there would be an inspection?
 A. Yes.

 SPECIFICATIONS FOR FURNITURE AND FURNISHINGS.

(Copy.)

LONDON ASYLUM—Re FURNITURE FOR REFRACTORY WARD.

Office of the Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities, Ontario, Toronto, 27th July, 1878.

SIR,—With reference to recent correspondence regarding the purchase of furniture and furnishings required for the Refractory Wards, I may state that the following articles of furniture have been ordered from the Provincial Reformatory, viz: Single and double bedsteads, enclosed washstands and bureaux. There still remains to be ordered in the way of furniture the undermentioned goods, viz:—

4 restraint beds, 4 restraint chairs, 25 rocking chairs for women, 5 large pine dining tables, 350 oak grained low back chairs, 100 ten pound hair mattresses, 165 hair pillows, 100 straw palliasses, and 4 double straw palliasses.

The goods you will have to purchase by tender, and to that end you will address a letter to each of the furniture men in London, in number some five or six, stating that the goods named are required at the Asylum for the Insane, London, to be delivered on the 1st October, and requesting them to tender for the supply of the same.

You will then select a good sample of each article and lay them out for inspection in the storehouse department, so that each tenderer may know exactly the class of goods required. You will also state in your letter that offers will be received by you up to the 10th August. On that day you will be good enough to prepare an analysis of the tenders you receive, shewing which is the lowest, and send it down to me with a copy of the letter sent out by you, together with any remarks you may wish to make on the subject, and I will then be in a position to give you definite instructions.

You will also visit the various crockery warehouses in the city and obtain the prices of the White Granite crockery, glassware, knives and forks named in my minutes, commencing at the item, "25 dozen White Granite bowls," down to "Glassware, &c., for officers' table." A list of all these should be prepared, shewing the offers you receive, and sent to me with the tenders for the furniture, so that I may instruct you regarding them.

The other goods named in my minute will receive further consideration.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

(Signed)

J. W. LANGMUIR,

Inspector.

"Q."

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE,
February 19th, 1879.

J. W. Murray was examined upon oath as to various items on pages 61, 62 and 63 of the Public Accounts for 1877.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. You are, I believe, a Government detective, Mr. Murray? A. Yes.

Q. When were you appointed? A. I was appointed three years ago last May.

Q. At what salary? A. $1,500 a year.

Q. In what business had you been engaged previous to your appointment? A. I was engaged as detective for the Canada Southern Railroad at the same salary as I am getting here.

Q. How long had you been in the employment of that Company? A. Three years and two months.

Q. Previous to that? A. Previous to that I lived in the United States.

Q. What are your duties, Mr. Murray? A. To attend to all the criminal cases in the Province that the Government takes up. Such cases as murder, robbery and burglary, are the principal cases.

Q. Can you make a statement of the number of cases you had to take during the last year? A. I have had quite a number last year.

Q. Have you no statement prepared? A. No, I have not. There is quite a number that I remember. I have been sick this winter for a couple of months—typhoid fever.

Q. I see there is an account “J. W. Murray, Administration of Justice, Elgin, $87.15,” do you know what that is? A. I do. That is a man named Harry Fitzsimmons; I captured him in Minnesota, and brought him back to Elgin, tried him, and convicted him.

Q. Then there is “J. W. Murray, Administration of Justice, County of Grey,” what is that? A. That is one case, a case of forgery there, manufacturing and making counterfeit money.

Q. Had that anything to do with the License laws? A. No, I had nothing to do with the whiskey licenses.

Q. “J. W. Murray, Haldimand, $342.52,” is that in connection with the Young murder? A. Yes, that is the Young murder. I convicted them also.

Q. The value of your services depends on the value of whether they are convicted or not? A. No.

Q. “J. W. Murray, Administration of Justice, County of Kent, $142.95,” do you know what that is for? A. That is a case of killing cattle—going out and shooting cattle at night, and tearing down orchards. Such matters as that I was sent to by the Government as a particular case. We had two or three cases there.

Q. How is it the local authorities cannot attend to it? A. I do not know, I was sent to look it up.

Q. “Administration of Justice, Oxford, $146.00!” A. That is a case of murder—the murder of Pratt.

Q. Is that the man that was sent to the asylum afterwards? A. No, these parties were acquitted.

Q. There is “J. W. Murray, Administration of Justice, County of Ontario, $32.55?” A. Yes. That is the Mrs. Bennett murder, the Pickering outrage.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. Rape and murder? A. Yes.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. “J. W. Murray, Administration of Justice, Toronto, $19.00,” what is that? A. That is in reference to the Dean murder; I extradited some parties in connection with that, in Indiana.

Q. Why did not the officials attend to that? A. I do not know.

Q. “J. W. Murray, Administration of Justice, County of York, $843.73,” what is that? A. That must be the same case. That was a very long and tedious case. We had two adjournments in the case, and I had to bring witnesses quite a distance, some from Cleveland, quite a number.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. The expenses of the witnesses are in this sum? A. Yes.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. This includes your bill? A. Yes, disbursements to witnesses, and costs to Supreme Court where this man was extradited.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. That is entirely in connection with the Dean murder. A. Yes.

Q. Does it include anything beyond your actual expenses? A. Yes. That includes witnesses that were brought here, some from Cleveland, and some from Indianapolis.

Q. Under whose directions do you act in these matters? A. Under the direction of the Assistant Attorney-General and the Crown Counsel.

Q. There is just one more matter, "J. W. Murray, services re Lincoln Election Ballots, $41.20," what is that? A. The ballots were stolen at St. Catharines, and I was sent up to investigate the matter, and to see if I could find who were the parties that were accused of taking these ballots.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. Stolen right out of the Courts of Justice? A. Yes.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. You did not succeed in finding out who it was? A. No.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. That job was pretty well put up? A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. The item appears as "services re Lincoln Election ballots?" A. That is the only case I had there.

Q. Is it for your services or disbursements? A. For disbursements.

Q. When you go to an outer county, like the County of Kent, do you act entirely upon your own responsibility, or are you placed under the direction of the law officer there? A. I confer with the law officer there, but I act on my own responsibility.

Q. Are you left entirely to your own judgment in regard to the expenditure you make? A. No, I am not.

Q. How is that regulated? A. If there is any item of any amount over $25 or $30, I ask, before I spend that money, permission to do so.

Q. Whom do you ask? A. Generally the Assistant Attorney-General.

Q. I would like you to give me some idea as to what you did last year; how many cases you were engaged in working up? A. The very last case I had before I was taken sick was a case, or several cases, of burglary round Gravenhurst and Bracebridge, in the Muskoka district. There was quite a number of stores burglarized there. I went up and I got the parties and the goods, amounting to about a thousand dollars in all. I convicted them. That was the principal case I had before I was taken sick.

Q. Where do you reside? A. In Toronto.

Q. When you are not engaged in this business what are you doing? A. I am pretty well engaged most of the time.

Q. Does it occupy the whole of your time? A. Yes, and more too, if I can spare it.

Q. Do you mean to say the whole of your time is occupied in the discharge of your duties? A. Pretty much. Of course there are some days—probably two or three days at a time—that would not be engaged; still I would be working on something else at the same time.

Q. Do you do anything on your own account? A. No.

Q. I see here you have got at the head of your communications "Government detective" and so on; have you one of them here? A. I have not. I am not aware of any.

Q. "J. W. Murray, Provincial constable and detective officer, post office box 329," do you mean to say you do not do anything on your own account? A. No.

Q. Have you never, while you have been in the employment of the Government, received remuneration for services performed outside? A. I never got a cent while I have been in the employ of the Government only when the Youngs were convicted the County Council made me a present of $100. I refused to take it at first and I asked permission of the Attorney-General who said I might take it. I don't take presents. I have refused them.

Q. Do you act as constable in matters outside of the Provincial jurisdiction? A. I do not.

Q. So that your whole income is derived from this Government employment? A. Yes.

Q. Do you know whether there was such a person employed before you were employed? A. No, I do not. I heard there was a man named Smith employed in the whiskey business as whiskey inspector or license informer, but I never knew of any person employed in the same capacity as I am.

Q. You do not undertake to visit any county or do any business unless upon the direct instructions of the Attorney-General's Department? A. I do not.

Q. What is the meaning of this, "The undersigned respectfully recommends that he may have warrant for $150 to pay expenses of witnesses in Regina vs. Tasker?" A. That is the Dean case.

Q. Where is your account for that; I have not been able to find any account that you have rendered of it? A. It is in the Department there some place. I render an itemized account for everything I get.

Q. Verified by affidavit, or how is that? A. Verified by the Assistant Attorney-General, who goes through it.

Q. Have you to make any statutory declaration as to its correctness? A. No, I have not. I certify to the amount being correct.

Q. I see "Incidental Expenses, $25, $10, $25," very often; what is that for? A. I may say in getting evidence—in most all important cases there are a great many expenses connected with them.

Q. Whiskey bills? A. No. As I was going to say, in getting evidence in most important cases I have got to go to places and see local authorities who are entirely opposed to having their names made public in connection with these matters.

Q. That would not answer, that you know? A. If you will allow me to explain. In order to get these parties and induce them to give information, I have got to promise secrecy.

Q. A kind of secret service fund? A. In fact it is in some parts of it. I have to promise secrecy that these names should not be mentioned.

Q. Is that a bribery fund then? A. No, it is not.

Q. That is what it is for, is it? A. Yes.

Q. Do you give the Attorney-General privately, or his deputy, an account of what you expend in that way? A. Yes, privately.

Q. In detail? A. Yes.

Q. Are you quite sure? A. I am quite sure. I am out a large sum in the Meagher case. I could show that I am out four hundred or five hundred dollars out of my own pocket for a positive fact; I can prove it, and get vouchers to show it, which I could not see my way clear to charge the Department with, for I do not think they would pay me.

Q. What is that for? A. There are a great many expenses connected with this matter that I could not very well explain.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. That it would not be in the interest of the public to disclose? A. No.

BY MR. CLARKE, (WELLINGTON).

Q. You could give a general idea without mentioning names? A. Yes. For instance this Meagher case; I will give you one or two items. After Leavitt had made his statement to me, implicating Meagher in the penitentiary, and steps had been taken to extradite him, Leavitt was induced by Meagher's friends not to give evidence against him. I then went and consulted with the Crown Counsel and I thought best to go and see Leavitt's father who resided in Buffalo. I took him from Buffalo to Kingston to induce him to give his evidence in a straight-forward manner. I had to pay his railway fare and expenses from Buffalo to Kingston and return. It cost me over $50 of my own money.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. You did not charge that? A. No.

Q. You must be very generous? A. They would not pay me, because I had no orders to do it. I was not going to lose the case after going to all that trouble and expense. After bringing a man from Indiana I was not going to let him go again.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. You have a kind of professional pride in these matters? A. I have to tell the truth. I can give you a still larger item. In that very same case there was a witness named William Akerman, who resided in New York city. I wanted him in the matter. I was told that he would not come with me as a witness, and in order to accomplish this, I went to Buffalo and got Mr. W. Crawley, a friend of Akerman's, to go to New York to try and induce him to come. Akerman was formerly in Mr. Crawley's employ and was liable to be advised by him. I had to pay Mr. Crawley's railway fare and expenses from Buffalo to New York city and return, which I am quite satisfied cost me between seventy-five and eighty dollars out of my own pocket. There are similar items like these in similar cases.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Did you put these things in the shape of an account to the Government? A. No, the Government never paid me one dollar of those expenses.

Q. Did you charge them with them? A. No.

Q. Why didn't you? A. I knew they would not pay me them, I had no instructions to do it.

BY MR. BALLANTYNE.

Q. If the expenses exceed a certain amount you have to have instructions from the Attorney-General's office before further expenditures? A. Yes, I have. I do not go five miles out of a city without orders.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. They refuse to pay expenses that are not authorized? A. They do. It leaves me behind in a great many cases and a great many times.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. You can furnish the Committee with a statement of the cases in which you have been engaged? A. Yes.

Q. You can furnish the Committee with a statement of your employment during the past year up to the time you were taken ill? A. There are several cases of counterfeiting that I was engaged in in the County of Brant and the County of Haldimand.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. Were you in London on any counterfeiting cases there? A. No, I was not.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. What is the name of that place not far from London—Lucan—were you ever there? A. I have been there.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. How many years did you say you were with the Railway Company? A. Three years.

Q. What were you engaged at before that? A. I was engaged as detective for the Pennsylvania Central Railway in the United States.

Q. For how many years? A. For seven or eight years.

Q. You are not a native of the United States? A. No, I was born in the old country.

Q. Where? A. I was born in the County Antrim, in Ireland.

Q. Are you an American citizen? A. I was an American citizen. I never had to make a declaration; my father did and made me a citizen. I was under age.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. Are you paid by salary? A. Yes, by cheque.

Q. Are you paid by salary? A. Yes.

Q. How much is your salary? A. One thousand five hundred dollars.

Q. These items of expenditure are your disbursements? A. Yes.

Q. You are only, as I understand, to attend to cases as you are detailed to do so by the Attorney-General or his assistant? A. Yes.

Q. Only important cases? A. Yes.

Q. Cases perhaps, where the local authorities are somewhat embarrassed in working them up? A. Yes, they are very often, and when they feel that, they send down here, and I have to go up.

Q. Name some of the visits other than the cases you have named? A. I had a case very recently last summer, this Martin and Hull robbery case.

Q. Were you engaged in the Phoebe Campbell case? A. No.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Were you engaged in the Castleton tragedy case? A. No.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Where rewards are offered, what becomes of them? A. I never got a dollar of rewards since I have been in the employ of the Government.

Q. Did you not get a reward in Haldimand? A. That was not a reward, there was no reward there. The County Council made me a present of $100: I did not want to take it.

Q. How many detectives are on the staff here? A. I think seven.

Q. They are pretty able men are they not? A. I suppose they are, I do not know much about them.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. I suppose their duties are confined to the city? A. Entirely to the city.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. How is it you do not render your accounts to the County Councils? Do you discuss that with the Attorney-General or Mr. Scott? A. No, I never did.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. It seems a very unfair thing that these large bills connected with crime in particular municipalities should be charged entirely to the Province; here is a thousand dollars in this Dean and other cases? A. Since I have been in the employ of the Government I have saved the country over $1,000: I can prove it.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. What do you mean? A. I brought four men from the United States, that if they had to go through the regular extradition process, would cost not less than $1,000 in each case, and I got them over without going through a formal process of extradition. I did not kidnap them; it did not make any difference so long as I got them here and convicted.

BY MR. HARCOURT.

Q. In that Haldimand case, the Youngs would have escaped completely, if it had not been for your services? A. I think they would not have been convicted if it had not been for my services.

Q. The local authorities showed very little disposition to push the case? A. That is so. Those county constables do not amount to a great deal.

BY MR. BALLANTYNE.

Q. You found very little done when you went there? A. Very little. In fact, there was nothing in the way of evidence to meet the men on the trial.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. There is an item incidentally connected with this matter, I would like an explanation about: there appears to be about a thousand dollars for the expense of watching Haldimand jail? A. I do not know anything about that.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. Your time is broken and fragmentary: you have more than one case on hand at one time? A. Yes.

HENRY TOTTEN.

PROVINCIAL SECRETARY'S OFFICE,
Toronto, 14th February, 1879.

"Q."

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE,
February 19th, 1879.

R. H. Brown was examined as to the item, "Oliver, Davidson & Co. Refunds on Mining Locations, $678.50," on page 152, of the Public Accounts for 1877.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Under the Crown Lands Department in the Public Accounts there appears a large number of entries—refunds on lands—will you explain generally what is the nature of these refunds? A. When a party makes a payment on land, the amount is either applied on the land or placed on deposit subject to his order to be refunded.

Q. Is that the nature of all these refunds? A. No, sometimes the lot is overpaid for and it is still left on the lot.

Q. Let me ask you are there any cases in which reductions are made which would be entered as refunds? A. Yes.

Q. Can you distinguish in these accounts of 1877, which are reductions? A. No, I can not.

Q. You could do that? A. I could. It very seldom happens that a man overpays his rate; there will be two dollars any way or six per cent. that it is reduced and he gets the balance as a refund.

Q. Take this one of Oliver, Davidson & Co's. A. Oliver, Davidson & Co. paid in the money on certain lands in certain townships and it was found that they had been sold, or that Oliver, Davidson & Co. could not get them, the money was placed on deposit, and $678.50 returned to them.

Q. You think that $678.50 remained from 1874 until 1877? A. We were applying money all the time on it.

Q. No, that could not be, because this is closed up. You say your last payment was in 1873? A. We never refund to a party until they apply for it.

Q. I have not understood yet what that money was for? A. This is the way; they have applied for lots, in all seven hundred and sixty acres, amounting to eleven hundred and forty dollars, "which sum you are authorized to apply on the payment of said lands from the funds now deposited."

Q. Do you mean to say these gentlemen had a deposit in the hands of the Crown Lands Commissioner applicable generally to what lands they would order to be purchased? A. They had at that time.

Q. Anybody else have any such deposit? A. Yes.

Q. Who? A. Any person can have it in that way; they apply for certain lands and deposit so much money.

Q. They are applying for seven hundred and sixty acres I think here, amounting to $1,110, at $1.50 an acre, "which sum you are authorized to apply on the payment of said lands from the funds now deposited to the credit of the Crown Lands Department office?" A. Yes.

Q. Will you tell me what sums they had on deposit then? A. I cannot tell. There were various sums, balances over from what was paid on other lands.

Q. Had these gentlemen any sum at their credit in the Crown Lands Department applicable for the purposes of just such application as this? A. No, not that I know of. There was $9,000 paid on certain lands.

Q. What lands? A. I have not got all the papers in the case; in each case where they made a deposit they sent money with the lands to be applied for.

Q. Here is $9,000 paid before they got a single acre. It would look just as if these gentlemen had a sum on deposit which they could utilize by rapid communication with the Department? A. No; I suppose there would be nothing to prevent them if they chose.

Q. This is the letter is it? A. Yes. That is the letter the money came in.

Q. I would like to see what that letter is? A. I have not got money letters here.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. Mr. Brown, is there any objection that you know of as a matter of principle to hinder any person depositing $5,000 with the Crown Lands, and saying, "I desire to purchase lands, and I deposit this with a view to having it applied as I may direct," is there anything objectionable in that? A. No objection that I know of.

Q. The matter has never been brought to the attention of the Crown Lands as an objectionable feature? A. Never.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. Has it been done often before? A. No. Not that I know of. A man may apply for a thousand acres and deposit a sum and no person can secure the same lot.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. I know of a case where Oliver, Davidson & Co. came down in advance of a party that was desirous of securing a large timber tract, and they secured it. A. You can secure a lot by applying for it without paying the money. The first applicant has the choice, even if they do not pay the money.

Q. How long is it secured? A. When the case comes up for consideration the first applicant has the preference.

Q. It enables Oliver, Davidson & Co. to get in the first application? A. The first applicant has the choice in all cases, whether he pays the money or not.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. They would have no advantage by having the money there? A. No advantage at all.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. Other parties can have the money there as well as them, if they choose? A. Yes.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. The Crown Lands never refuse money? A. It is not the Crown Lands' money at all.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Can you tell me any other instance in which large sums like that have been on deposit? A. No, I cannot just now.

Q. Did you say that money was on deposit in this case? A. Yes. They applied for other lands at a dollar an acre, and when they received the patents for these lands, they had not the timber and would not have the lands. They had then to pay fifty cents an acre to secure the timber, and they paid in other moneys for the timber, which was placed on deposit.

Q. It was not an open deposit? A. No.

Q. Here is an item of "M. McDougall, refund of timber dues $2,500?" A. That belongs to the timber branch, we do not take the money for timber deposits.

Q. Here is $2,960 refund, D. Hayes on lands in Patterson, a very large item, that would be in your branch? A. Yes.

Q. Where is Patterson? A. Away up in the north-west. In the case of Oliver, Davidson & Co., I think the money was lying there for some time. They had sent their account in, but we could not agree. They were claiming more moneys for refunds than we had to give them, and we made out this statement for their benefit, to show them this was the only money we had on hand.

TREASURER'S OFFICE,
February 20, 1879.

Committee met at eleven o'clock a.m., pursuant to adjournment.

Present :

The Chairman,	Messrs. Ross,
Messrs. Ferris,	Striker,
Harcourt,	Wills,
Hardy,	Wood.

Mr. A. G. Hill, Police Magistrate, Clifton, was present in accordance with order of the Committee, and was examined as to the duties of his office, likewise as to the police force of Clifton and Erie. His evidence was taken down by short hand writer, and is hereto appended—see paper marked "R."

Moved by Mr. Ferris, seconded by Mr. Ross, that the Chairman prepare a draft report of proceedings up to the 25th inst., and submit same to the Committee on Tuesday next—Carried.

On motion the Committee adjourned.

CHARLES CLARKE,
Chairman.

“R.”

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE.

February 20th, 1879.

Mr. A. G. Hill was examined upon oath as to the item “A. G. Hill, for services as Police Magistrate, $1,000,” on page sixty-five of the Public Accounts for 1877.

By Mr. Ross.

Q. What are your duties in connection with the office of Police Magistrate at Fort Erie and Clifton. I believe both are under your charge? A. Yes; both. My duty is to hold courts, whenever there is anything to be disposed of at Clifton, and to hold courts at Fort Erie, whenever there is anything to be disposed of there. I have charge of the police established there at Clifton and Fort Erie, and I give directions to the whole establishment, as far as direction is required, through the chief. The chief has the disposition of the men directly, and my control over them is through him. I have a general superintendence of the whole establishment, and see to the working of it, and to the application of it in the vicinity of Niagara Falls, and of Fort Erie. The jurisdiction extends to Clifton, and also over the Townships of Stamford and Bertie. I have the same power in these Townships that I have in the Town of Clifton and the Village of Fort Erie.

Q. You have just the general authority of a Police Magistrate in a town? A. Yes; as far as I know. I have probably further power. I have power to cancel any licenses that may be granted in the Town of Clifton, hotel licenses and other licenses; also, in the Township of Stamford and the Township of Bertie, and the Village of Fort Erie.

Q. Are you in the position of a license commissioner? A. No; I have nothing to do with that.

Q. What authority have you to cancel licenses? A. That is under the Statute. There are probably some sixty or seventy licenses granted to hackmen there. These all come under my jurisdiction. I have power, and on some occasions do cancel their licenses, and there are some cases where licenses are granted to notoriously bad characters, and these people, acting under their licenses, commit outrages of various kinds, and, if they are brought before me for these outrages, I inflict such penalty as I think the case calls for, and I cancel the license.

Q. Who grants the license? A. The Town Council of Clifton.

By Mr. Ferris.

Q. The municipal authority? A. Yes. Unfortunately sometimes when the license is cancelled by me, these people get round the Town Council and have their license renewed.

By Mr. Ross.

Q. Have the Town Council power to re-issue these licenses after you cancel them? A. They do it. In some cases licenses are granted to people who are outrageously bad characters. These people have certain combinations. Sometimes they bring influence to bear upon the council after the license is cancelled and they get it renewed again. I have an instance in my mind where a fellow who was sent to the Central Prison for six months for attempting to compel some one to pay money that ought not to have been paid, when he came back, through the influence of his employer, I suppose, he obtained a license again, and is now working under that license.

Q. How many policemen have you employed under you? A. Four—a chief and three others.

Q. Are they employed at a regular salary? A. At a regular salary. The chief gets $2.25, the next under him $2.00 and the others $1.50 a day.

Q. Has that been the rate of pay that has been paid all along for the last few years? A. Originally, I think, they were all getting $1.50 a day at the very outside.

Q. In 1877 what were they getting? A. One dollar and a half; that is the two. The chief was getting $2.25 and the next under him $2.00 in 1877.

Q. These men are just ordinary constables. They are not detectives or anything of that kind? A. No, they are just ordinary constables, and keep the peace. They are appointed by the Government under the Act. They are appointed the same as other constables; to be sure they have their position under an Act that was passed last Session making them Provincial Constables. However, that has no special application in that territory.

Q. Is the time of the force fully employed? A. Yes; almost night and day I should say. They come on in the morning, and they continue until ten o'clock, when the last train goes out. It is at the trains that the outrages are likely to be committed—as the trains are moving off. For instance, a man and his party go in a hack up to the Falls, and the hackman brings them to the train. He finds out before he gets near the train where these people are going, and then they will arrange their time to suit the circumstances of the party, and if they are going to Toronto, or going to leave by train, they will drop them at the station, so that they have no time to enter any complaint or make any objection to any charges that may be exacted, and they will pay what is demanded of them sooner than have any altercation. There are hundreds of cases of that kind, where people pay sooner than make any complaint, and where they have no opportunity of making complaint. It is at the station that the policemen can most readily discharge their duties. Now, I have a case in my mind where a gentleman was going to England, and he stopped over the train to see the Falls, and unfortunately for him he went into some place and had a drink, and there some of these brigands happened to see him. They treated him again, and presently he got pretty boozy. He was found by a policeman, being spirited up what is known as the Ravine Road. He was taken away from these fellows, and brought down to the lock-up, quite intoxicated. He was kept until next morning. He had fifty sovereigns on him and his ticket across the Atlantic. If these people had got him up the hill, there is no doubt in the world that he would not have had his fifty sovereigns in the morning. There is a rendezvous at the top of the Ravine Road, and if those who congregate about there get these people up into this retreat, whatever they have, they will take away from them. This person was licensed, and a bit ago he had made a bargain with a couple of people to take them to the Falls. They got into his carriage, and instead of driving them to the Falls, he drove them directly to what is known as the Whirlpool. He drove out there because the hack-driver bringing people to that place gets 25 per cent. commission on what the people pay for going in. I think there were four in the party. They each pay fifty cents for going in, and the hack-driver in fact gets half of it. These people went through the place down into the yard leading down to the tramway, and they asked what would be the charge for going down the tramway. The person in charge said it would not be anything extra, for they paid the same for going in, and that included everything. Up to that moment they didn't know that they would have to pay anything, and they went out and went to get into the carriage. The hack-driver and the person in charge of this place made an attack upon them and demanded from them two dollars. These people said they hadn't any idea that there was any charge or they would not have gone in, and they refused to pay. The hack-driver flourished his whip over them, and swore and demanded until the people actually had to pay the money under threat of being ill-treated. Then, instead of going to the Falls, these people directed the hack-driver to bring them back, and came up to the office and laid an information. It was for that offence that he was sent to the Central Prison, and after that he got his license renewed.

Q. He got another license? A. Yes; from the municipality—after that. That same fellow got a young man in his carriage for a quarter, to take him across the bridge to the Erie train. It was at the time that there was an altercation between the Erie and Western roads. This fellow got the stranger in his carriage to take him over for twenty-five cents, and when he got him over, he charged him a dollar. Unfortunately for the man he had his valise in the carriage, and would not give it up to him until he paid him the dollar more than the quarter. The man had to pay the bridge toll—fifty cents more—which he didn't know anything about. The man paid him a dollar in order to get his satchel back. He came back and laid an information. There had been no offence committed against the Canadian law, so I asked the man to have the fellow searched. He had a dollar bill on him, and the man, who was in the office, identified the dollar bill as the one he had taken from him on the other side, and he laid an information against him for bringing this dollar, or the dollar obtained in that fraudulent way on the other side, into Canada, and for that the fellow was sent up again.

Q. Are there a great number of such cases? A. Cases of that kind occur every summer when travel is rife, and a great number of these cases occur, not of that identical kind, but of a similar nature.

Q. These cases are brought to you? In a case of that kind do you sometimes impose fine? A. Yes.

Q. There is a revenue derived? A. Yes.

Q. What amount of that revenue? A. In April, 1877, the police office was burned and my books and library destroyed. I don't remember since April, 1877. I think it was $500 in January, February and March. I have not the figures for 1877. I think there was upwards of a thousand dollars collected in 1877 and in 1876.

Q. Do you recollect what it was in 1878—last year? A. No; I think it is less than $500 in 1878. The amount in 1876 was $1,210. As the locality is brought more under subjection the proceeds will not be so much.

Q. In reference to Fort Erie—is there any necessity for any special police service there. That is not a resort of tourists and travellers? A. No. The only reason why there is any desirability for having any special force there is because it is just near Buffalo, and it is a rendezvous for bad people from Buffalo. At the time my jurisdiction was extended to Fort Erie there was a gambling place there which had been the resort of blacklegs and thieves from Buffalo, and the local authorities didn't seem to have any power with them. They had indicted a fellow, but he wriggled through somehow, notwithstanding all the effort they had made to get him out. He wriggled through and very much annoyed and infested and pestered all the people. When my jurisdiction was extended there, I sent a couple of men to work the matter up, and they made a raid upon the house and captured all the plant they had.

Q. Is there one constable maintained continually on Fort Erie? A. No; he is not now. In fact I had two there one week until this matter was broken up. Occasionally, when there is any special goings-on there, I send a man or two men, according to the circumstances.

Q. The whole of the police are employed at Clifton? A. Yes.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. That is the head quarters? A. Yes; that is the head quarters.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. Is the staff any larger than is absolutely necessary? A. I don't see how we could get along with anything less. Next week I will have to send a man to attend to some seven or eight hundred labourers on the canal. They will be there the rest of the winter. A year ago I had two men stationed at a place where there were four or five hundred men. For the last two years, probably three years, we have had a good deal to do on the Welland Canal, and during the strike that was so general on the other side, and during the Canada Central strike, there was a great mass at Fort Erie. I had the whole force at Fort Erie to attend to the strike there.

Q. Then you think you could not do with less than four constables? A. I don't see how we could cover the ground. You see it is about three miles from the Whirlpool to the Falls, and about two miles from Clifton to the Falls. There is one man stationed at Niagara Falls all the time.

Q. There is not much of that work in the winter time? A. Not much.

Q. That is the period of holiday for the force? A. Yes; the work doesn't amount to much in the winter. Just now there is an exception. The ice-bridge is bringing a great many people there, and there is quite a travel, which is exceptional. In 1876 and 1877 there was nothing of the kind.

Q. Principally the duties will be only in the summer season? A. In the summer season.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. I suppose it will last all the time there is navigation? A. All the summer season there is a great crowd of people, but latterly—for the last two or three years—there seems to have been any quantity of excursions to the Falls. Two or three thousand people a day come in at both sides of the river, train after train full of them, and there is a great opportunity for the fellows who congregate around there to ply their avocation, and on these special days the whole force is detailed to keep among the strangers and to keep these people away from them.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. I see here several items in every month's account for expenses—items ranging from $11 to $30.00. What are they for? Mr. Ferris—There is a detailed account for every item. Witness—There is travelling expenses—just the item of travelling expenses. These items don't amount to much. For instance, they would be incurred if I sent a man to Fort Erie. If a man has to be arrested at Queenston, the man would walk down four miles. They have to hire a trap to get back, and if the man is sent up for trial, or if he is acquitted, as a matter of course, these expenses have to be paid.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. What county is that in? A. The County of Welland.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. Queenston is not a very large place? A. About twenty-seven hundred—not over three thousand.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. Does that include Drummondville? A. No; that is Queenston alone.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. I suppose the whole population there would almost all live on the summer travel? A. Yes.

Q. It would nearly altogether depend upon that? A. Altogether upon that.

Q. And their prosperity depends upon whether the travel is limited, or whether it is extensive? A. Yes; you may say take away the hack people and the hotel people and you have very little left.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. Before you were appointed in this way what was the condition of affairs? How was the public peace maintained then? A. Very partially. In fact every case that was brought up in the way of police was brought before the Mayor. The Mayor is elected by, as you are all aware, a general vote, and the general vote there is, you may say, all the hack people and all the hotel people. In other years if a stranger came to Niagara Falls and had any trouble, he was brought before the Mayor, who was elected by the hack people and the hotel people, and who expected, if ever elected again, to be elected by the same people, and you can readily understand however honest a man might be, his sympathies and his tendencies would be in favour of the hack people.

Q. The hack people would not form a majority of the people? A. They do; they form a combination among themselves.

Q. These disturbances would be detrimental to the prosperity of the place, and the people would be directly interested in suppressing them? A. That is the way it has always been.

BY HON. MR. WOOD.

Q. What are the names of the two hotel-keepers—those that had the difficulty about the frontage? A. Barnett and Davis; they are two people that always had warfare.

Q. Part of the injustice of having hackmen going to the hotel is that they have half of what is spent there? A. Yes; a hackman driving a party of four gentleman to the museum or Sam Davis's, if they bought $25 worth these hack fellows get 25 per cent. of it. They pick up a party down at the bridge, probably for a quarter, depending upon the per centage they make of them. If you pay a per centage, and he doesn't pay a per centage, the hack drivers will drive to you. This commission is the worst thing about the place. Everybody about there pays commission. Everybody is tributary to the hack people. The hack people can ruin any man if they form a combination against him, and they form a combination against any man that will not come to their terms. They control the elections.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. A Street Railway would be a good thing there? A. A Street Railway would be the grandest thing imaginable. The commissions would build one a dozen times over. It is the greatest trouble about Niagara Falls.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. Do these men share in the receipts of the museum? A. Certainly.

Q. The entrance fee to the museum? A. Yes; and under the sheet of water. They share in all of them. If they bring a man up to the lower bridge they get a share there. They share fifty cents at that bridge; and get twenty-five cents more at the Whirlpool; it is a dollar for going under the sheet of water, and the hackman gets fifty cents of it. They pick a man up and drive him to the Falls for ten cents. People think that is cheap. They persuade people to go in and buy something, and they make more out of the sales than they will out of the drive.

BY HON. MR. WOOD.

Q. It might be high-handed, but it seems to me it would not be a bad thing to pass an act to authorize any person to build a street railway? A. One effect of the street railway would be to do away with the commission system.

BY MR. WILLS.

Q. And do away with the hackmen? A. To a certain extent.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. What is your opinion of the idea of an International Park about the Falls? A. My own opinion is that it will never be practicable. As to the desirability of it, that is another thing; but, I don't think it could be made practicable.

BY MR. HARCOURT.

Q. Visionary, I think? A. Altogether, I think. I suppose, probably I should not say, it could not be made practicable in one sense, provided the Government would think it desirable to pay the sum of money they would have to pay to get the property to make a park. Those people that control the property there, I am satisfied, could scarcely be approached. There has been mints of money made there, and spent in law-suits or one way and another.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. Do you know how much property belongs to the Government? A. The Government own sixty-six feet from the edge of the bank along the river, and on that sixty-six feet there was a stone road constructed many years ago. A joint stock company got a charter and constructed a road on this Government reserve; and that road has been in operation probably twenty-five years. It seems to me the charter, possibly, has run out, and is in such a shape legally, that the corporation can compel the company to treat with them and sell. I think it is a paying enterprise and they make a great deal of money out of it.

Q. How far does that extend? A. That extends from the Falls to the lower bridge, and then it strikes out into the country, and runs to Thorold. It is the part on the bank, however, from the lower bridge to the Falls that is keeping up all the rest of the road. They make a lot of money out of it.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. And the Government now has sixty-six feet? A. Yes; it was originally the military reserve, and was vested in some military authority in England, but it was vested in the Secretary of State under the old regime, and at Confederation it was transferred to Ontario. It was vested in the Canadian authority by an Act of Parliament, and under that Act, to Parliament was given the power to sell and lease; and a great portion of the ordnance reserve was sold after that. Then, after Confederation the land fell into the hands of the Local Government, and is in their hands now. For instance, the farm that Daniel Robinson owned at the time of his death was in the hands of the Government and was sold. Some land at Chippewa was sold. I think Mr. Street bought some of the land himself, that is probably his frontage in his life-time.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. Does the Town of Clifton maintain any police force of their own? A. They have a sort of care-taker of their public buildings, who is the constable, but he doesn't do anything but look after tramps and that kind of thing.

Q. Do you pay your own office rent? A. Yes.

BY HON. MR. WOOD.

Q. Complaint has been made in reference to that. The municipality has not furnished you with an office? A. They did prepare a room in a public building, but it was surrounded by butchers' stalls, and when the butchers on one side of the partition washed out the rooms, the slop ran into the other rooms, and it was utterly impossible to occupy it.

Q. Was there any application made to them to furnish a better office? A. Yes.

Q. Did they refuse? A. Yes.

BY MR. WILLS.

Q. Do the policemen receive constable's fees in addition to their salaries? A. No; the fees are all collected and paid over to the Government. The men receive nothing but the $1.50 a day.

Q. Do not some of them receive more than $2.00? A. The chief gets $2.25.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. Do you think it would be possible to reduce your staff during the winter months? A. That was attempted once, but the people of the locality raised a great outcry, and they were sent back again.

Q. What is your opinion—do you think it was advisable? A. No. If there were any less men, there would be no show for doing anything.

Q. You think it is necessary to maintain the force? A. Yes, as there is one man kept up at the Falls continually and two on duty down in the lower part of the town.

Q. Does the chief do constable's duty? A. The chief, of course, is not on the street, but he is superintending the whole thing.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. Is there any necessity for a chief to look after three men? A. There must be some person in charge to keep authority.

Q. Could they not be directly under your control? A. I suppose probably they are.

Q. Does the chief do constable's duty himself or does he simply look after the others? A. He does constable's duty himself.

Q. Do you think that two would not be sufficient during the winter months? A. That would give one at the lower bridge, and one at the upper bridge. To be sure all they could do would be to accomplish all the good they could.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Is not a man after he has been there for a time worth a great deal more than a new man taken on? A. Yes. I have one exceptionally good man there in the way of detecting crime. He is an exceptionally good man. I remember an instance. Two men came over the bridge. He was standing at the railway station. He said to a person who happened to be standing by, "I don't like the looks of those people; I will interview them." He followed after and caught up to them, and, as soon as he spoke to them, he saw they were improper men. He brought them up to the office, and I had some conversation with them. I told the men to search them. They did so, and found a lot of stuff on them that they had evidently stolen. They hadn't a cent of money—only this stuff—and they gave contradictory reports of themselves. Information was laid against them as vagrants, and I committed them as vagrants, but kept the stuff, and next morning the same policeman took them to jail—to Welland—, and that is another item of expense—travelling expenses—incurred in taking those people to Welland. That day (the day they were taken to jail) an item appeared in a Buffalo paper, stating that the night before a certain store had been burglarized by two people, and in their burglarizing of the place they had been interfered with, and they had fired at the owner, who had come in, and a description of the property was given. The men were taken to the other side after having been extradited, and they got each five years in the State Prison. I have authority under the Extradition Act to extradite people.

Q. Did you ever, Mr. Hill, consider the desirability of reducing the expenses there as much as possible without interfering or prejudicing the object for which the force is established there. Do you not think that without prejudice a reduction could be made in the force during the winter months, and increased again in the summer? A. Perhaps two constables could be employed only during the summer months and not paid during the winter.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. Could these men find other employment during the winter? A. I don't see how they could. If you adopted that course, you may say you would be employing new men every season, that would be the effect of it, because you could not pick up these same men again. I don't think these men would be available. I don't think you could get them.

Q. You think the additional knowledge and experience is worth the additional cost? A. I think so. I don't think it would be practicable. For instance, discharge these men, and, as a matter of course, they get into something else, and they would not come back again to the force; you could not expect them to come back; they would not come back.

BY MR. HARCOURT.

Q. Weakening the force would encourage the roughs and give them greater opportunities? A. It would give them greater opportunities. It is two miles from one bridge to the other.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Are they uniformed at the expense of the Province? A. Yes.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. What does the Chief of Police in Niagara Falls, across on the other side get? A. I don't know.

By MR. FERRIS.

Q. Your men receive $1.50 a day and their uniform at the expense of the Province?
A. Yes.

By HON. MR. WOOD.

Q. Is this man a first class detective? A. He doesn't do much in the way of detecting. Wynne is a capital man, and Young is also a capital man.

By HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. The County Court Judge has repeatedly drawn attention to one? A. Yes; he gets $1.50 a day. He is from the County of Elgin.

By MR. WILLS.

Q. It was Wynne that detected those two men? A. Yes. I have a case in my mind now. A man was coming across the upper bridge, or attempting to cross the upper bridge, with a horse and buggy. Young, who was stationed at the bridge, thought the man and the trap did not correspond well. He spoke to him, and found out that he was not all right, and brought him and the horse down to the lower bridge, and the man was brought up to the office. Before Young got out of the office, a telegram came in to arrest such a man with such a horse, which was stolen. The man was telegraphed back to that the horse was captured and the property there. He came down and identified it, and the fellow consented to be tried, confessed the crime, and got his three years in the penitentiary—all in less than ten hours.

By MR. FERRIS.

Q. Your jurisdiction extends to three years? A. Yes; I have the same jurisdiction, as far as the disposing of cases of that kind, as the County Court Judge has, by consent. If they consent to be tried by me, I have the same power to convict and punish as he has, if they consent to be tried by him. Now there is hardly a day passes that one or two telegrams do not come. The day before yesterday a man was captured at the bridge at tempting to escape, who had committed a larceny in St. Catharines. There is hardly a day passes we do not get telegrams from different parts of the Province that so-and-so will probably pass at such a time, both at Fort Erie and Clifton.

By HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. The question that was raised was as to your men doing the duty that properly belongs to the county constable at Welland? A. I have a case in my mind that will give a specimen of that. In that locality the people, to a certain extent, try to rely upon the force established there. Not long ago there was a robbery committed near Welland, that is twelve miles away. Welland is the County Town. In fact a report came into Welland that there had been some $400 worth stolen out of the woollen factory. Before that there had been a great many robberies in that same locality. It was supposed the same gang had robbed Welland Mills. Nobody was in a position to advance any money, and none of the constables would move. There was a telegram came down to me, and I sent a man up who went into it, and investigated the matter, and subsequently the cloth was found—the whole of it—stored up in a garret in a school-house, an old unused school house, and the up-shot of the whole thing was that this gang were captured and convicted. If I hadn't sent a man up, there is no doubt in the world there would not have been anything done. The county constables would not stir, for there was no person to guarantee them anything.

By MR. ROSS.

Q. Would the expenses of your constables in connection with the case be borne by the Government here? A. No. I think there was only $10 expenses. I handed the man $10 when he went away, and that was all that the Government paid. The County Council made an appropriation afterwards, when the thing was such a success.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. Didn't the constables get paid for their work? A. To be sure they got paid when the services were over.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Did he get paid for his services as county constables do? A. No; any fees that the constables get are paid over to the Government.

Q. Was there any refund from the county for that service? A. The county made an appropriation to pay disbursements of another man who was connected with the establishment, but was not in Government pay, and other expenses that the Ontario policeman incurred, and by this man who was working with him, were paid by the county.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. I suppose that $10 you paid him would come under the class of charges that they charge to the Government? A. It would.

Q. I suppose if you will trace that out, the county constables have made these various charges and have sent them in? A. The other men have—the county constables have.

Q. They have all sent in their bills and have been paid for the work, that your man did, and when the $10 was charged to the Government again there is a double payment, first to your constable, and then the county constables. These men play the part of the detective? A. Yes.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. It is not a common practice to call upon you for the services of these constables? A. No.

Q. Do you know anything of Murray's services as detective on the frontier at any time? A. No, I don't know anything of them. I have seen him passing there. He has never been called in connection with anything in that locality, as far as I know.

“S.”

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE,
February 25th, 1879.

J. G. Hodgins was examined as to items upon page 20 of the Public Accounts of 1877.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Have you got the annual Balance Sheet of the Depository? A. No, because for 1878 it is almost completed, and for 1877, which is the last made up, it was printed by order of the House the other day.

Q. You have not the Balance Sheet showing what stocks on hand : are there any details, Dr. Hodgins, as to this item of $35,000, showing how it is made up? A. Yes, the following are the details: receipts for maps and apparatus for school corporations, $10,074.02, received for prize-books $10,591, for libraries $2,768.02, and for text-books, stationery and miscellaneous articles, principally for students, teachers and so on, catalogue prices, $11,567.94, total $35,000; those are the receipts for the year.

Q. Will you allow that to be put in? A. That is a copy of a letter sent in to Mr. Harris; it is not an official document, it is a mere draft. He has the original.

Q. How are sales affected by the regulations allowing school authorities to purchase from outside parties? A. The regulations now in force were approved of by the Governor in Council about two years ago : they are to the effect that if parties wish to buy books from booksellers they fill up a form stating the facts, and giving a list of the books, prices and so on, and that when it comes in it is examined to see if these books have been approved and if approved, half of the sum paid to the bookseller is refunded to the Trustees. We certify for payment to the Treasurer of the Province and send the certificate down to him and he pays it.

Q. How are the sales at the Depository affected by that regulation? A. Very largely. If you will kindly let me have the report laid before the House, it will enable me to tell.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. Has it been laid before the House? A. Yes, and printed—showing the operations of the Depository for the years 1876-7. The effect of the new law has been to take away from the revenue about $5,000 a year. Our revenue would have been about $41,000 had it not been for that provision of the law. Of course it is a serious loss to us, but it is an alleged convenience, although I could prove to the Committee that it is anything but an advantage to the parties themselves.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Would there have been any profit at all to the Department on the sale of that $5,000? A. Certainly, because as you see, Mr. Chairman, the whole expenses of the Depository have been defrayed out of the profits; all the salaries of the clerks, all the contingencies, and all the printing. At the end of the year 1876, when Mr. Crooks had an expert accountant examine the accounts, it showed that there was a clear profit of $70,000 in stock,

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. What is the advance? A. It depends upon the prices and description of the goods: on books it is about 13 per cent. from that to 15 per cent., on the maps it is probably 25, on the breakable ware, upwards of 40 per cent.

Q. How does that compare with the ordinary trade advance? A. It is about an average of 30 per cent. less than the ordinary retail prices.

Q. You deal wholesale? A. Certainly, in our purchases.

Q. What is the difference between your prices and the ordinary wholesale prices?

A. I think our prices are pretty nearly the same as the wholesale prices.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. You do not deal with any persons, only educational institutions, only schools?

A. That is all, and teachers.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. They can be supplied at wholesale prices in retail quantities? A. Yes, these are the ordinary catalogue prices.

Q. You do not regard that as a material interference with the retail trade of the city?

A. I suppose it may be, but it is an immense convenience to the students.

Q. Are your sales much less than the average trade of any one large house here?

A. Yes, I think so.

Q. Some of them have been complaining that their rates have been affected? A. Our orders are not made up in the city; they come from over all parts of the Province.

Q. It does not really interfere with the retail trade of the city to any extent? A. I do not think so, any more than to the extent of $3,000. It is an immense convenience to the schools; if a certain thing is prescribed, not so much the text book as the study prescribed, if you cannot furnish them with the material to get this information; if you cannot they say it is a great hardship; very often the salary of teachers in country places will not allow them to keep such a variety of books; they say "if you prescribe a certain study for this examination, you ought to keep the books there, and give us every facility to get them."

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Would the present regulations permit of an arrangement between the Inspectors and those publishing books in the city here, to get a new book introduced into the schools under the jurisdiction of that Inspector? A. That is just the very difficulty the Minister has to contend with now. There is an immense pressure brought to bear upon the schools and other parties, chiefly by the booksellers, and unfortunately, I think, the Inspectors in some cases have themselves aided in the practice, which is unfortunate. Thus I will give you an example: a man wants to get out a text book, he wants to bring it before the public, and he will send a copy to the Inspector and ask his opinion; of course you all know if a man kindly sends a book and asks him for his private opinion about it, he will naturally give it to him; the aggregate of these opinions are collected and sent in to the Minister, and then he is placed in a false position; his judgment may be against the introduction of that book or the saddling of the schools with the expense of it, and yet all these gentlemen intimately connected with the schools say it is just the book. At one time he had to issue an instruction to Inspectors to be very cautious in matters of that kind, but I think more stringent measures will have to be taken to prevent it; the Department itself and the Minister are the proper authorities in these things; we regard these Inspectors as our own officers, and, therefore, they ought not to express even an opinion privately on any book. I may say that I have been solicited time and time again to do such things but I have never complied; I have never expressed an opinion about a single thing submitted, I have invariably refused. That, I think, is the way that Swinton's Language Lessons, which is, no doubt, a very admirable book, was first brought before the public.

Q. Was it a good thing to allow local booksellers to furnish books at reduced rates? A. It was a very good thing in principle, I confess, and when first put before the Department we could scarcely resist it. The plea was, that it would be a means of establishing depots all over the country in the leading cities and towns for the sale of these books. That is what was urged, and the advantage of it was so strongly pressed that we could not resist making the trial. Having admitted the importance of it, the law was changed, and now I think it is proper for those connected with the Department—as the Minister himself has inquired into it—to see how the thing has worked. Has it accomplished what was desired? I say advisedly it has not. It has not established a single depot throughout the country, the process being entirely against it, and, as many of these gentlemen have told me, they do not keep the stock on their shelves, and I will tell you why: the price of a shilling sterling book to the ordinary buyer would be thirty cents, and if they had to import these books and sell them over the counter they could not sell them under thirty cents, while our rules require them to sell them at nineteen: we could sell them at eighteen, but it was a concession to the bookseller to make it nineteen.

Q. A concession to the booksellers? A. Yes; they complained we were selling the books too cheaply.

Q. That you were exposing the profit that they were getting by selling them at that? A. Yes; one of the last acts of the late Council of Public Instruction was to fix the rate at 18 cents on the shilling sterling. It was close I admit; yet we could do it, and pay all expenses, but it was alleged that we did not pay taxes and so on, and the additional cent was put on. That is the fact; we were authorized to sell them at 19 cents as against 30 cents of the ordinary retail trader; then, I was going to say, Mr. Chairman, that booksellers having to do that, would require to keep books on one shelf at 19 cents for the benefit of the public schools, and the same book, on the other side of the shop, when sold to the ordinary buyer, would cost him 30 cents. They said “we cannot possibly put ourselves in such a position, because we cannot make these gentlemen understand that we are required by law to sell this particular book at 19 cents, whereas to the ordinary buyer we cannot sell it under 30 cents; they would think it is a fraud, and therefore we cannot keep these books.” And then as the depot system has not been carried out, how are the books supplied? The ordinary process is this: when the orders come to the local bookseller he transmits to the head office in Toronto, it does not come to the Department at all, it goes to a single house in the city, and the order is filled and sent down, and the books are never seen by the local trader at all, but just simply handed over to the trustees, while the local bookseller gets 10 per cent. as his profit; they all make a profit. Thus the local depot system has never been established. You see that the effect of this system has been to really create a private monopoly. It was alleged that we had a monopoly: true, we had, but it was a public monopoly for the sole benefit of our schools, over which the Government has complete control.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. That is the booksellers in the city? A. Yes, when you look on the last page here of the report of the operations of the system for 1876, you will find that, out of 7,226 volumes supplied, one half came from one house in Scotland—from Nelson's. If you come into 1877 you see that this plan of supply is more systematic: the number of volumes is 13,683, and three houses monopolize the supply of three-fourths of them.

Q. Is that not the effect of the regulations? A. No, sir. The regulations never contemplated such a system.

Q. How is it? A. The regulations do not touch this particular point, the practice of the Depository has been to keep a variety of books from all the best booksellers in Ireland, Scotland, England and the United States, but the tendency of this new system is to narrow the selection of books down to two or three publishers. The books are excellent, could not be better, but the wide diffusion of the variety of books is prevented, and especially as to the American trade, is gone altogether.

Q. How do you account for that? A. I will account for it in this way: When I went to England in 1867, some of the booksellers urged me to confine our operations to them and one or two other large houses, if we would agree to do so, and purchase from them; they would give us an extra discount of ten per cent. I can go to-day to London and I can get from these men books on these terms, and can sell them to the schools at sixteen cents, and make a profit on the shilling sterling.

BY MR. MERRICK.

Q. What are they sold at now? A. They are sold at 19 cents, and by the trade at 30 cents. There are books that we can buy in England at 45 per cent. discount. I was offered the same books here in Toronto for half-price by one of these booksellers, just because of that concentration of purchase. It stands to reason; you can narrow the thing down certainly, and purchase these books from the trade low, but one of the chief objects of the Depository is defeated. As an example of how far this new system interferes with the diffusion of suitable literature, I may mention that in the trade there are, at a very low estimate in the United States, England and Scotland, about one hundred and ten important publishers of such books as we have kept, but as you see the supply is now limited comparatively to a very few, and the object which we have sought to carry out for very many years is frustrated in that way. So that the effect of the new system has been to create a private monopoly, and a monopoly within a monopoly. That is just simply the plain statement of the case.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. Could you suggest any remedy for that? A. Certainly; but at present these gentlemen are free to do as they please; it is with them a mere matter of trade and they are free to do it; once the right has been conceded to them without restriction there is no means possible to prevent it.

Q. What right do you mean? A. The right to supply schools without proper restriction with books under the statute.

Q. What is your own judgment about it? A. My own judgment of course is in favour of the Depository system pure and simple, because you will thus secure, to the schools, the very best publications and the widest range of these publications at the lowest cost.

Q. Your judgment would be in favour of controlling? A. I do not see how it is possible to control under our present system.

Q. Your judgment would be in favour of the other system? A. Yes, reverting back to the old system; but the Legislature has adopted the other principle; I will just explain to you from these figures how this system works; it is a loss, as you see, of about $5,000, nearly $6,000 in 1877, and the loss will be greater this year, I think it will be nearly $7,000. The passing of the money through the Department would have furnished, of course, the Treasurer with that much additional money, and we would have had a profit on the books sent out.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. The result is not to accumulate bad stock on the part of the Department? A. No, it does not at all affect that question in any way.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. They are all books in good demand? A. The demand is not so great as it would have been under the old system.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Will you explain how the shilling sterling book can be sold in Canada for 19 cents? A. I made arrangements in England in 1867 to get these shilling sterling books out here at such a price, that when we added on the profit of about 13 per cent, we could sell them at 18 cents.

Q. That arrangement is common to all traders in books? A. It has been common with us for twenty-five years.

Q. When a book is published at a shilling sterling, that is the price that the retail man pays for it in England. A. Yes.

Q. And the trade gets a discount that enables them to sell them in Canada at your prices? A. Eighteen cents was the price fixed by the Council of Public Instruction. We could, however, sell them at 16 cents at a profit, if we were confined to those two or three publishers.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. In saying that you could sell them at 16 cents, do you account for rent, hire, capital investment and so on, as well, or do you just speak of your selling on behalf of the Education Depository of the Government, the Government paying all expenses? A. Yes: I entered into the calculation in this way: I could buy a shilling sterling book, paying for it sixpence or sevenpence in England, if we confined ourselves to two or three publishers. In this way, and adding on the additional profit, to cover salaries and contingencies, we could sell them at eightpence or ninepence, or at about sixteen or eighteen cents.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. I understand the effect of that system to be that the curtailing of the operations of the Depository has had the effect of concentrating the trade in these books to about three large houses? A. Yes: as you see in the Depository report.

Q. Nelson's of Edinburgh, Routledge's of London, and Nimmo's of Edinburgh? A. Yes.

Q. I suppose the reason of that is that they are the largest houses, and can fill these large orders? A. There are other houses quite as large as these, such as Warne's.

Q. How is it that they get the trade? A. Because if you go to three houses and say "we will supply your books, and few, if any, from other houses," they will give them to you at such a rate that you can do this. If you order fifty or one hundred copies instead of ten or twenty, you can get them cheaper.

Q. You consider that a loss to the Province, as the Treasurer would have made a profit? A. The Treasurer would have had $7,000 more than it has if this system had not been in operation.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. What system is that? A. The purchase from the local booksellers.

Q. In Canada? A. Yes, from the local booksellers.

Q. Do you mean to say that if they had made all the purchases in England they would have made $7,000 more than in Canada? Mr. Ferris.—He says that the sales of the Department would have been $7,000 more last year if these books had all been bought at the Depository.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. The effect of allowing the schools to buy outside is that these men engaged in the work of getting out new text books have a tendency to force new publications on the schools? A. That the Depository is powerless to prevent.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. Do you think it possible that the maintaining of the Depository is an interference with the legitimate trade of the booksellers? A. Certainly, incidentally, but that is not the question.

Q. Why not? A. The question is simply this: the Legislature pays about half a million of money to make these schools thoroughly efficient, and part of the means of making them efficient is to supply them with everything they need. In the City of Hamilton they have been compelled to adopt this mode, and the City Board of London, in England,—the very centre of British enlightenment, and with every facility for obtaining everything of that kind—have been compelled to establish a Depository such as ours.

Q. How long since? A. About three or four years ago: I think about two years ago it was established.

Q. Where is it established? A. It is established and kept in great efficiency in the City of London, under Sir Charles Read, who is Chairman of the London Board. This, for the City of London—which really does more than the whole Province,—does not touch that question of trade.

Q. Does it not touch it incidentally? A. It touches it incidentally. If the object of the Legislature is to make these schools thoroughly efficient at the lowest possible cost to the country, they must do this thing; they must do it, just the same as the Governments in England and elsewhere have been compelled to provide their own material for the various departments and branches of service, as well as stationery and such things.

Q. What is the capital you have invested in books here? A. I do not think it amounts to $20,000.

Q. How much in stock? A. We have not made it up for last year. From the Depository report, you see that at the end of 1877 it was in round numbers about $80,000; we have not available for sale more than about $65,000 worth; the balance is in the museum, or kept as samples.

Q. Has it been reduced during the last year any? A. Yes, largely. We sent out $52,000 worth of material last year, whereas the parliamentary grant was only $30,000, the balance has had to come out of the stock. We have been very sore put to.

Q. A bookseller was saying to me the other day that the Depository down there was a perfect fraud. I said "How?" I was not acquainted sufficiently with the details of it to pronounce. I said "What do you mean?" He said the trustees will send for a library or for a certain number of books of a certain kind, and the Department will, instead of sending them the books they ask for, send them something like the books, that is to say, they have not the particular books, but will send them what they at the Depository choose to say are something similar; how is that? A. I am glad this person met Mr. Hardy, who is a member of the Government; that is just the difficulty we have now to contend against.

Q. Why don't you say at once you have not these books? A. He has not stated the case correctly; our plan is this: if the trustees of a school section send down for a library or prize-books, as a general rule they say to me in the letter, "you make the selections," but very often they say "Send us such and such books;" the young men get out the books ordered, and then, if they have not the particular books mentioned, they get out books as near as possible to the particular books mentioned, and send a list of the books for approval; that is the process. I confess I am often driven to my wits' end to try and meet the wishes of the trustees in this respect, because our stock is so low in some branches I cannot do it.

Q. Do you ever try the experiment of saying "We have not got the books?" A. A bookseller would not do that. If he is a man of business he would not say "I have not got the books," but he would try to get as near as possible and leave it to the parties themselves to say whether they would answer or not.

Q. He went so far as to say that you send, not the particular books, but others which you chose to say were something similar, as near as you could get them? A. There are two classes of orders sent in, one in which they require the particular books, and the other in which they say "if you have not the particular books, make the selection yourselves," and so particular have I been that although it is not part of my business at all, I have been so anxious to meet the wishes of all parties concerned, that not a single lot has gone out that I have not looked over, to see, for instance, that nothing to offend the Roman Catholics or Protestants, or the various nationalities or anything of that kind, goes out.—things that an ordinary clerk would not think of. I know the country so well, the localities in which the Scottish element, the Irish element, and the Roman Catholic element prevail, and the very fact that there has not been a single complaint that we have offended anybody in this particular is a very complete justification of the operations of the Depository. There was attached to this report originally, about one hundred pages of the opinions of the trustees and others as to the way in which their orders have been supplied, but owing to the necessity for economy in printing it was left off, but I wish I had brought it down to you to peruse at leisure the opinions expressed by the trustees as to how we have filled their orders.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. As the stock decreases, from the decrease in the grants by the Legislature, it will still further cripple your resources? A. Yes.

Q. You will not be able to meet these orders? A. We cannot do it.

Q. What is your opinion about this: would you or would you not advise that the thing be closed up or else kept efficient so as to supply these orders? A. I did make a proposal to Mr. Crooks which I think met the case.

Q. What is your opinion in regard to allowing the stock to run down in the way you state : would you advise that the Depository be kept in an efficient state, with a supply of stock so that you can fill these orders? A. That has always been my view. As a mere business establishment it must be conducted on business principles, you cannot conduct it on any other principles : you cannot manage an establishment of that kind on theory, it must be a thoroughly practical and business-managed establishment.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. Do you think there is any possibility of conducting an institution of that kind upon purely business principles, that is keeping in view business competition, and that you have no such expenses as are borne in other business institutions, such as the cost of clerks, &c. ? A. It makes no difference ; but as a matter of fact I may say that the accumulation over and above every single penny of expense, clerks' hire, fire, light and everything, is a capital of $70,000 ; I say that it would have paid interest, and a portion at all events of rent, and everything of that kind.

Q. Do you think it is a fair sort of business, keeping in view the legitimate trade of the booksellers? A. If you come to that, and leave out of sight altogether what the object of the Depository is in securing the efficiency of the public schools ; if the interests of the public schools are of no special importance ; then I say that as to the mere theory of a business establishment as against others, of course there are two sides to the question.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Is that $70,000 worth of stock all profit? A. All profit, over and above all expenses ; I say if we had only $50,000 after the operations, an establishment of that kind would be a success and ought to be generously treated. You cannot make bricks without straw. It is only because of the pressure of expenditure, and the desire of the Minister, who is very anxious that we should reduce the stock. But you cannot work off old stock without new to work with it ; all business men know that you have got to have constantly a new supply in order to do so. I should be very happy if we would be allowed for two years just simply to use the receipts and not ask the Legislature for a penny ; I would try that for two years on certain business conditions. I think we would get more than we are getting now, we would be able probably to do on the whole more work.

BY MR. MERRICK.

Q. You think that the books are supplied cheaper to the public schools through the Depository than through the other system? A. Yes.

Q. There would be a difference of 16 or 19 cents? A. Yes.

Q. That would be nearly 20 per cent. less? A. Yes.

Q. Were the Depository stopped, it would really be a loss of 20 per cent. each to the public schools? A. There is no question about it ; the operations of the Depository have almost reached a million dollars since its establishment, and that has saved to the schools almost a quarter of that amount. Sir Charles Reed, I think, in talking this matter over with Rev. Dr. Ryerson, as to the advantages of the Depository, pointed to some globes there in the Depository, and said, "where are these going?" The reply was that they were going to the schools. He then inquired how many of these globes had been sent out in the course of the year, and he said, "You will not find in all the schools in England anything to approach the number of globes you are sending to your schools." Because in England you cannot buy a globe under from three to five guineas each, and they are not to be found in the schools, while we supply them at $28 or $30 a pair, and they are all over the country. That is an example. If we had continued under the old system we would not have had a globe in the country. I have brought some maps here that these gentlemen might see what kind of maps are sent out. Mr. Lindsay, the great shipowner, who died not long ago, when out here, was speaking about this matter, and he was boasting about the Irish national maps as the very best maps that could be used in schools. I said I thought we could show him some he would like better ; so we brought some down to him, and he was perfectly amazed at the beauty and clearness of these maps as compared with the Irish national maps, which were the first and the best ever introduced into the schools. This map of the United States—you see a clearness and beauty in that map. Its chief features can be seen almost at any part of the school rooms.

Q. The Department have the copyright of that? A. Yes. We have the stones on which they are prepared; we have $4,000 worth of stones lying by unproductive as saleable stock.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. Are you manufacturing these yourselves now? A. Yes.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. There is no customs duty on your maps? A. No; we save that by manufacturing them. Here are all the recent explorations. I would just call your attention to the fact that owing to the monopoly which we possess we are able to produce these editions so very fast that the alterations in the maps, such as Africa, can always be introduced, and you will find in that map probably what you will not find in any other map—all these recent explorations. If it were thrown open to the trade we would not sell $1,000 worth in five years, whereas we now sell them in two. I remember we got into very bad odour with Sir Edmund Head once, who, having been shown through the Depository, sent for some globes and maps and things of that kind; of course we had to decline, and say, that, under the law and regulations, the supply was confined to the public schools; he saw Sir George Cartier and made quite a stir about it, but Sir George Cartier finally maintained our position, and would not let us supply them; he thought the principle so important that it should be upheld, even if a Governor-General was seeking what he wanted for the use of his children.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. He wanted them for private use? A. Yes; the rule is strictly adhered to.

Q. I want to ask you a few questions about some items on page 96 of the Public Accounts for 1877. You will see there put down “James Green, H. M. Wilkinson, S. B. Sykes, S. A. May, J. A. Sangster,” are those clerks in the Education Office? A. Yes.

Q. They are all paid stated annual salaries, are they not? A. Yes.

Q. What are those extra services for, one gets $100? A. When Dr. May went away we apportioned his work among a number of others, and paid a proportion of his salary amongst them.

Q. I suppose the clerks have certain office-hours? A. Yes, they have office-hours for ordinary work strictly adhered to.

Q. You were able to apportion Dr. May's work amongst these clerks? A. Yes, they are all in his department, and Mr. Wilkinson has had to take home constantly, during Dr. May's absence, a part of the work to do.

Q. Who does Mr. Wilkinson's work? A. He does his work while he is there, but portions of the extra work he has to take it home and do it at night, and Sykes and some others.

Q. That is work that has been done out of office-hours? A. Yes, altogether.

Q. You paid extra for that in 1877? A. We paid that out of Dr. May's salary, there was no additional charge to the country; it has been simply paid out of Dr. May's salary for Dr. May's work.

Q. You mean Dr. May did not draw his salary in 1877? A. No.

Q. “S. P. May,” page 95. “twelve months' salary as clerk of libraries, $1,200?” These clerks draw this extra amount also in 1877? A. At this moment I cannot give you the particulars of that, but it was something of that kind, I know. Dr. May's salary, I think, is $1,400.

Q. Mr. Wilkinson is put down there for $900, and he gets an extra $300, making it $1,200 altogether? A. We made him cashier; I urged the Minister to do it, because of his confidential position, having all these moneys passing through his hands—that is Mr. Wilkinson; I urged him to give that extra allowance to him.

BY MR. GIBSON.

Q. We do not like that; we should have all his services? A. You may not like it, but there are special circumstances now and then which render it necessary; it is a difficult system at all times, but special circumstances arise when it is desirable to do that; in connection with the exhibitions there was a large amount of extra labour thrown upon the Depository which was really paid for by it, which ought to have been borne by the exhibition itself. We have had to do these things; I have had Dr. May and others working night after night in the building and at home to do these things.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. The extra salaries were put down to contingencies—paid out of contingencies, not out of the vote for salaries? A. That was the only vote we had to pay them out of.

Q. Can you tell whether any of these gentlemen, the regular salaried officers of the Department, have been receiving anything extra for 1878? A. They received Dr. May's salary—that is what I referred to when I first spoke.

Q. And so the payment for 1877 was paid out of contingencies, and for 1878 Dr. May did not draw his salary? A. He did not draw his salary except a portion of it.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. What is Dr. May's salary? A. $1,400, I think now; I think it was increased $200 last year.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. And then Dr. May's salary has been divided amongst these clerks for 1878? A. Yes.

Q. They have still drawn their own salary? A. Yes. It should be borne in mind that these young men have never had any increase. Mr. Chairman, it is after all a matter of administration, you cannot lay down any strict rule; I never yet, in all my experience of thirty-five years in the public service, knew that rule to be carried out. I know it has been laid down, but it is never carried out by any Government; it cannot be carried out.

Q. On page 94 I see "S. P. May," who is he? A. He is a son of Dr. May.

Q. There have been a good many inquiries about this colouring of maps; would you explain that? A. I have explained that every year; in two Parliamentary documents which I brought down, the whole thing is gone into. Dr. Ryerson went into the whole thing and gave a full explanation to show the necessity of being very careful in getting these things done properly; in point of fact, I may say to the Chairman, that it is not done by that gentleman at all, although it is in his name, nobody in the office has done the work; it is done by ladies, in point of fact.

Q. You pay them by the piece in some way? A. Yes, at a fixed rate, but it is really done under supervision, the name there is the party responsible.

Q. I see you have charged in contingencies, on page 96, $200 to Mr. Scoble, what is that for? A. A member of the Government can explain that. It was by Order in Council; personally, I have no cognizance of that.

Q. Tell us, what did he do for this sum? A. He prepared a report which was entirely confidential to Mr. Crooks; personally, I know nothing whatever about it; I told Mr. Crooks the inquiry would be made, and Mr. Hardy was to give an explanation here to-day.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. I suppose it would have reference to the condition of the stock? A. My own impression is that it was in regard to the public feeling in regard to the Depository. I really could not tell you: it was a confidential report.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. Where is the report? A. I never saw it. I think the Minister was anxious just to feel the public pulse, and he issued a number of circulars that were confidential to the leading persons connected with the schools all over the country. I think it was a very legitimate thing; he wanted to find out really how they regarded this Depository. I think the result was satisfactory.

Q. He thought he would report to the public through Col. Scoble? A. That was merely the means used, he was anxious to find out what the public sentiment was.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Did you take stock in 1877? A. Yes, we take stock at the end of every year; it is taken now to the end of 1878, but it is not quite made up.

By MR. LAUDER.

Q. I suppose, Dr. Hodgins, you have nothing to do with the regulating of the work of these High School Inspectors? A. No, I have now nothing personally to do with them; there are regulations in regard to them, but I think hereafter they will be doing more than they have been doing, because of Model School inspections; they are now appointed inspectors of these Model Schools.

Q. You cannot give us any information as to the amount of travel they do? A. I can give information about them. I would be glad to answer any questions the Committee may ask.

Q. Are they constantly employed—the three Inspectors? A. No, it does not take the whole time to inspect the schools, because they have a number of other things to do.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Is the whole of their time occupied in connection with their office? A. Their duties are to inspect the High Schools thoroughly: to go there and stay long enough to inspect them, just what you understand by inspection: to thoroughly examine everything, even into the material of the school, the lands, play-grounds, everything about the schools, and see that they are efficient; in fact, to do what a man desiring to promote the success of the schools should do; that is the idea, that when they go there, they should do this thing thoroughly. Formerly it was the practice that they should also inspect the Public School of the locality, as the Public School is the feeder of the High School, and to see that especially that portion of the pupils of the Public School that intend to go to the High School should be duly prepared to do so, and that there should be no loss of time, no break in the studies of the pupils. Under the old regime that was their duty, but latterly it has not been done, because it was thought that the new system of inspection would largely do away with the necessity; and besides, in the introduction of a new system it was feared that the local authorities might think it invidious to do so; however, no such feeling has been expressed, rather a desire on the contrary that the Inspector should come and visit the schools. The Separate Schools supporters have also expressed this wish (especially Mr. Stafford, of Lindsay, who is a very energetic man, and others), that the High School Inspectors should come and inspect their schools. They were instructed to do so, with very great effect, and the whole of the agitation that was stirred up in Toronto, was the result of one inspection of that kind, here. It has been very beneficial to the schools that the services of these men, who are so thoroughly competent, should be engaged to visit them and find out exactly how things are. Latterly I have been strongly recommending the Minister to get these Inspectors to look into the condition of the Public Schools, in all the leading towns and cities, at all events to see that there should be a harmony in the instruction given in the Public and High Schools. I think that will be done.

BY MR. MERRICK.

Q. Do you think the present High School Inspectors could inspect the Public Schools without adding to the cost at all? A. The cost would be immaterial; there would be the additional days in which they were engaged inspecting, but under the new system of payment, that would be simply their expenses. They would just visit the towns and cities and the villages in which High Schools are situated.

Q. You do not mean each department of a Public School? A. No, I do not think they would require to go into the details as much as that, but simply to see what the condition is of the higher departments of the school.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. It is their duty to make a report on every school they visit? A. They fill up a blank form, in which they make the report of their inspection, and if they think it is desirable, add a few words: if anything is pointed out that would be desirable to make a change in, or to call the attention of the Board to, they do so, and it is sent to each particular Board.

Q. That is done twice a year? A. Twice a year; at the end of each half-year they send in a statement of where they have been, and put it in detail. When the question of the allowance for their travelling expenses comes up, it is disposed of by me, and a recommendation made to the Minister.

Q. When this is done, what are they engaged at? A. They are members of the Central Committee, and of course they have to perform its duties.

Q. And prepare examination papers? A. And prepare examination papers. The replies to these examination papers, in point of fact, are examined by a number of sub-examiners as you may see by the estimates.

Q. For intermediate examinations? A. Yes, these sub-examiners examine all the papers and report the results to the Central Committee, and the Committee makes a report upon the report of the sub-examiners.

Q. The report of the sub-examiners is subject to appeal to this Board? A. Well, the regulations provide that any aggrieved party may appeal to the Department and have his papers examined on payment of a fee of $2; that goes into the general revenue. If the appeal is sustained, of course the money is returned; if it is not sustained, the money is forfeited and goes to defray the expense.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. Is the present Journal of Education, called by some other name—the Canada School Journal—furnished to trustees as it was formerly? A. No, it is altogether a private matter: they have to pay for it now.

Q. Was the Journal of Education of practical benefit? A. Having been its editor for so long I may be permitted to say it was. It had this advantage, of course, that it brought directly to the notice of the trustees in the rural parts of the country, where communications are infrequent, matters connected with the working of the schools.

Q. Does the present medium of communication carry out the same object? A. We try to reach the schools in this way: If we have any thing that is important, we issue a circular and send it to the Inspectors who are in constant communication with the schools.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. In respect to that item in Scoble's account, perhaps you could explain that, Mr. Hardy? Mr. Hardy—Mr. Scoble was employed by Mr. Crooks not long after his entering upon his duties as Minister of Education to make a thorough report, to make an investigation into the affairs of the Depository, and to make to him a confidential report upon the matter: he was engaged for some weeks or forty days; he charged $5 a day; he made a very elaborate report upon the entire system in principle and detail I believe, after having made a very careful investigation. That is what the payment is for, Mr. Crooks desired me to say.

Q. What was the object of the whole thing? Mr. Hardy—Mr. Crooks was entering upon his duties as Minister of Education, and the affairs of the Depository were not necessarily familiar to him, he was not familiar with them at all, I suppose. What the precise information contained in the report is, I am not now in a position to state; I suppose it would be as to its management, the manner in which its affairs had been conducted, and the general features of the Depository.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. The condition of the stock? Mr. Hardy—I suppose so.

BY MR. CLARKE (Wellington).

Q. The report appears to have been prepared? Mr. Hardy—The report was a confidential one.

BY MR. LAUDER.

Q. It is a singular thing that the officers of the Department could not make up one of these statements. Mr. Hardy—The officers of the Department had had the management for years, and it might have been necessary for some person to check their work.

Q. Did Col. Scoble take stock of the Department? Mr. Hardy—I suppose that was done as well. Mr. Crooks asked me to state that much. I was in the House and had no opportunity to ask questions; I daresay if you desire a fuller explanation, the Minister of Education will give it. It was a large business, including a capital of $100,000, and I do not know why he could not have a report made up by some persons other than those who managed it. I think it was eminently his duty to do so.

Q. Mr. Scoble seems to be employed upon a great many things? Mr. Hardy—I apprehend my friend will find Col. Scoble a man who has perhaps more information than any one you will find, he has very great capacity for acquiring information.

BY MR. MERRICK (continuing examination of Dr. Hodgins).

Q. Mr. Hodgins, how many High and Model Schools do these three Inspectors inspect? A. One hundred and four.

Q. Do you know how many Public Schools there are in the towns and cities? A. You may take them on the average to be more than twice that.

Q. They would have them? A. If they examined these Public Schools.

Q. You are recommending that that should be done? A. Yes, especially in connection with the Model Schools.

Q. That would make instead of 104 about 300 to be inspected? A. About 300.

Q. Do you think if that system were adopted that the present Inspectors could discharge that duty? A. There is no question about it.

Q. Without employing any other inspectors? A. In fact the recommendation was based upon the fact that they had the time to spare and it could be done beneficially.

Q. You think that the three Inspectors that are now in the employ of the Government could do the additional work of inspecting 200 or more Public Schools in addition to the 104 of High and Model Schools they now inspect? A. I think so, certainly.

Q. Without impairing the efficiency of their work? A. I found the number of days employed in the work was such that they could do it, and the Minister at once saw that it would be very valuable to the Department to get them to make this examination, and for the special reason which I have stated, that these schools are the feeders of the High Schools.

Q. There are three inspectors, that would, in dividing the schools, give each Inspector about 34 schools to inspect twice a year? A. Possibly you are right.

Q. Can you give us any idea of the time they take? A. I think the time has ranged from 90, probably 95, to 110 days each year.

Q. That is for the two inspections? A. For the two inspections.

Q. For each Inspector? A. Yes. I think the average would be 105 days for each.

Q. That the Inspectors employ in inspecting these High and Model Schools? A. Yes, the High Schools.

BY MR. CLARKE (Wellington).

Q. How many school days are there in the year? A. You would have to deduct from that the number of Sundays, and the number of holidays. There are about 250 school days.

BY MR. MERRICK.

Q. Then for the residue of the year, at what are they employed? A. They have been largely employed in Central Committee work.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. My friend's question was: how long were they engaged in inspecting the High and Model Schools, your answer was in inspecting High Schools; they have only visited and inspected High Schools this year? A. Yes.

Q. Their inspection took place during school days; was not that the whole time they were engaged in this duty? A. Yes.

BY MR. MERRICK.

Q. The 105 days includes everything, the time of travelling to reach these schools? A. I think that it did.

Q. Including Sundays and Saturdays? A. It includes the number of days for which they are to be paid travelling expenses, at so much a day.

Q. The actual number of days has been about 105 on an average? A. I think so.

Q. How are these Inspectors employed during the residue of the year? A. They have been employed as members of the Central Committee, making special visits to High Schools and other places, which occupy time; for instance, if a High School wishes to become an Institute, we refer the whole of the papers to one of the Inspectors and ask him to go down and visit the place and report fully upon it; that is an extra service.

Q. That would be included in the travelling expenses, and the days would be paid for? A. It is not always thus included, because it is a special duty. You asked me in regard to the ordinary inspection of the High Schools. If a locality wishes a High School it is not granted without inquiry as to the condition of the place, and the possibility of a High School being made efficient there, and the Inspector has to inquire into that.

Q. Have they much of that work to perform? A. Not a great deal, probably three or four such cases a year.

Q. In the year 1877 have you any idea as to the number of days they were employed extra at that particular work? A. I think probably ten days.

Q. That would make the average work about 115 days? A. I think that would be quite at the outside of the number of days employed in inspecting.

Q. It would be, if anything, at the outside? A. I think so; I think 115 would be fairly all of the days so employed.

Q. Now, they perform other duties; that is, they prepare examination papers? A. Yes.

Q. About what time do they employ at that? A. I can form no idea, because the papers are prepared by them and sent in to the chairman of the committee, and I do not see them until they come to me to be printed. I have not the slightest idea.

Q. What I want to arrive at is how the residue of the time is occupied by them, what they are doing. You have now said that they could assume greater responsibilities, and inspect some 200 and odd Public Schools in addition to the services they now render, and not impair their efficiency in any way? A. I may say that the number of examinations are to be reduced, so that in preparing these examination papers, they would only need to do so once a year, therefore the work of preparing these twenty examination papers would not be more than half what it was. I have taken these things into account.

Q. Can you give me any idea as to the time occupied in preparing these examination papers? A. There are twenty papers to be prepared; some of them are very difficult. I cannot tell you.

Q. Ten days? A. They could not do it in ten days.

Q. Twenty or thirty days? A. Thirty days I think would be sufficient.

Q. What other duties do they perform? A. As members of the Central Committee they have to meet statedly four times a year; and then as business requires them, how many times they meet I have no means of knowing.

Q. How long are they in session there? A. Sometimes over a week, sometimes three days, sometimes two days, sometimes only one day, just according to the amount of business that accumulates.

Q. An average session of about three days? A. I think so.

Q. There are other extra meetings? A. Yes. For instance in this particular case, I suppose we had about a hundred appeals coming in from the award of the sub-examiners. As you can see, that means labour in looking over the papers of these candidates; the labour involved in that work you cannot estimate.

BY MR. CLARKE (Wellington).

Q. Are any of these gentlemen in the city at present? A. Not to my knowledge; two of them live in Yorkville; I rarely see them, and the other lives at Hamilton.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. In addition to what you have given to Mr. Merrick, there would be the making up of the reports on every inspection, a separate report on every school? A. Yes.

Q. That would be taken from their note-books sometimes, a document of some length and thought? A. We furnish them with a form which they fill up; I fancy they keep a duplicate of that; they are not very long; of course it requires a great deal of care to fill them up properly.

BY MR. MERRICK.

Q. They are printed forms? A. Printed forms.

BY MR. CLARKE (Wellington).

Q. Are they employed as examiners at any period of the year? A. Yes; at the Normal Schools.

BY MR. MERRICK.

Q. In these returns that they fill up, are there certain stated returns that they answer? A. Yes.

Q. And they express no opinion, I suppose, as to the facts of the case? A. Yes, at the close, the general remarks are always very important, as to the character of the school, its progress, its success in classes, and anything of that kind.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. And the master? A. Yes. The object is really to call the attention of the Department, and to call the attention of the trustees to the condition of the school on which they make certain remarks.

BY MR. MERRICK.

Q. Notwithstanding this, Mr. Hodgins, you are quite satisfied that they could undertake the additional responsibility of inspecting these Public Schools? A. Yes. It is hardly a fair way of putting it: they are on the spot, it does not require any additional time in travelling. If they were to go to Barrie, they would occupy a day in the High School there, and they could examine a Public School in another day.

BY MR. HARDY.

Q. The Public Schools are the Model Schools, do you mean the Public Model Schools? A. Their duty would be to inspect Public Schools, and upwards of fifty of which are County Model Schools.

Q. What I mean is, they might perhaps inspect Public Schools? A. That would be my recommendation.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. You think that they would have time, in consequence of only one set of examination papers? A. They did so two years, I think they could revert back to the old system in that way; they used to inspect the Public Schools in these various localities.

BY MR. MERRICK.

Q. Do you think it possible that two High School Inspectors could discharge all the duties now performed by these three gentlemen? A. I do not think it could be done; for instance, if one of them happened to be laid aside, or could not keep his engagements, there would be but one left, and there would be no means of reaching upon the work; we would have to employ a Public School Inspector, and then there would be a different standard of inspection, and all that kind of thing. I think the practical way is to have these three men; that was the judgment of Dr. Ryerson and all connected with the Department, that there ought to be three and give them this particular work, and not only the High Schools, but the Public Schools in addition. May I just urge one other reason why High School Inspectors should inspect city and town Public Schools; it is this: the towns and cities are inspected by the local Inspector, who is not an officer of the Department; but the County Inspectors are; they are our officers; we can direct them if necessary to inspect a school, and report fully upon it, but the town Inspectors being officers of the board, simply inspect the schools of the board. You can understand that sometimes the Inspector might be ordered by the Department to report upon some alleged defects in the school. The High School Inspector is a Provincial officer and is subject to no local influences at all, and therefore his inspection might be exceedingly useful by reason of its not being trammelled by any local influences or considerations at all, and therefore the object of such an inspection would be the bringing of them all up to one common standard of excellence.

Q. Do you think it would be possible for one of the Inspectors, instead of inspecting the Public Schools in towns and cities, to inspect an additional 15 or 16 High Schools? A. If we had that many.

Q. Yes; would it be possible for one of these Inspectors to inspect 15 or 16 or 18 High Schools? A. In a superficial way. I do not think it could be done efficiently.

Q. Could one Inspector inspect 50 schools in a year? A. I think he would not do it efficiently, for the reason that it is not the mere inspection, sometimes he has got to consult the trustees, and see the teacher in private; he cannot just run into a school at one end, and out at the other.

Q. That is hardly consistent with the view that they are only employed 115 days in inspection? A. As a matter of fact, I do not mean to say that they should not spend a little more time in each school, because a great many persons say that the visits are too short. I think a thorough inspection would require a longer time.

BY HON. MR. HARDY.

Q. Probably their inspection of the County Model Schools will absorb more of their time than the one examination which has been stopped? A. Probably it will more than that.

Q. They will have to make an examination every term, will they not? A. No, I do not think they could do that, because they would not be in the locality during each term, and would have to go off their route to do so; and the School might not be in session each term at the particular period of the visit.

BY MR. MERRICK.

Q. From a calculation I have made, they inspected thirty-four schools, making an average of three days to each school, travelling to and from and inspecting these schools. A. Yes.

Q. If they inspected fifty schools, that would make 150 days they were employed, allowing them the same average? A. At that same rate.

Q. What I want to arrive at is: do you think it would be competent for one of these Inspectors to inspect an additional 16 or 18 schools? A. We are giving him more than that, so that the greater includes the less, we are giving him his proportion of the additional schools. I would not limit them to the Model Schools, my recommendation is that they inspect the higher departments of the Public Schools in each city, town and village where a High School exists.

By Mr. FERRIS.

Q. The feeders of the High Schools? A. Yes.

By Mr. MERRICK.

Q. Are we to understand that they could actually, if necessary, inspect 50 or 55 High Schools? A. Certainly they could. The very fact that we have forced increased duties upon them shows it. The work as members of the Central Committee is lessened, otherwise they could not perform this additional duty at all, and the work in connection with the examinations is lessened.

By Mr. FERRIS.

Q. The duties in connection with the Central Committee would be very much reduced? A. They would be reduced.

By Mr. GIBSON.

Q. Have you many complaints from the trustees in regard to not getting the proper sort of books? A. I think we get probably two or three a year out of the hundreds.

Q. It does not amount to anything? A. No; I am exceedingly particular, if even a shadow of complaint is made, to thoroughly investigate the matter, and not to leave the subject until we see that the trustees are perfectly satisfied.

By Mr. FERRIS.

Q. They have always the right to send a book back if it does not please them? A. Yes. We have printed at the bottom of the list that if these books, even after they have assented to their being sent, are not just what they would like, to send them back at our cost.

Q. They are at liberty to buy from the outside and from the Depository, and while they buy $35,000 from the Depository they only buy $5,000 outside? A. Last year about $7,000 I think. There are one or two items that you asked about, which I would be happy to explain. One is in regard to James Forsyth, he is the head gardener at the Normal School; the item during the year is $332. In connection with that I would explain that he has no jurisdiction at all; everything he asks for he is required to put down on a requisition, and send it to me; not a penny is expended that I do not know of; he cannot do it: he is a most efficient man; and the same rule is applied to the Normal School; the head master himself, and no master in the school, can expend one penny, whether in Ottawa or Toronto, without the matter coming before me, for I am responsible for it, and they cannot expend one cent, unless it is first submitted on a requisition and approved.

By Mr. LAUDER.

Q. It is not passed through the Department until it is vouched for? A. No. Some gentleman asked why it was that there were alleged poor schools in well settled counties. There is one county, the County of Norfolk, which is a pretty old county, and members of the Committee may ask why we made a grant to a poor school in that county. There is a tongue of land called Turkey Point, which is one of those rare cases in which the Inspector alleges that the people are all fishermen. They are poor and ignorant, and as a rule have large families growing up without any elevating or civilizing influence except that which this school affords: they are cut off from the rest of the county. For some years we have been making a special grant, on condition that the township council would grant an equal amount. The whole of that grant is apportioned on certain conditions, and the form here will show how minutely they must give us information before the grant is made. The rule is to make the grant to only such localities have done their very best, and where the township council have made a special grant too, and thus we make the grant in no hap-hazard way, or because they make the application.

BY MR. WILLIAMS.

Q. Where is Turkey Point? A. It is a fishing locality near Long Point. I personally supervise all these details, and am very particular about them. I have had some trouble to deal with these cases satisfactorily.

TORONTO, February 21, 1879.

SIR,—I have the honour to state, in reply to your letter of the 18th instant, that the sum of $35,001.53 referred to, is the amount received from the sale of articles in the Depository under the following general heads:—

1. Maps, Apparatus, &c., to School Corporations at half catalogue prices.....	$10,074 02
2. Prizes do. do. do.	10,591 05
3. Libraries do. do. do.	2,768 52
4. Text books, Stationery and Miscellaneous Articles, principally to students and teachers, at catalogue prices.....	11,569 94
	$35,003 53

The amount $1,428.25 is made up of the subscriptions of Teachers and Inspectors under sections 166 and 167 of chapter 204, Revised Statutes. OFFICE OF ONTARIO POLICE, NIAGARA FALLS.

CLIFTON, February 21st, 1879.

DEAR SIR,—I find upon enquiry that the policemen on the American side of the river at Niagara Falls, get $30 to $35 per month and fees. That the Chief's pay in all amounts to about $1,500 per year upon an average. This is far more than the men in the employ of the Government on this side get.

I have the honour to be, Dear Sir,
Your obedient Servant,

A. G. HILL.

Mr. CLARKB,

Chairman Public Accounts Committee, Toronto.

"V."

TO CHARLES CLARKE, M.P.P.,

Chairman of the Committee of Public Accounts.

SIR,—In compliance with the request of your Committee, I have the honour to submit a statement of my services as detective officer since the commencement of the year eighteen hundred and seventy-six. I find it impossible for me to give the exact date of the minor details of each case, as, at times several cases would run concurrently, and when each case was closed, kept no exact record as to the time employed on any one case.

The following is a list of the principal cases as far as I can remember.

In the months of January, February and March of 1876, I was engaged in the following cases:

Queen vs. James and John Young. For the murder of Abel McDonald, Haldimand County. Prisoners convicted.

Queen vs. James Davis and Charles Mills and others. For the petit robbery at Wellington Square, Halton County. Mills convicted.

Re McKay. Robbery, County Wentworth. Working up case.

From May until November:

Queen vs. Greeney, McFie and Murray. For the murder of Monaghan, in County of Lambton. Prisoners discharged.

Queen vs. Ward. Murder of Mary E. Ward, in County Peel. Convicted.

Queen vs. Whiteside. Murder of Robert Whiteside, in County Halton. Case yet in progress.

Queen vs. John C. Bond. For various forgeries in County of Grey and City of Toronto. Prisoner brought from State of Illinois (without extradition expenses) and convicted.

Queen vs. Burke and McPherson. For the murder of Mrs. Bennett in the County of Ontario. Convicted.

Re Coe. Murder in Town of Cornwall. Brought Louis Kepp from vicinity of Philadelphia, in State of Pennsylvania. Prisoner convicted. Also engaged in looking after passers of counterfeit coin in counties of Brant and Haldimand.

In June, July, August, September and part of October, 1878:

Re George Rose, James Fuller, and others, for various burglaries in Gravenhurst and vicinity. (Large amount of property recovered for owners.) All prisoners convicted.

Re John W. Cesser, Postmaster of Ramsgate, Kent County, for various forgeries, and extracting contents of valuable letters in his care as Postmaster. I have located Cesser in California, but no steps have yet been taken for his extradition.

Queen vs. Dousley. Shooting with intent to kill, in County of Ontario. Prisoner discharged.

Re Milloy. Suspected poisoning of Julie Milloy. Her body exhumed and post mortem held. No poison found.

Also looking up cases of supposed incendiarism in the County of Grey. Likewise, in search of counterfeiters in Counties of Lennox and Addington, and burglars in Haldimand. In the months of November and December I was ill with typhoid fever, and unable to perform duty.

These are the cases as far as I can particularize, many of which have been long and tedious. Other cases of minor importance I have been engaged in at intervals during the different times above mentioned.

Trusting that my statement will be satisfactory to the Committee,

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your most obedient Servant,

CHARLES CLARKE,

“W.”

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE.

February 25th, 1879.

J. A. McLellan was examined.

By MR. FERRIS.

Q. You are one of the High School Inspectors, Dr. McLellan? A. Yes.

Q. Will you explain to the Committee the duties of the Inspectors and how their time is filled up? How much of the time is occupied in inspecting, and how the balance of the time other than that connected immediately with inspecting and the making out of reports is taken up? A. Am I to understand that I am to give the working of the High School Inspectors without reference to what they do as members of the Central Committee? Because a good deal of that work is necessarily connected with the Inspectors.

Q. The whole work of the Inspectors.

By MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. Can you give an idea of the actual number of days employed during the year?

A. Of course I can give an idea. We have about 35 schools each half-year; I suppose on an average we spend about a day and-a-half inspecting these schools.

By MR. FERRIS.

Q. Thirty-five schools for each? A. For each half year; 34 perhaps on an average, or maybe 35. A great many schools are very large now, not only Collegiate Institutes, but High Schools as well, and they require a good deal of inspection, from two to three days; and quite a number of the other schools are quite equal to the Institutes in efficiency, and they require just as much time for inspection.

Q. Dr. Hodgins yesterday said that the whole time occupied by Inspectors at the outside service would amount to about 110 or 115 days in the year? A. I think last year I spent 120 days, and if I had not been ill during the second part of the year, I would have spent 125. If the regulations in connection with the inspection of Separate Schools is to be carried out, it will take longer. I was about 61 days for the half-year.

Q. About 115 days occupied with the inspecting outside,—how would the balance of the time be filled up? A. After we come home do you mean?

Q. Yes? A. Some few days in resting, but then generally we have something to do with the Central Committee, preparing the examination papers. We have a large amount of correspondence in connection with High School matters, Boards of Trustees, and Masters, with regard to the management of schools and so on, and we have a large amount of work to do in connection with the entrance examinations. There are two entrance examinations, and of course we have to do with the preparation of papers and reading of the answers. I suppose there are three good weeks' work each year in connection with the entrance examinations.

Q. Do you prepare the entrance examination papers? A. We do; you may say we do. Some of the Central Committee prepare one or two papers, but they are done under our supervision.

Q. And the intermediate examination papers? A. I may say we do. One or two papers are prepared by others who understand the work we are doing in the schools.

Q. And the Teachers' examination papers? A. We do our share of that as members of the Central Committee.

Q. I want to know what duties devolve upon you during the time you are in the city? A. There is a large amount of work in connection with the entrance examination, preparing the papers for that examination and the papers of candidates from all over the country are sent to us, and of course there are quite a number of appeal cases in connection with these, cases where the local examiners are not satisfied whether to pass certain candidates or not, and we have to examine these cases and report them. There are three good solid weeks' work in connection with that examination. Of course we have our reports to make out. These don't take so very long, but they have to be carefully done, and we have some semi-annual reports from the High School Masters to carefully examine. The masters send in semi-annual returns as to the average attendance and other matters, and we make a separate report on every school.

Q. What is the object of making a separate report on every school? A. It is to give the Department an idea or correct view of the schools, for the benefit of the Schools and of the Central Committee. The report is generally sent to the schools, especially if there are any points that require looking after by the trustees.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. The division of moneys to the High Schools is based on your report? A. It is not based on the formal reports that we send in on each school, but it is based on the report which we make out when we come back. The trustees and the inspectors examine critically all the various schools, and endeavour to come to a fair judgment as to the position and standing of the High Schools. That occupies a large amount of time and it requires a very large amount of thought. We have exceedingly difficult work to do. We have to make five different classifications of schools in order to accomplish that result alone.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. It would appear that if it only required 110 days in the year, that the work might probably be done by two Inspectors instead of three. Would it be possible for the work to be done by two Inspectors only? A. The work we do now could not be done efficiently by two men. When I began in 1872 there were two Inspectors, and the work has largely increased—almost doubled—in connection with the High Schools. The High Schools have largely increased in numbers. At that time very few schools had more than one master, now they average three masters to each school, and there is a corresponding increase in the number of classes, and so on, that have to be examined.

Q. Have you been required to make any inspection of the Public School Department? A. Generally we make it a point, in connection with the union schools, to examine into the condition of them, and to see that the schools are working in perfect harmony and so on. Occasionally, when the public schools in any particular town, do not satisfy the Department, we are required to look into their efficiency and report on them, and in several instances we have succeeded in producing quite a change for the better, in connection with these schools.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. How many schools did you inspect last year? A. I think 103.

Q. What does your inspection consist of? A. The entire work in the school.

Q. Yes. A. In the first place we take down all the statistics in connection with the school as to the number of masters, the number of pupils in the school, and the number of pupils in Latin, and so on; the number of pupils in upper schools and the number of pupils in the lower, and proceed to the examination of the classes.

Q. I suppose the getting of these numbers does not occupy very much time? A. It occupies considerable time.

Q. Why could that not be furnished by a letter? A. I suppose it could, partly. Of course we are acting under the directions of the Education Department. I think it is advisable. It gives us an opportunity to examine the register and see what the state of the school is, how many pupils are present at the time of inspection. The main portion of the time is occupied in the actual examination.

Q. Which takes a day and a-half upon an average? A. Yes.

Q. How long for the City of London? A. I suppose about two days; perhaps over two days. I was two days, somewhat over that time—two teaching days. I sometimes put in an extra hour. Some of the senior classes remain after four o'clock, until five.

Q. You are sure that that duty would occupy 115 to 120 days? A. Taking the Separate Schools into account, more.

Q. Leaving the Separate Schools out. You don't inspect them at present? A. Yes; we do.

Q. They don't appear to be desirous of inspection? A. We inspected several schools in the Towns where there are any Separate Schools in the same locality in which the High Schools are situated, during the first half year; during the second half year we don't.

Q. Have you any office in Toronto? A. There is an office in connection with the Central Committee.

Q. With regard to the correspondence that you say takes place, is that official correspondence. Is any record of it kept? A. There is a record kept in the Department. It saves the Department a large amount of work.

Q. Give me an idea of what classes of things you are dealing with? A. Sometimes, for example, there may be the re-organization of a school required; the advisability of getting a second class Classical Master; and the appointment of another Master, and so on. These are referred to the Inspectors.

Q. Is that not rather a matter of courtesy between you and the Department? A. They naturally look to us, because, from the position we occupy we are supposed to know the masters, and the accommodation needed, and all that kind of thing. It is semi-official at all events, because it would go into the hands of the Department and be referred to us. Of course there is very much referred to us.

Q. To report on? Yes; actual official correspondence referred to us by the Deputy Minister of Education, or the Minister. Questions arising in connection with the High Schools, have to be referred to us.

Q. You say that preparing these examination papers, and examining the answers would occupy about how long for each Inspector? A. I should say it would take us about three weeks—that is the entrance examination papers. In one case we spent longer, but we have got the thing running now.

Q. Deducing all these duties that you perform strictly within your province as Inspector of High Schools, what portion of your time would they occupy? A. I think it occupies all that I am able to give it. I never was run so hard at the Upper Canada College, when I was Master there for some time.

Q. In the year 1877, you were engaged in some other duty on behalf of the Department. I see that you acted as member of the Central Committee of Examiners? A. We call that part of the High School work.

Q. I wanted to exclude that from it, because it is treated by the Department as separate? A. The duties of a High School Inspector, as member of the Central Committee, have to do with the examination of the High Schools, and I don't see that the High School Inspectors could be very well restrained from taking part.

Q. I don't see why the extra remuneration should be given, if the work is a part of the proper duties of the office. A. Before I was appointed as Inspector I was a member of the Central Committee.

Q. You say the duties you perform in connection with the Central Committee are part of the duties of your office as Inspector of High Schools, and I don't understand upon what you base a claim for additional remuneration. A. The High School Inspectors ought fairly to be members of that Examining Committee, inasmuch as they have to do with the examining of pupils in the High Schools of the country, and which they know more about than almost any other party, and the examination is not simply a competitive examination; it is really part of the inspection.

Q. You have been able, in 1877, to devote your attention to another matter—examining library books. I see that each Inspector has been able to do that. How do you account for that? A. We might have been, as members of the Central Committee engaged in examining the books.

Q. There is an extra remuneration for that of $166? A. That was extra work. It could hardly be considered part of any work that the High School Inspectors should do.

Q. The basis we started from was that it took all the time of the High School Inspector to discharge the duties of that office. That would hardly be consistent with your theory. A. I understood from the Chairman of the Committee that you required me to state what time was occupied by us in connection with the work——

Q. For which you were paid; is that the way you understand the matter? A. I understand from the Chairman that you require me to give an account of what we have actually to occupy us in connection with the Central Committee and High School inspection.

Q. No; in connection with the High School inspection? A. I state, in that case, that we have been doing all that men could be expected to do; and I think my work was much harder than in connection with any school I have been in.

Q. Have members of that Board been able to direct their attention to the publication of books? A. I don't think any members have; I have got out a small arithmetic.

Q. You must have been very busily engaged? A. I think perhaps I have drawn upon my resources too much. I may mention that the getting of these problems was comparatively easy. I got them up when travelling from one place to another.

Q. Did you last year receive compensation for services as a member of the Central Committee in addition to your salary as High School Inspector? A. Yes: Dr. Ryerson appointed me a member of the Central Committee before I was appointed High School Inspector, and then afterwards we were permitted to remain members of the Committee, and it was considered that our salaries as High School Inspectors were not very liberal; some masters are getting more than the inspectors.

Q. "Services examining library books,"—were you paid for that last year? A. I am not aware of anything special being paid. We did that as members of the Central Committee.

Q. You received $166.67 for services examining library books, besides your remuneration as members of the Special Committee? A. We examined some; no special claim was made for that.

Q. What was your whole income apart from travelling expenses? A. $2,450 last year: I think we received $450 as members of the Central Committee last year only. The first year I was appointed I had $300. We had nothing at all to do then but prepare the examination papers and read the answers of first-class candidates.

Q. How many High Schools were there in that year? When were you appointed? A. In 1871, I think there were 105 or 106 High Schools. Some of them were small and some had to be closed. I think the Superintendent of Education saw that we could not do the work efficiently, running about so rapidly, and that it was advisable to appoint a third Inspector.

Q. When was the third Inspector appointed? A. In 1873. I don't know whether it was the first year of the new Government or not. I know Dr. Ryerson appointed him. And then of course we require to do something in the way of inspecting Separate Schools.

BY MR. WILLS.

Q. When inspecting the High Schools, do you take any notes of the advancement of individual pupils, so as to see when you came round again whether they are advancing or not? A. We can't take account of individual pupils. We examine the different classes; and, in fact, there is such a number that don't attend school for any length of time, that a great many pupils would have left before the same inspector gets round again. We take the schools in turn.

Q. There is a record kept of the length of time? A. I generally make inquiry as to how many were present at the last inspection and the inspection before.

Q. If there is no advancement you find the reason why? A. Yes; of course if there is, in our opinion, anything defective in the teaching we make suggestions to the master.

Q. Of course sometimes it may be through illness, and sometimes from the fault of the master? A. Yes, undoubtedly.

BY MR. CLARKE (Wellington).

Q. There is a large increase in the number of the Schools? A. Not in the number of the Schools, but in the number of the teachers engaged in the Schools, and in the number of pupils attending them. The Schools are much larger, and, therefore, they require more time for inspection. It is heavy work to be an Inspector. The attendance is much larger, and the Schools, too, of a higher character. There is a great improvement in the modern languages, and in the English Literature and in Mathematics.

Q. Do you find the intermediate examinations doing the work of the Normal Schools? A. To a certain extent it is having a very beneficial influence.

Q. And the character and attendance of the Schools are much improved? A. Very greatly improved. I would like to say, Mr. Chairman, that it is very difficult work inspecting Schools. It is a very severe task mentally and physically. The Inspector has to be thoroughly up in everything; not only in the method of teaching, but he has to keep read up in the literature of the times.

Q. He must have, at least, the education of an ordinary professional man? A. I think so. I wish you to fully understand that 50 days in actual inspection means 60 days, or at all events 10 weeks. In the second half-year we can't begin to inspect until October. The Schools must have a month or two to get started—something over a month, and no man who does his inspection thoroughly can continue to work at his inspection day after day. He has to rest a while, for a day or two.

Q. You can't commence an inspection on Monday morning. Only four days in the week actually to do the work of inspection. A. That is about it.

Q. How many teaching days are there in the year? A. I think we have about 117 in the first half-year, and, perhaps, 70 or 80 in the second.

Q. Of these are occupied how many? A. One hundred and twenty, I suppose.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. The extra services that you are paid for is for the examining of these text books and library books they give out to the Schools, is it not? A. We have a large amount of work to do in connection with the Central Committee and in connection with Model School work, and getting out regulations for the conducting of the Model Schools and Normal School; and the examinations of the Normal School are all conducted by the Central Committee. I never was so hard worked in connection with the Upper Canada College or any College.

Q. Does the examining of these books take up much time? A. It takes up considerable time.

Q. Do you take them with you and read them instead of novels? A. No, I generally spend the time in constructing problems, or something of the kind. I did not intend to give an account of the labours of the Central Committee. It would take some time to do so.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. It would be as well to do so. A. The examinations, of course, are a very serious item. The preparation of examination papers, and the reading of first-class papers, take up a good deal of time. There is a large number of appeal cases, and we have to attend to and conduct the Normal School professional examinations, and we have to have these examination papers for them, and ourselves personally attend to the examinations of the candidates, and then, as I stated, the regulations in connection with the Model Schools, and so on. The professional training of Normal School candidates was to be discussed on the part of the Central Committee, and there is a large amount of correspondence referred to us. We always find something to do when we get home.

BY MR. ROSS.

Q. The preparing of the examination papers for the County examinations, is that under you? A. Yes.

Q. And the examination of the answers and the reports that are sent in? A. Yes; we read the first-class papers ourselves. We do not read the second-class papers. We prepare all the papers.

Q. Except in cases of appeal? A. Yes. We have had three days of appeal recently.

Q. Then you require a regular meeting of the Central Committee? A. We are supposed to have a regular meeting of the Committee, and in addition to that, those who are in town. Mr. Marling and myself do a large amount of work without summoning the Committee, which would be expensive.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. The general work of the Committee would be performed, not during session, but out of session? A. Yes, a large amount of work is done out of the regular sessions.

Q. I suppose the examining of these books would be done, not in session, but out of session? A. Out of session.

Q. Each one of you took a number with him? A. Yes; took his portion of books.

Q. You correct the examination papers that are sent to you from the examiners at the different schools; the entrance examination papers, the answers of candidates from all the High Schools, did you correct them? A. We look over them and revise them and see that the work has been properly done and so on.

Q. Do you find many of the questions unanswered? A. We do not find so many now. Of course, we have got the thing running now, and the work of the local examiners is pretty well done. In many cases where the local examiners are in some doubt, as, where a candidate comes near the correct number of marks and fails of the number of marks in one or two of the subjects, they do not know what to do. They refer the matter to us and we have to decide; and so with intermediate papers. Of course a large number are disposed of. Recently about 500 appeal cases were disposed of. We have to read all these papers ourselves.

“X.”

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE.

February 26th, 1879.

Mr. S. A. Marling was examined.

BY MR. HARCOURT.

Q. There are about 85 teaching days in the last half year, Mr. Marling? A. Yes.

Q. After the summer vacation you do not begin work for two or three weeks? A. The masters would complain if we got to work before the schools were fairly organized.

Q. If you were to go before four or five weeks after the vacation they would complain? A. Yes. A large sum of money now depends upon the results of the examination, so that if we began at a school say three weeks after the summer holidays, the High School would be sure to complain.

Q. It would be plainly unjust. Take away four weeks, there are twenty teaching days gone that you and your confreres give to inspection, that leaves about 65 days in the second half year you would have? A. Yes.

Q. How many schools have been allotted to you? A. I have one-third of 103.

Q. Average about 35? A. Yes.

Q. What is the average number of days you give to each school? A. My average would be the same as Dr. McLellan's, about a day and a half.

Q. Say 53 days? A. I scarcely have given less than a full day.

Q. In going your rounds, sometimes owing to the distance of one school from another, you lose a day occasionally? A. Undoubtedly.

Q. It is impossible to take the schools consecutively? A. Yes.

Q. A day and a half average, that is actual teaching days? A. Actual teaching days.

Q. If you started on the Hamilton route, say, going in that direction, you must lose some teaching days; how many would you lose in the half-year, owing to travelling exigencies? A. I could hardly answer that question.

Q. You must lose a few days, at any rate? A. I try to lose as few teaching days as possible, travelling on Saturdays.

Q. It cannot be done without losing a few? A. It can not be done.

Q. 53 from 65 leaves 12. It occupies about that time during the second half-year for inspection? A. My duties, as member of the Central Committee, summon me to Ottawa to conduct the professional Normal School examination there, and that takes a week.

Q. The reports on your own work each take up some time? A. Yes, certainly.

Q. You keep notes of your work with a view of calling attention to defects in the schools? A. I keep very full notes.

Q. In preparing the papers for these entrance and intermediate examinations, the same difficulty would meet you that met the other examiners: you do not want to repeat questions so that you will have to look at all the questions that have been asked before? A. Of course the range is very limited, and we have to confine ourselves to a certain range of questions, but we must not repeat.

Q. And that necessitates, on your part, a re-examination of questions that have been asked before? A. There would be an outcry if we repeated,

Q. Are you ever called on to consult with the Department as to the programme? A. The programme is virtually the work of the High School Inspectors.

Q. And that necessitates thought and time, does it not? A. Yes, a great deal of thought and care, and time too, for consultations we have with each other and with the masters.

Q. You have correspondence with trustees as to buildings? A. Yes, correspondence in regard to some schools, and especially just now, when it is in contemplation on the part of some County Councils to extinguish High Schools, and cases have to be thoroughly gone into.

Q. How many weeks' holidays have they now in the High Schools? A. From the middle of July to the 1st of September.

Q. If you were to hold the position of Mr. Dickson, of Hamilton, the head master there, would you consider that you had more leisure as a head teacher than in the position you now hold? A. Of course, a teacher has his summer holidays: as soon as we get home from our work of inspection the board work begins. I never had so little time to myself as I have now; when I was teaching I had my evenings and my Saturdays.

Q. At whose recommendation was the third Inspector appointed? A. At Dr. Ryerson's.

Q. Do you know as a matter of fact that he strongly urged this? A. I am simply answering from the reports of the Education Department. I do not know of my own knowledge. Q. Have you visited any Public School? A. Yes, several Public Schools in the Western Division. In the first half year we have some time; in the second we have no time: I regard it as desirable, especially where schools are united, High and Public Schools are united, to form a good impression of the work of the Schools together.

Q. How many conventions have you attended? A. I have not attended any.

Q. The others have? A. Yes.

Q. Do you find any scholars who do not study either Greek or Latin; it is not compulsory? A. It is not compulsory, and a very great number do not.

Q. The programme is much more practical than it used to be? A. A great deal more.

Q. Since you commenced your duties, Mr. Marling, what is your opinion as to the status of the High Schools? A. It has been completely revolutionized.

Q. Much more efficient? A. I think there is no comparison at all.

BY MR. WILLS.

Q. How much of your time is taken up in examining Separate Schools? A. I should say that by the instruction of the Minister we are limited to the months of April and May. We are instructed to visit those schools only in April and May; such schools as are situated in the towns where we were visiting the High Schools during those months we inspected.

Q. Do you take up one-third of your time in these towns? A. Yes, about that.

Q. It is only in April and May? A. Sometimes more than one-third. Only in April and May that we inspect the Separate Schools.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Dr. McLellan has said that $2,450 is what he received last year for his services in connection with Education, in addition to travelling expenses; do you receive the same?
A. Yes.

BY MR. WILLS.

Q. How many days travelling would there be in the year that you are out from the city on these inspections? A. I suppose about 130 or 140.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. That is inspection and travelling together? A. Inspection and travelling together, that is irrespective of the work in connection with the examination of the Normal Schools.

Q. That occupies you a week? A. Yes, very nearly a week, going and coming.

Q. Dr. McLellan has spoken of considerable time occupied in getting statistics with regard to the number of scholars, and so on, in the different schools; what is the necessity for that being done at the inspection; why cannot it be obtained by communication with the Department? A. There are certain reasons for which the Inspector has to deal with these by personal observation; for example, they have to certify that they have examined the register; they have to take the school register and see that at the end of the half-year, and certify that the returns have been correctly made.

Q. Check for the distribution of the grant? A. Yes. For my own part, I generally try to get the statistical returns out of school hours, except as much as is necessary to know what the schools are. Sometimes attention has to be called to the register; for instance, some masters adopt the plan of marking only those who are absent, which is an objectionable plan.

Q. Are the masters required to furnish periodically those particulars to the Education Office? A. Every half-year they send in a return that they certify to the correctness of, in order to the distribution of the grant.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE.

Feb. 26th, 1879.

Hon. Mr. Wood gave explanations as to certain gratuities.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Hughes had been carpenter for the Asylum for over twenty years? A. Yes.

Q. He resigned in consequence of old age? A. Yes, getting too old. He was not obliged to resign, but at the same time he ought to have resigned in the interests of the Institution.

Q. You paid him $600? A. What I wish to state is this; that this man Hughes was a carpenter for the Toronto Asylum for some twenty years. When he became from old age incapable of performing the duties of carpenter, he became in the opinion of the Inspector unfit to perform his duties as carpenter, his resignation was sent, and the Government by Order in Council paid him $600.

Q. Do you know what became of him, what he is doing now? A. No.

Q. Nothing about it? A. No.

Q. Was anybody appointed in his place? A. Certainly.

Q. Mr. McNair, an order in Council was passed paying him $300? A. Mr. McNair was employed as farm foreman some years ago in connection with the Agricultural College, some three years ago, and he leased his farm, expecting that his situation would be permanent. In 1877 when the estimates were introduced it was proposed to reduce the number of foremen, and as a consequence Mr. McNair's services were dispensed with; he was not in a position to go back on his farm; his was a very peculiar and exceptional case and the Government by Order in Council agreed to pay him and did him pay $400; in the first instance the Order in Council was for $300 being half of $600 a year; but upon representation being made that his salary was equal to $800, he having $600, house, fuel and garden, and the Government decided to pay him $400.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. And that settled the claim? A. That settled the claim.

Q. You did not dispense with him for the purpose of paying somebody else a higher salary as in the case of the Toronto Post Office? A. No.

Q. It was simply for the purpose of lessening the number of foremen? A. Yes. The circumstances being peculiar we would have been glad if we could have seen our way to have dealt more liberally with him.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. The next one I find is $280 paid to Alexander Mullen late attendant at the Orillia Asylum, his services being dispensed with, there is no recommendation from anybody for that, simply an Order in Council for $280? A. This is the Order in Council, the facts are not given.

Q. That isn't the way to have a report? A. Decidedly.

Q. Where is that report? A. It is not here; why it is not here I cannot say.

Q. Why was that man paid $280? A. If he was an attendant there and had been in employ for a number of years he would be entitled to a sum just the same as if he were employed at a higher salary.

Q. What was the salary, the recommendation does not appear to be attached? A. I cannot now say what it was.

Q. Can you say that there was a report by the Inspector? A. I do not recollect. I have no remembrance now of such a thing as an Order in Council being passed without a recommendation, always a recommendation and a report.

Q. Would there be nothing in these papers that would show? A. There should be in the first place accompanying this, the report of the Inspector of these things to me, my report to the Council, and there should be an order in Council stating that so and so was done on my recommendation.

Q. Here is another one, to Mrs. Henry Goodwin. Upon the recommendation of the honourable the Minister of Education, dated 14th March 1877, the committee advise that $500 be paid to the family of the late Col. Goodwin. I object to that entirely as being wholly unauthorized, without a vote of the House. A. That is a matter in the Educational Department.

Q. Do you know what Col. Goodwin was? A. Gymnastic master.

Q. Is there any case in which previous to this, a payment of that kind was made without the direct sanction of the House? A. I am not prepared to say there was.

Q. What I object to is the principle of permitting the use of public money without a vote of the House. It appears that Mr. Goodwin received $25 a month while employed? A. He received $300 a year.

Q. I do not know about the particular circumstances of the case, but I object to payments of that kind being made. A. There is a possibility of Mr. Goodwin being there twenty years. Mr. Harcourt—I know he was; he was there beyond my memory. Mr. Wood—I find in the case of Mullen there was a report of the Inspector which was received by me on the 7th September, and that my report was sent to the Council on the 11th October, so that there was a recommendation by the Inspector and a report by me.

Q. The next one is the case of Mrs. Emma Heron, $116.60. A. Going back to this man Hughes, he got $525. Heron was a clerk in this Department, appointed in October, 1871, and he died on the 24th January, 1877, so that he had been a clerk for five years and three months.

Q. When has the House ever sanctioned a payment of that kind without an order?

A. Suppose Mr. Heron had resigned then it would be all right ; but Mr. Heron dies, is not told by his physician that he must die, is not advised to resign, and the contention is that we should not be allowed to grant a gratuity.

Q. You have got a vote ! A. You take any man who is sick and within one hour before he dies he sends in his resignation ; that would be a ground on which to grant a gratuity, but he does not do so, he dies, and his wife and family cannot get it. The circumstances surrounding this case are rather hard. This man was very poor.

Q. I am not dealing now with the question whether it was proper to make the allowance or not, but you have got the House to entrust you with $5,000 to cover gratuities to officers whose services may be dispensed with, but by no possible construction can it be made to extend to cases of this kind. A. You think that a hard and fast line could be drawn in all cases.

Q. Take it here : in the previous session you got an Order of the House in the case of Dr. Landor : Mrs. Davy, an Order of the House for $43.33 ; Mrs. Howe, $43.33 ; Mrs. Black ; relatives of the late Gibson, $75.00 ; Col. Savage, $200 ! A. Yes. In circumstances of that kind, when the House is in session, the Government bring down all the orders for the House to ratify them, when the House is in session ; but when it is not they cannot do that, and circumstances surrounding a man when he dies may be such as to leave his family in want. I think it is fair that the Government should be allowed to have the choice to do a liberal action.

Q. You should ask a vote of the House for that purpose. Here is another one : James Reckle, messenger of the Education Department. A. There was a sanction for that—I think so. When Heron died he had been sick a long time before, and he had not enough to bury him ; he had not enough to pay the funeral expenses, and it would be a difficult case if the rich Province of Ontario, through its Government for the time being, could not be allowed to come down with the ordinary gratuity. What you would suggest is that "or death" should be added to the estimates. If it is desirable that the House should sanction that principle—that the Government should be entrusted to pay a gratuity to a man who resigns from old age, and whose services are to be dispensed with—they ought to be entrusted with the power of paying it to his wife and family when he dies.

Q. I do not suppose that you can give me any particulars as to the length of service of this messenger of the Education Department ? A. No.

Q. There is another : James Henry, steward of the Toronto Asylum ? A. The papers should show in connection with that all about it ; on page 35 of the Public Accounts you will find to Mrs. H. Heyden, widow of a deceased public officer, $300 ; to E. S. Wilson, a widow, was granted, $200 ; A. J. Scott, a widow, was granted, $225, which shows that we are not travelling in any unbeaten path ; those are charged to Unforeseen and Unprovided.

Q. I do not care what was done in 1868 or 1871, or any year. A. Suppose there was a certain sum of money granted for that purpose, and including deaths as well as dispensations, and that money was not sufficient to pay all the expenses that came in, of course it would be charged to Unforeseen and Unprovided. It was the custom then to take a liberal fair view of the situation when a man died, and deal as liberally with his widow as if he was too old to work.

Q. Here is still another case, Ella Henry, $300, there are no papers to explain that ? A. What position did she occupy ?

Q. I do not find any back to that at all. A. There have been papers attached to it, here are the pinholes in the corner. I do not know where the papers are.

Q. The backs are not here, they came down just like that. A. I will lay those aside and have them brought in at a future meeting of the Committee.

Q. There is still another case, of Mr. Beaven. There is a letter attached. If these grants are to be paid, they ought to rest on some understood basis. A. All we require to do is to add "or in the case of death."

Q. The amount of the grant ought not to be arbitrary, nor left to the discretion of the Government. A. The rule is one month's salary for each year of service, and we apply the rule unless it is in some peculiar case. That is also the rule at Ottawa.

Q. They have a Superannuation Fund there ? A. Yes.

Q. John Hughes appears again in 1878, when he gets $200 for a retiring allowance, being equal to a month's salary for each year? A. That is carrying out the principle.

Q. The caretaker in the Education Department received $1,000, is not that a large sum? A. The man had served so long that by one month's salary he was entitled to $1,000.

Q. Take the case now of that carpenter, his salary goes on all the year round. Sundays and week days nearly $2 a day; if he cannot save anything, how can the man who is probably working all the year round for $1.50, and who has to die and go his way? A. In the case of Dr. Ryerson he got $4,000 a year.

Q. That was a bargain between him and the Government. Here is a case of an officer discharged from the Central Prison, and still receiving an allowance. Mr. Langmuir says in his letter that he was dismissed for over-zeal? A. He might have been a good officer. He might be inclined to be a little severe, rather over zealous, but I do not see that you are to turn round and say that because he is over-zealous he is not a person to receive an allowance.

Q. Reading between the lines I should say that the Inspector was under pressure to write those lines? A. You are taking all means on your side of the House to show that there is too much severity in the Central Prison, and we have to watch, and anyone inclined to be too severe, we at once dismiss him.

Q. Here is a man who was actually dismissed, as Mr. Langmuir says he was, because of his over-zeal, and yet he receives a retiring allowance? A. I believe he was a really good man. I know all about him, he might have been in his disposition a little arbitrary, but you cannot cure men of that kind when they get to be fifty years of age.

Q. So you made up your minds that you would dispense with his services? A. His was not a case of being intoxicated, or having committed any crime.

Q. Mr. Powell? A. He was a man who died in this building, he died without a dollar: he had a small pension, when he was living; he had been a soldier, but that died with him.

Q. Do you not see that this course puts you in an unfair position? A. The majority of those persons who have retired are our political opponents, which shows that we have dealt pretty fairly by them.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE,

February 26th, 1879.

R. H. Brown was re-examined as to item “Oliver, Davidson & Co, refund on mining locations $678.50,” on page 152 of the Public Accounts for 1877.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Did you make that up, Mr. Brown, that refund? A. Yes.

Q. Take that $9,000, have you got the communication enclosing that? A. Yes.

Q. Did you get any telegraphic communication from Oliver, Davidson & Co. about this land at the same time? A. No; I do not see a telegram amongst the papers.

Q. There were $9,000 sent with this application for 9,000 acres? A. Yes.

BY MR. GIBSON.

Q. The price was $1 an acre? A. Yes.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. It was $1.50 including the timber. You say this balance is the result. You have credited them with cash on one side, and debited them with the price of the lands on the other? A. Yes.

Q. Have any reductions been made in the price of lands? A. They are all charged for.

Q. All charged at the proper figures? A. Yes.

Q. At a dollar an acre? A. And timber.

Q. The timber does not appear to be charged? A. It is charged there.

Q. I suppose in all the cases where they did not purchase the timber there was a reservation of the timber? A. Yes, a reservation.

Q. How do you account for this balance having remained so long—three years? A. The transaction was not quite closed at this time in 1874; something about lands, although a settlement was made, we never really settled up; even now we are not settled.

Q. Have you got the papers in connection with that $2,500 item? A. Yes.

Q. What was that? A. I can explain. They applied for some lands, and were written to on the subject; they refused to take them on the terms on which we offered them. That is the correspondence to them.

Q. Do you mean to say that you do not keep a letter book in the office? A. Yes.

Q. What is the meaning of that; that is the minute from which the letter was written? A. Yes.

Q. This was an application for the purchase of mining lands, upon which a deposit was paid? A. Yes.

Q. And they afterwards declined to take the lands—the applicants did—and the money was refunded? A. Yes.

BY MR. GIBSON.

Q. The Department imposed conditions of settlement to which they could not agree? A. Yes.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Why were conditions of settlement imposed in this case and not in the case of Oliver, Davidson & Co.? A. I do not know exactly.

Q. The same class of lands? A. Taking out mining lands, no conditions of settlement are attached.

Q. These are mining lands in the Township of Patterson? A. We could not issue them under the Mining Act.

BY MR. GIBSON.

Q. What Township was that? A. Patterson, away up north.

BY MR. MEREDITH.

Q. Will you be able to give us any information as to reductions that have been made in the price of lands? A. Yes.

Q. Is it the practice of the Department to make allowances under the Act for reductions upon the price of lands where a patent is issued, and the payment has been made the full price? A. Yes.

Q. What is the rule of the Department? A. When the reductions are made, sometimes.

Q. First, let me have what the rule is in Townships or localities where the lands were re-valued before the full purchase being paid and the patent issued, is it the rule of the Department to make a refund on the purchase money or not? A. Not in that case. Where a man has paid since the valuation the full price of the lot without knowing that it was re-valued, if he came to the Department and requested a refund.

Q. We will come to that. When a man has paid the full price of his land and got his patent and afterwards having ascertained that his land was re-valued, he would receive a reduction in the same way as if he had not paid the purchase money in full? A. Yes, provided he had paid it since the Act was passed.

Q. Has that been universally the rule? A. No. It has only been some places where the parties have applied for it.

Q. Have parties who have applied for it been refused, and others granted it? A. I think it depends altogether upon the valuation.

Q. How do you mean, upon the valuation? A. If the lands were valued at $2 an acre before the lands were sold, the party does not get any reduction.

Q. What I am asking you is this: where the valuation has been less than the price at which it has been sold has a reduction in some cases been made, and in some cases refused? A. No.

Q. Are you quite sure? A. I am quite sure.

Q. I am told in a good many cases that such applications have been refused by the Department, and on the application of certain members the application has been granted. Do you know anything about that? A. Where the money has been paid in since the Act the reduction has been made. Payments sometimes were made at six per cent. after the valuations were made and they have been allowed to be applied at three per cent.

Q. Have you known any cases in which a special reduction has taken place? A. Where a party goes out to inspect lands where they were inspected before he goes out to revalue them. I think there have been one or two cases where they have been revalued.

Q. What were the original inspectors furnished with? A. They were furnished with printed instructions.

Q. Were they furnished with a schedule of lots? A. Yes.

Q. What did the schedule embrace? A. The lots that were not paid for, nor fully patented.

Q. Every lot that was not paid for and patented? A. Were supposed to be in it.

Q. Were there any cases in which lands which had been patented, the owners were allowed reductions? A. No.

Q. Sure of that? A. Yes. Quite sure of that. I do not think there is one case.

Q. No refund? A. No refund. That is where a patent has issued before the inspection.

Q. Would it occupy much time to take the lands of 1877 and to extract from these refunds those which relate to reductions of that kind, there would not be many? A. Do you mean the reductions since the money was paid in or before the money was paid in?

Q. Reductions on account of the price of lands, all the reductions made during that year? A. It would not take long.

Q. Will you be good enough to have that done? I would like to see if we can get anything to illustrate the principle upon which you are acting. A. There would be more than one.

TREASURER'S OFFICE,
Friday, Feb. 27th, 1879.

Committee met at 11 o'clock, a.m., pursuant to adjournment.

Present :

The Chairman,

Deacon,
Ferris,
Harcourt.

Messrs. Merrick,
Striker,
Williams,
Wood.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The original Plans of the Central Prison were first taken into consideration by the Committee, and Mr. J. W. Langmuir gave evidence in reference thereto, and furnished the Committee a statement regarding cost of the Prison (See Papers "A A." & "B B.")

Mr. Cowper gave evidence in regard to Forest Ranging and Timber Land Inspection. His evidence was taken by short-hand writer, and is hereto appended. (See Papers marked "C C.")

On motion it was ordered that Mr. Crooks, Minister of Education, be requested to appear before the Committee on Monday, at 10 o'clock, a.m.

The Committee then adjourned until Monday, at 10 o'clock, a.m.

Chairman.

“ A A.”

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE,
Feb. 27th, 1879.

J. W. Langmuir was examined.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. These are the original Plans of the Central Prison? A. These are the original Plans.

Q. When were these approved of? A. 13th September, 1871.

Q. Do the Plans show the internal arrangement of the building? A. Not in all respects.

Q. Does it show the internal arrangement of the building, as far as the apartments assigned to the Warden are concerned? A. No. This, No. 3, shows the basement was allotted to him.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. Were these Plans fully carried out? A. These Plans were fully carried out, that is the plans so far as I understand the Warden's house, were carried out. They were fully carried out, as shown in the Plans; one-half was taken away from him; one half of the upper story was taken away from him, as shown in No. 5, in the upper story, one-half of the east hall was not allotted to him, although it was so originally.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Was the hall contracted? A. It has been contracted, by three rooms.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. Can you give the size of the rooms? A. They are all scaled. I have not got the scale.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. They are just now as they were on the original Plans? A. With the exception of those which were taken for the Hospital; the size of the rooms is exactly the same as shown in the Plans.

Q. When was the contract for the erection of that Prison entered into? A. The contracts were signed by Mr. Elliot on the same day that I approved of them, the 13th September, 1871.

Q. What was the original contract price of Mr. Elliot? A. Somewhere in the neighbourhood of $130,000; that is, for certain specified works for which a contract was entered into with Mr. Elliot. I can give you the exact figures; I was not aware that I was to be asked, but the contract was $129,000 or $130,000.

Q. That was not meant to include the whole expense of the erection of that building? A. Not at all. $129,000 was the sum named in the contract.

Q. It did not include the iron cell doors, the locks and the gratings? A. It did not.

Q. The cost of them was, I believe, over $21,000? A. I do not remember the exact amount: the iron work was excluded from the contract.

Q. It did not include either the extra foundations or levelling? A. It did not.

Q. They cost, according to the accounts, about $18,000? A. They necessarily had to be excluded until the site was selected.

Q. That was not part of the contract? A. It was not; it might have been avoided, to a certain extent, if a more level piece of ground had been selected.

Q. The grounds were not selected at the time that the contract was fixed? A. No.

Q. It did not include the sum of $21,000 that was necessitated by the change from the brick to the stone porches for the cell doors? A. You mean the jambs?

Q. Yes. A. No, the original specifications of Mr. Elliot provided that a stone should be inserted in the brickwork for receiving the lock, and for each of the hinges; with that exception, all the rest of the jamb was to be of brickwork. That was changed, to have the jambs entirely of cut stone.

Q. Why was that changed? A. It was changed upon a report of mine, in which I said that my experience taught me that such jambs were continually falling down in other places, and that where there was a great deal of vibration by slamming of doors, as there would be in prisons, the whole jamb would come down. I therefore made that recommendation, it was approved of, and the alteration was made.

Q. He was not to carry drains away from the building? A. Not from the building.

Q. That had to be done by the Public Accounts, at an expense of $15,000? A. I do not remember the amount; necessarily it had to be done.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. Is not the contract in writing? A. Yes.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. Can you procure it? A. I have not got it. That is a matter for the Public Works Department. It is in the sessional papers.

Q. Is it possible to procure the contract? Can you get it now and lay it before this Committee this morning? A. It can be got in a very few moments by sending a messenger for it. It is in the sessional papers of 1875; perhaps that is the best way of getting at it, so that it may be examined by the Public Accounts Committee.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. The drainage was not included in the contract? A. Only the surface drainage; provision was made in the original contract to lead the drains beyond the building, but no provision was made for connection with the drainage system, in order that the sewage might be carried away.

Q. The further item, do you remember whether it was included in the contract or not, viz.: the coal sheds, the bakery, and the laundry? A. These buildings for domestic services were not included.

Q. Was the fence around the Prison? A. That was not included in the original contract; there was no fence around the Prison lot included in the original contract.

Q. And then there was a railway track put into the Prison to enable the Prison authorities to get material in and out? A. Yes.

Q. That was not in the contract? A. That had to be excluded; it was not known what industries were to be established—whether light or heavy industries, and it was not known whether they would require any railways except for the delivery of stores.

Q. Have you ever added up the total necessary additions to the original contract to ascertain what the building must necessarily have cost us by these plans? A. I do not know that I have ever added that up. I remember Mr. Mowat asked me for a statement showing what works were included in the specifications, and what were excluded or not provided for. I remember giving him a statement of that kind.

Q. But I meant what they would have inevitably cost in carrying out the plans by supplying the things that were specified? A. I did make that up. I gave a memorandum of it to the Premier, at his request.

Q. What did that amount to, do you remember? A. I do not remember at the present time. I can get the statement.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. Can you get it now? A. I can, it is on the office files. The original contract I find was let for $129,322. Mr. Mowat asked me to furnish a statement of what was necessary to complete the building, which was entered into contract for, and what was not, and I furnished it in accordance with his wishes. What was actually paid for the iron cell doors, locks and gratings was $21,496.69. That was not provided for in the original contract. The water supply for the Prison was a matter that was not decided at the time, whether it should be an independent supply or whether it should be in connection with the Toronto Asylum. Mr. Tully was not in a position to decide upon it at the time; consequently, it could not be provided for, but afterwards a separate main was put down, but the same pumping house was used, only the motive power at the Bay was increased. This service entailed an extra expense of $12,500.

Q. The levelling of the lands, what did that cost? A. The extra foundations and levelling, owing to the grounds not having been selected before, cost in the neighbourhood of $18,000. The lot was selected for its convenience for railway purposes. A lot more suited for a building could have been obtained, but it was not a question of what it would cost for foundations or for levelling, so much as proximity to railways. That was the only point in the City of Toronto where all the railways converge. As a matter of fact every railway can now enter the Central Prison. For these reasons that spot was selected, although it entailed for filling in and for extra foundations in hollows and matters of that sort a considerable sum.

Q. By whom was this spot selected? A. Upon my recommendation and Mr. Tully's.

Q. At what date? A. The question of the site had been under the consideration of the Government for some time, and I went down to Ottawa with the Hon. Mr. Cameron, now Mr. Justice Cameron, with the view of obtaining the lot known as the Old Fort grounds, which would have afforded almost the same facilities as we now possess. Mr. Cameron urged the desirability of the Ontario Government obtaining these grounds for that purpose, but the Ordnance Department, or rather Sir George Cartier would not concede the points that Mr. Cameron placed before him. Had he done so, the intention of Mr. Sandfield Macdonald's Government was to have taken that site, which would have obviated the necessity for so expensive foundations; but failing to get that, the next best site in point of cost, and for convenience, in fact it is more convenient, was the site selected. If we had gone further back upon the lot a large amount of this extra foundation would have been saved, but could not have railways gone into it without spoiling all the other property. That is the reason why the piece of ground was selected.

Q. And that selection was made at what date? A. That selection was made a very short time prior to the letting of the contract. It was decided to erect the building somewhere upon the lot of 150 acres that the Government owned; but the exact spot was not decided until after the contract was let.

Q. That was determined during that year? A. That was determined in 1871.

Q. Some time in the fall of 1871? A. Yes, after the contract was let the exact spot was selected, in September, 1871.

Q. Before the expiry of the year the spot was selected? A. The exact spot upon the Government's land was then selected.

Q. It was settled before the change of Government in fact? A. Yes. It was settled upon the recommendation of Mr. Tully and myself.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. Is that the exact spot? A. That is the exact spot. I was trying to explain to the Committee that a cheaper spot might have been selected upon the Government's property, but it really would not have been cheaper in the long run. It was desirable to place it there for convenience to all the railways which have a common point of convergence there, the Grand Trunk, the Western, the Toronto, Grey and Bruce, indeed every railway can shunt into it.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. What I understand you to say is that of the 150 acres which the Government owned there, they selected this very spot because the railways would do the rest of the land less damage? A. Exactly, and because it is the most convenient point.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. And on the recommendation of Mr. Tully and Mr. Langmuir? A. Yes.

By Mr. FERRIS.

Q. And these extra foundations were very extensive; large shops, and all that amounted to about $18,000? A. Yes, between $17,000 and $18,000. The gas fixtures for the shops were provided for after the plumbing work was provided for.

Q. That was not in the contract? A. No. As you asked me about the cut stone jambs, I may say that there was a difference of opinion between Mr. Tully and myself as to the cut stone jambs, whether it was necessary or not; I always held that they were necessary, and thought it would not be a substantial structure without them. My observation in other places had led me to that conclusion; the Government had had to repair damages to one or two gaols, the Lindsay gaol in particular, on account of the acceptance of the gaol by the late board of inspectors without cut stone jambs, and the work fell to the ground by this constant slamming.

Q. Were there not some cases where a prisoner had escaped in consequence of picking the bricks from under the stone? A. There were several instances of that kind, but the great objection to the insertion of cut stone for the lock or for the receiving of the hinge, was the constant jarring that it would be subjected to, it would necessarily shake the brick work, which would ultimately give way. In fact there is no substantial prison built without having them. Mr. Tully was of opinion that it was not necessary. I think he afterwards completely changed his opinion. In fact he concurred in my recommendation that it would be necessary to do so. Of course that cost a great deal of money, somewhere about $20,000. As you have asked me about the drains I would say that they were omitted, that is they were not provided for, as we could not possibly tell where they would go. It was thought we would require to have a separate drain, because levels had not been taken until the lot had been selected, and the matter of settling these drains could not be determined until afterwards, and therefore was not provided for; they cost about $15,000.

Q. I asked about the sheds and outside appurtenances? A. At one time it was thought that the basement of the building would answer for all domestic purposes, that is for the bakery and everything of that kind, but it was found that it could not very well be done, and these works were afterwards provided.

Q. At a cost of how much? A. I really forget what they cost.

Q. It was not in the statement you prepared? A. I do not think so. Such as were not connected with Elliot's contract, and which were not specified, cost probably $16,500, that is the laundry, the coal sheds, the bakery, the water closets, etc.

By Mr. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. Were these in the contract? A. No.

Q. Were these under contract? A. They were not under contract; they were afterwards placed under contract.

Q. All these items? A. Yes, these works cost about $16,500.

By Mr. FERRIS.

Q. Did that include the fence? A. No, the fence around the lot cost about $8,000.

Q. And then there were the railway tracks? A. The railway tracks cost about $11,000. I am giving the round figures; altogether they cost about $11,000.

Q. Does that include all the items that were necessary to complete the building? A. If these works had all been provided, it would have been a complete Prison.

Q. That would have made the present cost how much? A. I divide these works into three kinds, that is the iron doors, the extra foundations, the drainage, the gas fixtures, and all these things were absolutely necessary before the prison could be opened; these extra works cost $96,895.69; then the next thing is the machinery. That cost more than was estimated by $36,000, but that of course could not be determined until the industry was settled upon. No Government or set of officials could say what the machinery would cost until they were told what machinery was to be used. The next class of works was the out-buildings, railway tracks, fences, etc., some of which might have been dispensed with to a certain extent; you might have covered the coal over with boards, but in order to make the prison complete, they also became necessary, and cost $36,000. Adding these three classes of works to the original contract awarded to Mr. Elliot, it would come to $298,216.65.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. That includes the machinery? A. Yes.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. That would make it ready for being opened? A. It would make it ready for being opened for the ear works. The machinery, although, I think ought to be excluded from the calculation, because it has really nothing to do with it. The trade might have been shoemaking, when you would not have required any machinery at all, or some other works in which no machinery of any expensive character would be required.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. The machinery amounted to $36,000? A. Yes.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. What was the capacity of the prison under this contract? A. The prison was intended for 250 prisoners, although nominally for 275, that is, if we had what is called "doubled up," it would have accommodated 275, but really the structure originally was only intended for 250 prisoners. It can now accommodate 336.

Q. That rendered necessary the building of another wing? A. It was not another wing. It was a question at one time whether 250 prisoners would be obtained for the Central Prison by direct sentence or by removal from gaols, although there was never a doubt in my mind but what a very much larger prison would be necessary. In my report of 1872, I think it was the increase in committals, and sentences for long periods had so vastly increased that I recommended that inasmuch as the foundations were in, and as the roof, at the same cost, had to be put over the structure, it was just as well to put up another tier of cells so as to increase the capacity to 336. The Government of the day concurred in my recommendation and put on that extra tier of cells. So that it was not a wing, it was simply putting on another tier of cells.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. Did that build it, as it were, a story higher? A. Yes. As you are aware, the cell-work is within the prison outside walls; it made that cell-work one story higher.

Q. What was the amount of the cost on the outside? A. The whole extra cost was $27,000, that is outside and in. It was just a question outside of eight feet of brickwork with the bulls-eyes for windows.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. I see you furnished the Attorney-General a statement in 1873? A. That is the statement I furnished the Attorney-General in 1874. I am not prepared to say that the $27,000 did include the external wall; I notice here that it was 84 additional cells that cost $27,000; I rather incline to amend the statement and say that that was the cost of the cell-work alone, and I rather think that the cost of the walls, the external 8 feet was not included in that $27,000.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. Would you be prepared to say what that did amount to? A. It did not affect the main building, it only affected the wings in which the cells are; I should say that it would not cost over $5,000 or $6,000, but Mr. Tully can best speak on that point.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. That would bring the whole cost of the Central Prison to what? A. That was not included in the original contract.

Q. Do you know whether it was or was not a part of the conceived system in the establishment of the Central Prison to establish more than this one? A. My original recommendation to the Government was that three prisons should be established, one in the east, one in the centre, and one in the west; that was the original scheme. It is referred to in my first, second, third, and fourth Reports.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. Do you know the intention of the Government of the day? A. The intention of the Government was to carry that out.

Q. How do you know that? A. I presume the best proof was that they introduced a Bill in which they asked for three.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. Have you a copy of that Bill? A. No. I recollect distinctly it was introduced.

Q. Did the Act pass in that shape? A. The original Bill which was introduced into the Legislature was for three Central Prisons, three District prisons. It was afterwards called the Central Prison.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. That was before they determined to build this one? A. Afterwards. My recommendation was for three District Prisons, for the east, centre, and west, and Mr. Sandfield Macdonald concurred in that to a very great extent, and introduced a Bill for three, but the expression of opinion in the Legislature was somewhat opposed to that, and the Bill was withdrawn that session.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. The country was not ripe? A. It was quite ripe. I think they were as much required as the Central Prison.

Q. It was not ripe for the three? A. He afterwards provided for one Central Prison.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. I asked you whether the Bill was brought in before or after the letting of this contract? A. Before it. That Bill was brought in in 1869, I think.

Q. Then you don't know whether there was any intention on the part of the Government of the day not to build two others if they had built this one? A. On the contrary, I think, Mr. Macdonald's intention was to go on with the three.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. They abandoned that, and adopted this one? A. I recommended the Premier (Mr. Macdonald) to abandon the three, and centre them in one, because I saw it was very likely that the whole scheme would be defeated if he went on with the three, but the original intention was to have three District Prisons, one in the east, one in the west, and one in the centre. I may state to the Committee, if it is thought desirable, the reasons that I urged for three. It would have saved to the country, to a very considerable extent, the expenditures upon the common gaols of the Province, that were then, in very many instances, in very bad condition. The object was simply to place these gaols in such a state as to make them safe places of custody for prisoners awaiting trial, but the moment they should receive sentence they should be removed from the common gaols into one of the District Prisons.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. Would these District Prisons have been constructed and carried on on such an extensive scale as this one Central Prison? A. No, not quite so extensive. It was not intended that they should be so extensive as this one. The recommendation for that was this: that the Government should make a certain appropriation for the Prison—that is, for the cells, and for all the necessary structures connected with the first expense and the custody of the prisoners, and that all the rest of the works in the way of shops, walls surrounding them, fences and things of that kind, should be built by prison labour. That was part and parcel of the scheme.

BY MR. MERRICK.

Q. The cost would have been very small? A. Not very small. I fancy they would not have cost over $220,000 or $225,000.

Q. The three? A. Not at all, each. You take the construction of a Prison, the iron work, the brick, and all that, and you will find the cost per cell is generally about $1,000. It may be reduced somewhat by using prison labour.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. A great deal of the work,—the principal part of it, has to be done by skilled labour? A. A large proportion of it.

BY MR. MERRICK.

Q. What the Government said was that the cost would be $100,000 for each of these institutions? A. I do not remember about that.

Q. Was that the impression at the time? A. My statement was, and I fancy any statement made would be based upon it, was that in the first place an appropriation of $125,000 would be required, that is in order to provide the actual premises required.

Q. I remember the discussion quite well. A. I can give you the report, and it will show that it was $125,000.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Your appropriation for the original contract for the present one was only $129,000? A. The appropriation, I think, was $130,000; the contract price for it was $129,000.

Q. That was for the contract entered into? A. For the work specified.

Q. It must have been very largely increased from the original idea? A. Yes.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. The original idea was only 350 cells? A. I think it was mentioned in the estimates at 275.

Q. Your present accommodation is how much? A. 336.

BY MR. WILLIAMS.

Q. You never provided for these extra locks? A. I did not provide at all, Mr. Tully did not make any provision. There was no provision for that, for as a matter of fact, it was not known how these things would be done. They might have been done by prison labour.

Q. Do you say that that wall was built for $6,000 around the prison? A. $8,000 that wall cost.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. Is this your statement? A. That was the statement I gave to the Premier.

Q. This is a statement by you of the original scheme for the building of the Central Prison? A. Not exactly that.

Q. It is headed "Original Scheme?" A. What the original scheme would be.

Q. Is it one document all the way? A. I think it is connected all through if I recollect right: it is the Central Prison original scheme as introduced by Mr. Sandfield Macdonald. That includes the cell work. In order to provide accommodation for a good number of prisoners, you would require a quarter of a million for material, even if all the labour was done by the prisoners.

Q. What is this, Mr. Langmuir? A. Total cost up to the time of making my statement.

Q. Yes, payments to the date of the statement total cost $406,343? A. That was the actual cost on December 29, 1874. In the Public Accounts of the present year you will find the exact cost of the Central Prison given.

Q. The total cost? A. Yes.

Q. I do not think you will find it in 1877. A. It is certainly 1875.

BY MR. CLARK (WELLINGTON).

Q. There is a comparative statement showing the cost of each of the public institutions in the Public Works Department report? A. That is the one I had reference to.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. Are these plans which you produce the original plans and specifications of the Prison to be built for which the contract was let in September 1871? A. These are; yes.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Was that the bill introduced? A. It was.

Q. At what session? A. Session of 1868.

Q. Will you read the preamble of the bill. A. "Whereas from defective construction, insufficient accommodation, both as regards internal arrangements, and exterior surroundings; the entire absence of the means of enforcing hard labour; the want of an adequate staff of officers, and other causes, it is found that the common gaols of this Province, and the present system of prison administration has little, if any, deterrent or reformatory influence on criminals, and whereas it is expedient to remedy these and other defects, and at the same time make provision for more effective discipline, a better classification of prisoners, as well as for their religious and secular instruction, by the establishment of a new class of prisons, of a character intermediate between the Common Gaols and the Dominion Penitentiary, therefore Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, enacts as follows:"

Q. Read the first section.

A. 1. "The Lieutenant-Governor may purchase and acquire for the public use of the Province, in two or more suitable places within the Province, all such lands and real estate as may be necessary for the purposes of this Act; and may cause to be erected thereon, at each of the said places, proper and suitable buildings, to be known as Central Prisons, to be used for the reception, confinement, employment and reformation of such criminals or offenders as are hereinafter mentioned."

Q. Read the second section.

A. 2. "For the purposes of this Act the various counties of this Province shall be formed or divided into groups of counties, to be called Districts, one of which Districts shall be attached to or connected with each of the said Central Prisons."

Q. Read the third section.

A. 3. "The group of counties to form every such District shall be arranged and settled by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, and the said several Districts shall contain as nearly as practicable an equal population, according to the last decennial census; and the said Prison shall be called 'The Central Prison of the District,' as the case may be."

Q. That was introduced by whom? A. By Mr. Sandfield Macdonald.

Q. Was that bill ever in Committee? A. I cannot tell.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. Who drew the bill? A. The bill was drawn by myself, and by Mr. Shuter Smith. The preamble of the Bill is entirely mine.

Q. And the first clause? A. The first clause, I think, is Mr. Smith's. We were both together when the subject was submitted to Mr. Sandfield Macdonald.

Q. Who was Shuter Smith? A. He was clerk of the Executive Council.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. Was any clause carried in Committee. A. I find opposite the first three sections "Carried, M. C." I think that was Mr. McNeill Clarke. I never saw the bill before.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. Did that bill become law? A. It did not. It was withdrawn after discussion in the House. I do not know at what stage of the discussion it was withdrawn, there was a great deal of opposition to it at the time.

BY MR. CLARKE (WELLINGTON).

Q. That bill was read a second time; the principle was adopted by the Legislature before it went into Committee? A. What I remember is this: I was present when the bill was brought up for a second reading in the House; it was on the second reading or some stage of it that the discussion took place at which adverse opinions were expressed by a great number of the members.

Q. Will you read the endorsement on the back? A. First reading, 1st December, 1868; second reading, 4th December, 1868; reported progress, December 9th, 1868; dropped, 23rd January, 1869. Signed by Charles T. Gillmor.

BY MR. STRIKER.

Q. Some of the counties had, in fact, built new gaols? A. It was considered a strong point at the time. The first scheme was intended to obviate a great deal of the building of new gaols.

BY MR. DEACON.

Q. Have you any plans Mr. Langmuir, other than these, of works that have been erected since? A. No, I have not. I do not see them here.

Q. Are there any? A. There were, certainly, other plans.

Q. I understood you to say that these are plans on which the contract was let? A. Yes, in September, 1871.

Q. Have there been plans of additional works for the Central Prison prepared since? A. There were. They must be in the Public Works Department.

Q. There were other plans? A. Yes.

Q. On which contracts were let? A. On which contracts were let, for the works I speak of.

Q. For the works you speak of in your statement given to the Attorney-General? A. Yes.

Q. In this statement do you arrive at the figures by taking the contract prices of the additional works, or what the additional works cost? A. What the additional works cost as given in the Public Accounts.

Q. Then these are not the contract prices? A. In some cases they are not; in some cases they are; in other cases they were done by day's work.

Q. The others that were done by contract you have taken what the work cost, not what the party agreed to do it for? A. I have taken the cost of these extra works as specified in that memorandum, as being the actual cost.

Q. Irrespective of what the contract price was? A. Irrespective of what the contract price was.

Q. I am speaking now of subsequent contracts. A. I have taken the actual cost. For instance actual cost of the iron work, the iron doors, the gratings overhead, the locks and everything, was $21,496.69.

Q. That was under contract? A. That was under contract.

Q. Whose contract was that? A. It was given to Hennessy of Hamilton, and Lawlor of Toronto, the parties specified there. It might have cost a little more.

Q. I thought you said you took these figures from the actual cost as shown in the Public Accounts? A. They are.

Q. Irrespective of the contracts? A. Yes.

Q. This item is Hennessy's contract? A. Yes.

Q. Was that $21,496.69 the price for which he agreed to do his work? A. I do not think it was.

Q. Is it more or less than the contract price? A. I think it is more. The reason why I think so is because there was some of the locking arrangements put in afterwards.

Q. With whom were the contracts made for the additional work? A. There were Hennessy and Lawlor—the others I really cannot tell.

Q. Who was the one for the drains and water supply? A. Dickey, Neill & Co., were for the water supply to a large extent.

Q. Where will I find this $21,000 contract? A. There is Hugh Hennessy's, that gives the locks; there is Lawlor's, and then there is another man here, these three contracts and some other small ones amount to $21,496.69.

Q. The water supply contract was for $12,500? A. There might have been extras in connection with that.

Q. Lawlor's contract was only for $19,000, and it ran up to $21,000? A. No, Lawlor's was just for one particular kind of lock.

Q. I thought that you said Lawlor's amounted to $12,000? A. I said that the iron cell doors, locks, gratings, gates and all the iron work cost $21,496.

Q. They are all here, the iron contracts in connection with the Central Prison? A. Yes. A good deal of the work that I have mentioned was work performed by Mr. Elliot, who was the contractor.

Q. The whole thing is paid for? A. It is, sir.

Q. These are the sessional papers. The contracts are there? A. There is a good deal of information there as to the cost. I think this all went to Elliot, who did a good deal of the work himself, although not contracted for in the specifications, but was afterwards settled by the Public Works Department.

CENTRAL PRISON.

The original scheme, as indicated by the Bill introduced by Mr. Sandfield Macdonald but which was withdrawn upon the second reading, was for two or more Central Prisons to be placed in the east, centre and west of the Province. These prisons would probably have cost, fully equipped, $225,000 each.

The cost of the present Central Prison, up to 31st December, 1874, was $426,395.43.

The following analysis shews how that sum was expended:—

- 1st. Amount of original contract, given to John Elliott, for the main building and wings, 2 shops, a warehouse, and part of the yard walls amounted to $129,321.00.

2nd. The following works connected with the above buildings were not provided for in Elliott's contract, but until they were, the Prison could not be used:—
Iron cell doors, locks, gratings, gates, &c., afterwards let by contract to Hennessy, Lawlor & Wilkie	$21,496 69
Water supply and its connections let to Dickey, Neill & Co	12,500 00
Extra foundations and levelling, not specified owing to sites not having been selected before plans ready, allowed to John Elliott, and valued by Mr. Sheard	18,000 00
Gas fixtures for shops	1,802 00
Cut stone jambs for cells and windows, in place of brick, with a stone inserted for hinges and fastenings, allowed to John Elliott, upon the valuation of Mr. Sheard	21,000 00
Drains and other excavations and extras not provided for in the Elliott contract, but for which an appropriation was taken in 1872	15,321 00
Superintendence do do	3,275 96
Internal structures and other works, omitted in main buildings and wings, and afterwards allowed	3,500 00
		<hr/> 96,895 65
3rd. Furnishing machinery and land for which appropriations were voted in 1871	36,000 00
		<hr/> 36,000 00
4th. Structures and works not connected with Elliott contract, and which were not specified in it, but which had to be provided before the Prison could be used, viz: laundry, coal-shed, bakery, water-closets, &c	16,500 00
Fence round Prison lot, roads, grading, &c.	8,500 00
Railway tracks and wall extension	11,000 00
		<hr/> 36,000 00
Making the total of the work omitted from the original contract with Elliott, and which had to be provided for before the Prison could be used		168,895 65
To which must be added the amount of Elliott's contract		129,321 00
		<hr/> 298,216 65
These figures shew that the Prison under the first contract could not have been constructed for less than
5th. 84 additional cells recommended by the Inspector, inasmuch as no extra expense, except for the masonry and iron work, would be incurred, the extent of foundation and roof not being increased thereby. These cost about	27,000 00
6th. Damage done by storm, which had to be repaired at a cost of	13,000 00
7th. Prison clothing, charged in capital account, should have been charged in maintenance account	4,500 00
		<hr/> 44,500 00
Carried forward		<hr/> $342,716 65

Brought forward $342,716 65

The above figures shew how $342,716.65 were expended, leaving $83,678.78 still to be accounted for as follows:—

When the trades were determined upon, it became necessary to complete the shops and grounds to suit them, to accomplish which the following expenditures had to be incurred:—

The warehouse was converted into a foundry, at an expense of about	$11,000 00
The south shop had to be altered and strengthened ..	7,000 00
The north shop do do do ..	5,000 00
Extra railway track had to be laid	6,000 00
2 frame sheds were built and fixtures placed in them	8,600 00
Frame fence round lumber yard	2,500 00
Fans, hoists, and other fixtures	7,000 00
Additional furniture and furnishings	5,909 00
Shafting, pulleys, cranes, cupolas, foundations, &c., in addition to the $23,000 voted by the Macdonald Government for machinery	18,344 00
Extra superintendence and all other charges	12,325 78
	83,678 78
Total cost of Prison		$426,395 42

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE,
Feb'y 27th, 1879.

G. B. Cowper was examined as to items on page 143 of the Public Accounts for 1877.

BY MR. STRIKER.

Q. On page 143 of the Public Accounts there are large amounts marked paid to different men; what do they do, any one of them: Mr. White, Mr. Russell, any of those? A. They are all the same. These are superintending rangers, and the rest are under them. The superintending rangers are William Russell, Freeman, and McWilliams; they have each a number of men under them, some four; McWilliams has got four men under him; and William Russell has got four men under him; they are away up the Ottawa, ranging through the whole country, and inspecting the operations that are being carried on, and see that where private lands are mixed up within the limits of licensed lands, that they do not cut timber on the licensed lands or trespass on private lands. They have to have a complete and continuous supervision over the limit holders, and where lands are thickly taken up it is very much more troublesome, and requires more attention than the large licensed limits where the lands are not sold or located, because it is very easy to get an account of those where they are not. They have to go through every shanty several times a season, and they have to go to the skidways and make sample measurements so as to correct the returns of the cullers, when they come in; they collect the returns from all the foremen and cullers throughout the country, they send them in and we check these sworn returns with the reports of the rangers so as to arrive at a knowledge that the Government is not defrauded in its revenue.

BY MR. FERRIS.

Q. It is a comparatively new system, this? A. No, it was instituted in 1869, and '70, '71, '72, '73, it was growing up into a more perfect system.

Q. In 1874 you seem to have organized it into a branch of the service itself? A. Yes. In 1873 and 1874 there were $18,000 a year appropriated for that: we then got it so systematized and the country got so firmly under the impression that they could not do anything that was wrong from the attention that was paid to the operations and work, that we found it could be reduced, and we reduced not only the number of parties, but we curtailed the time that they were out, and found that we could do it for $14,000.

Q. What is the principal duty in the interests of the Department that these officials perform? A. The principal thing is to see that timber is not passed upon private lands that has been cut on lands subject to dues: that is the principal object.

Q. Before this system of wood ranging was adopted, that kind of thing was done? A. It was continually being done: the first year we instituted ranging, in 1871 or '72 I think, in the Belleville District alone the dues rose from about $40,000 from the previous year to $73,000, if I recollect right.

Q. In consequence of the inspection? A. In consequence of the increased vigilance of looking after what was being done in the woods. Previous to that agents went here and there, and they simply accepted a return by any one who brought it in, that they cut so much on a certain limit, they tendered that return, and there was no certain knowledge as to whether it was right or wrong, but subsequent vigilance that was applied to the work showed that there must have been a great deal of error.

Q. They discovered the fact that people cut timber on Crown lands and passed it off as having been cut on patented lands? A. Yes, and the assumption is that they did not return what they had actually cut.

Q. So that not only was the revenue being defrauded, but license holders were being placed at a discount? A. The falling off was such that there must have been something wrong with the license holders themselves. There was no check at all. We could not say "That return is wrong;" the agent had to take it right or wrong, but the effect of the ranging after we got it going thoroughly, was that in one agency the receipts rose from $40,000 the previous year to $73,000; the increase when the ranging got fully under way, showed that there must have been something wrong all over.

Q. Would that increase be caused by any inflation of trade that year? A. No. There might be a little of it attributable to a small increase in the dues, but it was so trifling that the amount could not be large.

Q. It would not be attributable to a larger amount of timber being got out that year?

A. No. It could not be attributable to the increase of the charge or dues either, because that was in 1869; that took place in April, 1869, that affected 1869, '70, '71, '72, '73 as well: '72 and '73 we had wood-ranging thoroughly gone into, and, as I say, in one agency it rose from $40,000 to $73,000, in the western district it rose from $10,000 in 1867 and 1868 to something like $80,000, I think, next year.

Q. So that it is most unsafe now for a man to make an affidavit that he cut timber on certain lands while he cut it on some other lands? A. Very unsafe, for this reason, that rangers, if there is any suspicion of the return not being correct, and they take all notes and examinations, can go and examine and inspect the lots themselves, any suspected portion.

Q. Have you ever had occasion to bring any person up for making such returns as that? A. No.

Q. You have drawn their attention to it? A. We have found a shortage, but not evidently with any intention to deceive. We have a mode of examination, that when an examination is made, if there is anything over and above what they have actually returned, the cost of the inspection falls upon the party, and that is another reason that makes them careful: they are made to pay the cost of the inspection if they are found to be in the wrong. There is a great deal of that $13,000 mentioned there, that consists of charges for special services at the instance of licensees. We send the rangers out when there is any lots they want to get examined and put under license. We send rangers to do it in order to know the condition of the lot, if it is one sold or located; if it is not settled or occupied we cancel the sale, if it is an old sale, and put lands under a license, and get a revenue from the timber: in cases of that kind we charge the parties; there is a number of items of that sort that the parties have paid.

Q. Part of this will be returned in that way? A. The expenditure is there, but the payments that have been made are charged to revenue.

Q. The expenditure shows the gross expenditure, but it does not show the revenue returned? A. It does not show any deduction by way of payments received for outlay.

Q. And the payments would appear as revenue? A. All payments appear as revenue collected, we have no other name to give it than just passing it to revenue.

Q. You are head of the Woods and Forests Department? A. Yes.

Q. And these men are directly under your control, that is, all these wood rangers? A. Yes, they are all under my instructions generally, and they have to apply to headquarters if anything special happens that they don't know how to do.

Q. Do they report to you regularly as to their operations? A. There is no necessity for that. They carry diaries and note every day where they are, so that we know where they are, and they have to swear to them if necessary.

Q. You examine these diaries and see if they have been engaged in wood service? A. Yes, some of them send them in sworn to. They are all made aware that if it is required they will be made to swear to them. We keep the run of their operations as well as possible. There is a great deal of trouble, a very large district.

REPORT OF THE
SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE HURON AND ONTARIO SHIP CANAL.

APPENDIX No. 2.

To the Honourable the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario :

The Special Committee (Messrs. Morris, Deroche, Parkhill, Wildfield, Lauder, Hunter, Bell, Miller, Patterson, Chisholm, Lane, and Long), to which was referred the petition of the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal Company, "praying that a Committee of the House may be appointed to enquire into a proposed new plan of construction," have the honour to report,

That in compliance with the order of your Honourable House they have given as much consideration to the prayer of the petitioner and the whole question of the construction of the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal, including the utility of the "Hydraulic Lift Lock," as the limited time at their disposal would permit.

They had before them Fred. C. Capreol, Esq., President of the Company, Frank Turner, Esq., C.E., a gentleman of extensive experience in practical engineering on public works of a similar character, David Roberts, Esq., C.E., and James Beaty, Esq., Q. C., Mayor of the City of Toronto, all of whom gave testimony and information of great value to your Committee. They also had submitted to them important documentary evidence, including maps, indicating the proposed route, plans, drawings, and photographs explaining fully the Hydraulic Lift Lock, statistics shewing the extraordinary development of the grain trade of the West during the past forty years, as well as its present gigantic proportions, and reports of Select Committees appointed at various dates by the Legislative Assembly of the old Province of Canada, the House of Commons of the Dominion of Canada, and the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario.

They find that the project for the construction of the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal is by no means a new one ; its history dates back as far as 1855. In that year a survey of the proposed route, via Lake Simcoe, was made by Mr. Kivas Tully, C.E., Architect to the Department of Public Works of the Province of Ontario, who reported favourably as to its practicability. In 1856 a company was formed to proceed with its construction, and a charter was granted to it by the Parliament of the late Province of Canada. In the following year the Legislative Assembly of the late Province of Canada, appointed a Select Committee to consider and report upon the project, of which the late Joseph Hartman, Esq., M.P.P. for North York, was Chairman. That Committee reported strongly in favour of the enterprise, and urged upon the Government and the House of that day the great importance of making "liberal efforts" towards its construction. A second Select Committee was appointed by the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Canada in 1864, of which Thomas D. McConkey, Esq., M.P.P. for North Simcoe, was Chairman. That Committee in its report fully endorsed the report of the preceding Committee, recommended a liberal grant of the wild lands of the Province towards the construction of the Canal, and stated that "the evidence of competent parties, appears to demonstrate, that nature presents no difficulties along the route surveyed, which science and perseverance may not overcome at a reasonable cost." In 1869 the House of Commons of the Dominion of Canada appointed a select Committee of fifteen members, with instructions to report as to the "practicability and expediency of the work." The late Robert A. Harrison, Esq., Q.C., M.P. for West Toronto—afterwards Chief Justice of the Court of Queen's Bench of the Province of Ontario—was Chairman. That Committee made an exhaustive report. It expressed its belief in the practicability of the project in an engineering point of view; dwelt fully upon the importance to Canada of securing the carrying trade of the West and now rapidly developing North-West; pointed out the great saving in distance between Chicago and Liverpool via the proposed Canal as compared with the distance between the same Cities via the Erie Canal and New York; and heartily endorsed the proposition to grant ten millions of acres of land in aid of the enterprise. In the same year a select Committee was appointed by the Legislative Assembly of this Province to "enquire into the present position of the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal, and also into the practicability and advantage of the proposed work." That Committee through its Chairman, William Lount, Esq., M.P.P. for North Simcoe, reported favourably as to the feasibility and importance of the project; but exception having been taken to the report by the Premier, the late Hon. John Sandfield Macdonald, on the ground that the Committee had exceeded its powers, it was never adopted by the Provincial Parliament. In 1875 the Dominion Parliament renewed the Charter to the Company for a period of ten years.

The evidence submitted to your Committee has deeply impressed them as to the great importance of this truly international undertaking. The construction of the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal would unquestionably shorten the route to Europe by fully eight hundred miles. In consequence of this there would be a great saving of time which would be considerably augmented by the fact that transshipments of freight between Chicago or Milwaukee and Liverpool would be wholly avoided. It would secure to Canada the carrying trade of the West and North West, probably for all time, for it would materially assist in making the St. Lawrence route what Nature evidently intended it to be, the great highway to Europe.

It would open up another route to our North West Territories, and would tend to promote their settlement as well as the development of their vast resources. It would cause the expenditure of a large amount of capital—probably $20,000,000—in our midst, which would give a fresh impetus to trade, afford employment to many thousands of our people, aid in the settlement of the country to the North and West of the Canal, and encourage immigration to our shores. The above are a few of the many benefits to be derived from the successful completion of this enterprise.

Your committee have also had under consideration, the important question of the practicability of the scheme. It appears from Parliamentary Reports and other documentary evidence submitted, that such eminent engineers as Messrs. Kivas Tully, Sir John Hawkshaw, A. M. Rendel, Walter Shanly, Col. R. B. Mason, and the late Wm. Sykes, have at various times reported in favour of it. The great difficulty in the way in the past, appears to have been the deep cuttings which would be necessary in passing through the "Oak Ridges" in the Township of King. In order to reach the level of Lake Simcoe, this cutting would have to be 197 feet deep at the highest point of the Ridges. The wonderful advancement of engineering science appears, however, to have largely overcome this difficulty. Your Committee had before them Mr. Frank Turner, C. E., who gave full explanations concerning the "Hydraulic Lift Lock" which seems to be peculiarly adapted to cases of this kind. From his testimony, which was supported by ample documentary evidence, your Committee find that hydraulic power has been used in connection with floating docks for a number of years, and that the "Hydraulic Lift Lock" as applied to canals is by no means

This system is also specially applicable to Ship Canals for vessels of any size, on account of its cheapness, both in the first cost and working expenses ; as well as from the rapidity with which vessels can be transferred from one level to another, and the extremely small quantity of water taken from the upper level. While ships are being lifted they cannot be strained in any way as they remain floating during the whole operation just as when they are in the canal.

a mere theoretical engineering problem, but has been practically and successfully tested on the canal at Anderton on the river Weaver in Cheshire, England, for three years past. By means of the Hydraulic Lift Lock the quantity of excavation in the Oak Ridge cutting would be reduced three-fourths, the number of Locks required on the canal would be diminished in even greater proportion, there would be absolutely no waste of water at all except that resulting from evaporation, and the total cost of the undertaking would be decreased by one half, or from forty (the original estimate) to twenty millions of dollars. This assuredly places the project for the construction of the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal in a very much more favourable position. In the documentary evidence submitted in support of Mr. Turner's views as to the practical utility of the Hydraulic Lift Lock, it appears that such a high authority as Sir William Armstrong regards it as an unqualified success. Mr. Sidengham Duer, A. I. C. E., of England, who, in conjunction with Mr. Edwin Clark, M. I. C. E., designed, and constructed the Lift Lock at Anderton, also confirms this view, and asserts that he "has no fear about the lifting of ships of any size." Mr. David Roberts, C. E., of Toronto, gave similar testimony.

The evidence adduced before your Committee on this point has satisfied them, that, the Hydraulic Lift Lock can not only be adapted to the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal, but will be the means of overcoming the principal obstacle in the way of its construction. The enterprise itself is one of vast importance to the people of this Province, and deserves every consideration at the hands of the Government and Your Honourable House. Your Committee are precluded by the rules of the House from recommending an appropriation for a re-survey of the proposed route, but they trust the time is not far distant, when such a survey will be made, and this great public work, which will open up a direct highway for the conveyance of the products of the fertile prairies of the West and North-West, to the markets of Europe, will be in process of construction.

Your Committee, in conclusion, desire to express their high appreciation of the indefatigable exertions put forth by Fred. C. Capreol, Esq., president of the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal Company, in behalf of this project, during the past ten years. The sacrifices he has submitted to and the indomitable energy he has displayed in promoting an enterprise fraught with great moment to millions of people, are deserving of both commendation and success. His statement as to the position of the undertaking, together with the evidence adduced before this Committee above referred to, is herewith submitted, with the suggestion, that the whole be printed and distributed for the convenience and information of the members of Your Honourable House.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Chairman.

APPENDIX TO REPORT ON CANAL NO. 1.

To J. H. Widdifield, Esq., M. D., M. R. C. S., M. P. P., Chairman, and Gentlemen of the Special Committee appointed by the Legislature of Ontario, to consider the subject of the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal Company, petitioned for to your Honourable House, and as chief promoter of the undertaking, I have the honour to address you:

GENTLEMEN,—The present crisis in the position of affairs of the future of this great country, its commerce and agriculture, its manufacturing, mining and shipping interests, as well as the development of the settlement of the Great West, behoves every reflecting mind to give the subject of securing the trade of that vast region and our own North-west Territory through our inland waters to the ocean its most earnest consideration. On you, gentlemen of the Committee, nominated to investigate and report to your Honourable House, a most important and onerous duty devolves, in giving the subject of the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal your most attentive study, as the construction of that work now will win or lose the vast increasing trade, and assist materially the settlement of that extensive region, while at the same time, it will shorten the route to Europe by the way of the St. Lawrence over that of New York about 800 miles, and forever secure the carrying trade to Canada.

The wonderful improvement in engineering science relative to the Lift Lock System has been explained to you by Mr. Frank Turner, an Associate of the Institute of Civil Engineers, of London, England, whose report and sketches, photographs and diagrams, of the proposed work are in your hands. He is a gentleman of great experience, having been engaged in gigantic undertakings in many parts of the world, during the last twenty-five years, by leading capitalists and contractors of England, giving him an extensive and practical knowledge of his profession. Mr. David Roberts, a practical civil engineer, has also expressed himself in favour of this system, and coincides with Mr. Turner that a sum of $20,000,000 would be sufficient to construct the work.

1st. I would further state that the charter of the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal Company was renewed by Act of Dominion Parliament (38 Vic., cap. 76) for ten years, but further experience shows that some amendments of the charter are required. One of the clauses of the charter requires one million of dollars to be subscribed, of which ten per cent. has to be paid up. An amendment is wanted to have the million dollars reduced, and the call lessened to five per cent. ; also the qualifications for directors reduced, besides lessening the shares to twenty dollars.

2nd. Chartered Bank Stock may be accepted in payment, if desired, of such call, the stocks to be taken at their market value on the day of payment, at the rate of the Toronto and Montreal Exchange of that day, contractors and municipalities to be allowed to take stock on the above terms, or as may be agreed upon.

3rd. That the fact of a large expenditure of ready money from private resources has already been spent, on behalf of the company, in gathering statistics and expensive surveys for the old system ; that the Ontario Government has largely aided railway enterprises, and the construction of the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal would benefit the Province more than any railway that can be built. Aid is now required for a new survey, and the whole money would be spent in the Province of Ontario.

4th. Also, permission to open branch offices in any of the large cities or towns of Canada, Great Britain, Ireland and the United States, where Banks exist.

5th. Also, that the bonds of the Company may at any time be exchanged for stock of the Company.

6th. That as the Province of Ontario will be greatly benefited by countenancing the already 200,000 petitioners to the Dominion Government, by adding its address to the Dominion Legislatures, the Dominion Government, by Act of Confederation, having the control of canals.

7th. That New York will do everything in its power to prevent the trade of the Great West and North-west going by the northern rival route of the St. Lawrence, its natural outlet, which, to quote from a speech of the Hon. William Bross, of Chicago, after referring to the growth and endless prospective value of the products of the West, said "That the Great God, when He made the mighty West, made also the lakes and the mighty St. Lawrence to float their commerce to the ocean," remembering also that the Great West is capable of maintaining a population of an hundred million of people. The following, from the Mail of the 10th of February, 1879, shows that New York is in earnest :—A liberal and public spirited canal policy is again urged upon New York State by its engineer, Mr. Horatio Seymour, jr., in his annual report. He attributes the great grain movement of the past year to the moderate canal tolls, and in support of his position adduces the fact that last summer the railroad charges from Buffalo to New York at times were 4½c. per bushel for wheat, while now they are 10c. The New York Journal of Commerce, summarizing the State Engineer's remarks concerning the St. Lawrence route, says :—"The grain carrying trade through the Welland Canal, has nearly quadrupled since 1866. In three or four years more, when the gigantic improvements of the Canadian water route are completed at a cost of about $54,000,000 (such is the unstinted enterprise of our great northern rival), British steamships of about 2,000 tons will be engaged in the direct trade between Chicago and other lake ports and England. And all the route will be free, save only charges at the Welland locks and on the river above

Montreal, and these will be abolished, if need be, to insure the British mastery of the Western trade. This rivalry must be confronted by a wise expenditure, in deepening and otherwise bettering our waterways, and by reducing the tolls to a still lower point preparatory to throwing them off altogether, if necessary, for self-preservation."

Sth. I beg to refer you to the several reports of the Legislatures of Ontario and the Dominion, as shown by the fourth edition of such reports, and the reports of the progress and statistics of the Great West for the last forty years, stated in the accompanying document of the Board of Trade of Chicago, showing an increase from the export of that city of only 78 bushels of grain in 1838 to 118,675,269 in 1878, every other product being in similar proportion; the port of Milwaukee showing almost a similar increase (vide Annual Reports, herewith). Query: What will be the probable increase in 1888?

In conclusion I would briefly remark, that, where the interests of so many provinces of the Dominion are at stake (and even England itself, by the reduction in the cost of transport and the employment of so many thousands of people) in the construction of this great work, I trust you and your Committee will further it by giving a favourable report.

The length of the canal will probably be about sixty miles.

With every mark of respect,

I have the honour to be,

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen,

Your most obedient servant,

FRED. C. CAPREOL.

TORONTO, 26th February, 1879.

To J. H. WIDDIFIELD, Esq., M.D., M.R.C.S., Eng., M.P.P., Chairman, and Gentlemen of the Special Committee of the Honourable the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, appointed to consider the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal project.

GENTLEMEN:—In response to the request of your Committee that I should put in writing the information I gave you verbally on the 19th inst., I have the honour to submit the following, as a succinct account, of the advantages to be derived from the adoption of the Hydraulic Lift Locks, in the construction and working of this Canal.

It has been contended by many that the cutting necessary for this Canal, on the old plan, through the Oak Ridges, would be a work of such magnitude, as, in itself, to preclude the possibility of its ever being accomplished, and the question arose, what was to be done with the material excavated, where could room be found in which to deposit it; and further, even if the cutting were made, is the water in Lake Simcoe sufficient to supply the Canal, without fear of ultimately draining the Lake. These questions have been very properly put and have been discussed frequently ever since the project was brought before public notice, some contending one thing, and others the reverse.

The scheme is undoubtedly a large one, but I am of opinion, that, it is quite within the bounds of reason, looking forward to the immense advantages it will afford to the ever increasing grain trade of the West, by cheapening its transport, to the sea ports of this Dominion, and thus making Canada the grand highway for this great commerce, instead of our cousins, on the other side of the line, absorbing it, and who every day, and every hour of the day, are devising schemes to retain it, as they know full well, that, unless they secure this trade, New York streets will ultimately become deserted.

I propose by means of the Hydraulic Lift Lock, to do away with the difficulties above referred to, if not altogether, almost so, simply for the reason that the quantity of excavation in the Oak Ridge cutting will be reduced fully three-fourths, and that no water will be required from Lake Simcoe; that the earth to be excavated will be used in forming the embankments of the Canal itself, and consequently will not be thrown away to spoil as originally proposed, and that the several road bridges required to cross over the Canal in the large cutting, will be reduced to a minimum.

You will easily understand, that, if a vessel can be raised over an obstacle, it must of necessity do away with the excavation of that obstacle, or if even it can be raised half the height and by cutting away the remaining half, you will at once see, by referring to the sketch, an immense saving will be effected over that of the lower level.

In the old system every time a vessel goes up or down the Canal a whole lock-full of water is used and lost, never to be recovered, and moreover you would require (to float a vessel, say of 16 feet draught) to excavate to a depth to pass through the ridges at least 18 feet below the lowest low water level of Lake Simcoe. Now, by the Hydraulic lift, that is overcome by lifting the vessel vertically, at the very commencement of your operations, 50 or more feet, as occasion may require, and that too by wasting absolutely no water whatever; and it may be found, perhaps, unnecessary to enter Lake Simcoe at all—it certainly is not a sine qua non.

The Hydraulic Lock has now been in daily use in England three years or more, on the Canal at Anderton, on the River Weaver, in Cheshire, without a check, and has given the most unqualified satisfaction; and a French Engineer, who recently went to inspect it for the French Government, has reported that it is the most wonderful machine he has ever seen.

For further information as to the details of its construction and working, I beg to refer you to the minutes of the proceedings of the Institution of Civil Engineers, of England, volume XLV, part III, session 1875-6, page 107, where you will find its merits have been freely discussed, by George Robert Stephenson, and the most eminent engineers of the day.

In conclusion, I shall be happy to supply you with any further information in my power; and thank you for giving me the opportunity of explaining to you the little I have done, and have

The Honour to be, Gentlemen,
Your Obedient Servant,

FRANK TURNER,
Assoc. Inst. Civil Engineers.

Mr. Sidingham Duer, A.I.C.E., states in a letter received by me, subsequent to the date of my report, 19th February, that “I have no fear about the lifting of ships of any size. The complete success of the Lift Lock at Anderton, and the great study that I have since given to the matter, have overcome all difficulties, and I should feel now far less timid in undertaking a lift of fifty feet or more, for the largest ships afloat, than I did when I first looked at the site and the barges at Anderton.”—F. T.

Mr. Turner said the scheme had been pronounced by some people as impossible, because of the depth of the cutting between Lakes Simcoe and Ontario, which would cost so much as to prevent the canal from paying. Recent developments of science had shown that this deep cutting could be avoided, and that it was possible to get a water way from lake to lake at about half the expense of cutting through the high land, which would ensure the commercial success of the scheme. We had already railway routes, but water routes from the west made a difference of twenty-five per cent, in the cost of transportation. An additional saving of ten cents a bushel would be effected by transporting grain by way of the proposed canal, because, by coming from Collingwood direct to Toronto instead of going round the lakes there was a saving of 400 miles. The manner in which he proposed to overcome the high land difficulty, without making the excavations originally proposed, was by employing, instead of the ordinary locks, lift locks, such as were used at Anderton on the river Weaver, Cheshire. One of these locks could lift a vessel fifty feet in eight minutes, and not only was there a great saving of time by the process, but there was a great saving of expense in working the canal, and a saving in the cost of its construction. The canal with these lift-locks, worked as they were by hydraulic power, could be built at about half of the original estimate. Each lock, he explained (verbally and by diagram), consisted of two immense troughs, which, when full of water, were capable of floating barges of great size. Each trough would be supported by an immense arm of steel, by means of which, by hydraulic power, the trough could be raised from the lower level of the canal, to the upper level. While one trough was on the upper level, the other was at the lower level, and when a barge was floated into the upper trough the weight of barge and water would assist to raise the trough at the lower level and the rest would be done by hydraulic pressure. In this case he proposed that there should be but one trough, which would be raised and lowered by hydraulic pressure entirely. One lock of this kind would, he said, save the construction of several of the old style of locks, and a barge could in eight minutes be lowered a distance, which under the old plan would require three hours.

Mr. Turner said that thirty-five locks would be saved, and about seventeen and a half hours. Besides the saving in the cost of constructing the locks, there would be a saving of $10,000,000 in the excavation of the upper level.

Mr. Tyrrel asked the cost of the new style of locks.

Mr. Turner said they would cost about $150,000 each. Under the old estimate there were to be eleven locks from Lake Simcoe to Lake Huron. Under his plan there would be only four. Under the original plans there were to be forty locks from Lake Simcoe to Lake Ontario. He proposed there should be but sixteen. Thus, there would be twenty altogether instead of fifty. He believed under the new plan he could build for, in rough figures, $20,000,000, what, under the old plan would cost about $40,000,000.

Mr. Speight—Where do you propose to get the water from for the upper level?

Mr. Turner said one objection to the original plan for the canal was that the water would be drawn from Lake Simcoe, the result of which would be, it was said, the drying up of that lake. The water for the upper level of the canal could be got from some stream and the loss through the lift-locks would only be one per cent of the loss through the old style locks. Evaporation and leakage would be the chief source of the losses of water from the upper canal, and that, he thought, would be replenished by the streams.

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE OF THE LATE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY, 9TH JUNE, 1857.

The Select Committee to which was referred the Petition of Rowland Burr, of the City of Toronto, on the subject of a Canal to connect the Georgian Bay, on Lake Huron, with the waters of Lake Ontario, at Toronto, have the honour to report:—

That in obedience to the order of your Honourable House, and in compliance with the prayer of the Petitioner, they have had Mr. Burr before them, and have obtained from him such evidence, verbal and written, as he was prepared to submit; a portion of which is hereto appended.

From Mr. Burr's testimony it appears that he has, with commendable zeal, and in the exercise of a liberal public spirit, and at his own cost, within the month of May last, caused a survey to be made, by a competent engineer, of so much of the country in the line of the projected Canal as lies between Lakes Simcoe and Ontario, and is above the level of the former.

From this survey, which is eight miles in length, and embraces the most important difficulty to be overcome, it is found that the greatest depth of cutting to reach the level of Lake Simcoe will not exceed 175 feet, that throughout the greater part of this distance the depth will not average 40 feet, and that from the nature of the excavation, the cost will be much less than in ordinary heavy cuttings on the most important public works of this and the adjoining county.

The magnitude of the obstacles to be surmounted in uniting the waters of Lakes Huron and Ontario by a direct canal communication, seems hitherto to have deterred those most deeply interested from such a thorough investigation of the claims of this project upon public attention, as, to your Committee, it appears to merit.

The present outlets to the trade of the Upper Lakes, through the Erie and Welland Canals, are already found inadequate, notwithstanding that trade is yet in its infancy. That sufficient facilities can be afforded by any probable enlargement of both those works, but few at all conversant with the interior of the resources of this vast continent, drained by our unrivalled Lakes and Rivers, will assert. New channels, more direct, and less dangerous and difficult, will be sought. Speed as well as safety, is necessary to successful competition with our neighbours, in the carrying trade. The shortest route, and that which presents the least interruption to the progress of vessels propelled by steam, or otherwise, in passing from the safe navigation of the St. Lawrence and Lake Ontario to the equally safe navigation of Lakes Huron, Michigan and Superior, will be found by a Canal crossing the neck of land between Toronto and Georgian Bay. The only obstacle which may at all be considered of an extraordinary character, is the ridge dividing the waters of Lake Simcoe from those of Lake Ontario. When the largest Canals did not exceed the dimensions necessary for the passage of boats carrying at most one or two hundred tons burden, the depth of cut necessary to pass that ridge, might well be considered insurmountable; but at this day, when channels are required for vessels of the largest class, freighted for ocean voyages, and with the aid of science and skill, reducing the labour of years to the effort of days, your Committee submit, that a depth of cut not exceeding the greatest on this line cannot be looked upon as presenting an obstacle more formidable than the means in hand will justify.

Aside from the importance of the carrying trade of the North-western States of the Union, which your Committee believe will, of itself, fully justify the construction of the work in question, there are other and, in our view, more patriotic considerations, favouring immediate and energetic action upon this subject. It is hardly necessary to say your Committee now allude to the extensive tract of country lying to the North-west of Lakes Huron and Superior, and always recognized as Canadian soil, as well as to that portion of our patrimony hitherto held by the Hudson's Bay Company.

This extensive country, rich in mineral and agricultural wealth, will, by the opening of the Toronto and Georgian Bay Canal, be at once far more than doubled in value. In this view of the subject alone, your Committee respectfully submit, will be found considerations fully justifying the most liberal effort on the part of the Government, and of your Honourable House, for the construction of this work.

Should the system of granting public lands in aid of public works of a national character be continued, your Committee respectfully submit that no work yet projected in Canada has equal claims with the Toronto and Georgian Bay Canal to a liberal grant.

All which is respectfully submitted.

JOSEPH HARTMAN,
Chairman.

COMMITTEE ROOM,
9th June, 1857.

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE OF THE LATE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY, 31st MAY, 1864.

The Select Committee appointed to consider the practicability and propriety of constructing a Ship Canal between the Georgian Bay and Lake Ontario, via Lake Simcoe, have the honour to Report:—

That they have received evidence from various parties in reference to the practicability and necessity of constructing the proposed Ship Canal, which is herewith submitted.

Your Committee also submit the evidence collected by a former Committee appointed for the same purpose, and would recommend that the evidence should be printed.

The question of constructing this great public work has, for a long period, occupied the serious attention of several Municipalities and other parties in the western portion of the Province.

On referring to the Journals of your Honourable House, your Committee find that on the 9th of June, 1857, the late Joseph Hartman, Esquire, M.P.P. for North York, presented a Report from a Select Committee appointed to enquire and report on this projected work.

From that document, your Committee quote the following recommendations:—

“Aside from the importance of the carrying trade of the North-western States of the Union, which your Committee believe will, of itself, justify the construction of the work in question, there are other, and, in our view, more patriotic considerations favouring immediate and energetic action on this subject.

“Should the system of granting public lands in aid of public works of a national character be continued, your Committee respectfully submit that no work yet projected in Canada has equal claims with the Toronto and Georgian Bay Canal, to a liberal grant.”

Agreeing with these views, your Committee consider, that the construction of such a Canal is expedient on national and on Provincial grounds; they are convinced that as an adjunct to the commerce of Canada and the Great West, its value has not been over-stated, and they entertain the opinion that the engineering difficulties, which undeniably exist, are by no means insurmountable.

As a national work, the importance of the proposed Canal is obvious.

It is a necessary complement to the plans which, at an enormous cost, have enabled the British Government to promote the means of travel and transportation over a large part of the Province. The existing Canals, originally in advance of the wants of the time, are now deficient.

The progress of settlement westward, the development of the vast mineral resources which skirt the northern shores of Huron and Superior, and the certainty, that, at no distant day, the interests of civilization and commerce will demand facilities for intercourse from the present terminus of lake navigation to the golden shores of the Pacific, are circumstances which render the Georgian Bay Canal, a matter which the Imperial authorities will necessarily entertain with favour.

Over and above these considerations, are others more strictly military and naval in their character, but of these it is not requisite, perhaps it is not prudent, for your Committee to speak at any length.

To the Province the project is scarcely less than vital. Its geographical position points at Canada as the possessor of the first commercial advantages which are to be found in the interior of the American Continent.

Even now the produce and minerals of the North-west demand increased facilities for reaching the seaboard, and the business men of Chicago and Oswego are of opinion, that, a Ship Canal, from the Georgian Bay to Ontario, presents attractions of which none else can boast.

Your Committee need not indulge in prophecy, to prove, that, all arguments, based upon previous commercial wants, are trivial indeed when placed in the balance against the wants which will be experienced, when a few more years shall have brought out, in a greater degree, the resources of the immense and fertile region of which this Canal will be the natural outlet.

In this regard, the marvels of the past, are the best index to the probabilities of the future.

That there are engineering obstacles, it were folly to deny. Your Committee, however, without entering into details, may be permitted to repeat, that the evidence of competent parties appears to demonstrate that nature presents no difficulties along the route surveyed which science and perseverance may not overcome at a reasonable cost.

Your Committee also find that Petitions from several Municipal bodies, including the City of Toronto, the Counties of York and Peel, the County of Simcoe, the Town of Barrie, and others, have been presented to your Honourable House for a grant of ten millions of acres of public lands, to aid in the construction of this Canal.

Your Committee, having a regard to the magnitude and importance of this work, venture to indulge the hope that a grant of land, commensurate with the greatness of the undertaking, will be made to the Toronto and Georgian Bay Canal Company, incorporated in 1856, as one of the best means of securing the construction of the work, your Committee being persuaded that without some munificent inducement of this description, it were useless to seek the co-operation of the capitalists of the parent country, on whom mainly the Province must rely for the practical execution of the enterprise.

Your Committee have to express their thanks to L. B. Crocker, Esquire, of Oswego; Col. R. B. Mason, Commissioner of the Illinois Central Railroad; and William Bross, Esquire, of the Press and Tribune, Chicago, for the very important statistics and useful information, gratuitously imparted by them, for the information of the Committee.

Your Committee cannot conclude this Report without expressing their appreciation of the liberal spirit displayed by Mr. Kivas Tully, Civil Engineer, in presenting 1,250 lithographs for the purpose of explaining the position and advantage of the Georgian Bay route; also, for the zeal which he has manifested in preparing the necessary statistics, which, in the opinion of your Committee, will be found valuable for future reference, clearly demonstrating not only the propriety of improving the present channels, but also the necessity of constructing additional facilities of communication, through this Province, for the vast and rapidly increasing trade of the West.

The whole respectfully submitted.

Chairman.

SECOND REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE HURON AND ONTARIO SHIP CANAL.

HOUSE OF COMMONS,
COMMITTEE ROOM, June 14th, 1869.

The Select Committee to whom was referred the petition of John Gordon and twenty thousand others of the Province of Ontario, praying for the construction of the "Huron and Ontario Ship Canal," with power to send for persons and papers, and to report as to the practicability and expediency of the work, have the honour to report:

That this project has, for many years, engaged a large measure of public attention. In 1855, surveys of the route were made by Mr. Kivas Tully, C. E., who reported favourably thereon, and his report was confirmed by that of Col. R. B. Mason, an eminent American Engineer. In 1856, the Parliament of the late Province of Canada, incorporated a company, with powers to construct the work. In 1857, a Select Committee of the Legislative Assembly, of the late Province of Canada, was appointed to enquire into and report on the projected work, and on the 9th June of that year, the Committee, through the late Joseph Hartman, Esq., M. P. P. for North York, reported strongly in favour of the enterprise, and stated that no work yet projected in Canada has equal claims with the proposed Canal, to a liberal grant of land. In 1864, a Select Committee of the Legislative Assembly of the late Province of Canada was appointed to consider the practicability and propriety of constructing this Canal, and on 31st May of that year, that Committee, by their Chairman, Thomas D. McConkey, Esq., M. P. P., reported, approving of the Report of the previous Committee, and stating that, to Canada the project is scarcely less than vital, and having regard to the magnitude and importance of the work, the Committee suggested that a grant of land, commensurate with the importance of the undertaking, should be made, as one of the best means of securing the construction of the work.

Your Committee have to report that they have had submitted to them a large body of evidence in reference to the expediency and practicability, in an engineering as well as a financial point of view, of the projected Canal.

Your Committee have had under their consideration a full and comprehensive Report of Mr. William Sykes, C. E., the resident Engineer of the Canal Company, on the general merits of the proposed Canal, containing a large amount of valuable commercial and other statistics bearing on the subject, and a full description of the engineering features of the work, and the prospects for traffic to render it remunerative.

Mr. Capreol, on behalf of the Canal Company, submitted the proposal of a number of capitalists in the United States, to undertake one-half of the contract for the construction, taking in payment one-half of the capital stock of the Company—say twenty millions of dollars—provided the remaining half be taken by British or other contractors, and that the Company be aided by the grant of ten million acres of land.

Your Committee have had submitted to them letters from Messieurs John Hawkshaw and A. M. Rendel, eminent Engineers, of London, England, expressing their confidence in the engineering practicability of the work, and from Mr. George Wythes, a prominent and reputedly wealthy English contractor, offering to undertake the remaining half of the contract for construction, on the basis of the proposal of the United States capitalists already mentioned.

Your Committee have also had submitted to them a number of letters from various parties, prominent and well informed in matters of finance, expressing confidently the opinion that, in the present state of the English money market, the Stock of the Company would be readily taken up, provided that a grant of ten million acres of land were made to the Company, but, at the same time, unequivocally stating that, without such grant, the floating of the stock would be impossible at present.

Your Committee had also important evidence from the Honourable Charles Tupper, C. B., Walter Shanly, Esq., C. E., the Honourable John Ross, and the Honourable James Skead, which is submitted herewith.

Your Committee beg to report, that they have no doubt as to the expediency of the proposed Canal. They are satisfied that, if constructed, it would be of immense value to the commercial and general interests of the Province of Ontario, and of the whole Dominion of Canada. The interests of Ontario would be greatly promoted by the local expenditure, and the development of the extensive region of unoccupied land north and west of the Canal, and the interests of the Dominion, by the introduction into the country of the large amount of capital, estimated at forty millions of dollars, required for its construction; by the encouragement of immigration; and by the completion of a most important link in the chain of through communication between the Great West and the Old World. The Canal, if constructed, as it would be wholly within British territory, would be a most important key to the trade of the West and greatly conduce to the establishment and continuance of reciprocal trade between this Dominion and the United States of America.

Independently of these important national, commercial and social considerations, it is obvious to your Committee that a large accession of revenue must accrue to the Dominion Exchequer from the construction of this work, as out of an expenditure of forty millions of dollars, chiefly for imported labour, a large amount must flow into the public chest through Customs and Excise.

The testimony adduced before your Committee has satisfied them that the work is practicable in an engineering point of view, but that unless a liberal grant of land be given in aid of the Company, the work, in the opinion of your Committee, cannot be accomplished.

The following statement of comparative distances by different routes, shows the great saving that will be effected by this canal when constructed:—

CHICAGO TO QUEBEC.

Via Lake Erie, the Welland and St. Lawrence Canals.....	1,550 miles.
Via Huron and Ontario Ship, and St. Lawrence Canals.....	1,180 “
Making a saving of.....	370 “

CHICAGO TO NEW YORK.

Via Lake Erie and Erie Canal.....	1,504 “
Via Lake Erie, Welland Canal and Oswego.....	1,500 “
Via Huron and Ontario Canal and Oswego.....	1,225 “

CHICAGO TO LIVERPOOL.

Via Mississippi and New Orleans.....	6,000 “
Via Erie Canal and New York.....	4,600 “
Via Welland Canal and St. Lawrence.....	4,160 “
Via Huron and Ontario Canal and St. Lawrence.....	3,736 “

And it is shown in the Report of the Canal Company's Engineer, Mr. Sykes, that by the saving of transshipment, a cargo of 1,000 or 1,200 tons shipped at Chicago for Liverpool via the Huron and Ontario Canal, would, under ordinary circumstances, reach Liverpool before a similar cargo, shipped at the same time, via Buffalo and Erie Canal, could reach New York.

The relations of the proposed canal to the North-West Territory, and the development of that extensive and valuable portion of the Dominion, are also, in the opinion of the Committee, additional reasons for the undertaking of the work. The necessity for its use would also, it is believed, lead to an international system of Navigation Law between this country and the United States, which would be equally just to both, and largely stimulate the important industrial branch of ship-building in this Dominion. By means of its construction the river St. Lawrence, which is the natural highway between the Great West (now rapidly becoming the granary of the world) and the consumers of Europe, would be more used than at present. The consequence would be, the necessary enlargement of the St. Lawrence Canals, and the acquisition to that noble river of the vast trade which Nature intended, to have, but which the energy of man has hitherto, to a large extent, diverted through artificial channels in the neighbouring Republic. By means of the improvements suggested in the navigation of the St. Lawrence, and an improved system of International Navigation Law, Canada would share, to a large extent, in the carrying trade of the world, and our Confederacy would be enriched by the stream of trade which would pass through our territory on its way to the ocean.

The whole of which is nevertheless respectfully submitted.

EXTRACTS FROM MINUTES OF EVIDENCE.

At the request of Mr Capreol, Dr Tupper made the following statement :

Dr. Tupper stated that in the year 1868, he had several interviews with the Duke of Buckingham, who took great interest in the proposed canal and expressed a hope that ere long it will be constructed. He had also had several interviews with Mr. Hawkshaw and Mr. Rendel, both of whom are engineers of the highest standing in England, and who expressed their confidence in the feasibility and practicability of the undertaking. He had had communication also with Mr. Wythes, the eminent English contractor, and the latter proposed in the event of the Government expressing a willingness to grant 10,000,000 acres of land, to send out engineers at his own expense, to verify the reports of Mr. Sykes by actual survey.

Dr. Tupper impressed on the committee the importance of some project of this kind for facilitating access from the West to the seaboard, being undertaken without delay not only in a Provincial but a National Point of view. Men of the highest character and standing in England, both contractors and engineers, are in favour of the construction of works of this kind. He knew Mr. Wythes to be a man of immense wealth, and second to none in England as a contractor. He also stated that Sir Harry Verney, a member of the Imperial House of Commons, expressed great interest in the construction of the proposed canal. Dr. Tupper considered that the Government of the Dominion should make a grant of 5,000,000 acres of land, and a like quantity should be granted by the Government of the Province of Ontario. Grants of land in favour of such projects are the best mode of appropriating wild land that can be made, not only in the interest of the companies, but in that of the country at large, as by this means, capitalists abroad become emigration agents for the country, and settle its wild lands without expense to the country.

FRIDAY, 11th June, 1869.

Mr. Fowler again appeared, and read the report of Mr. F. C. Capreol on his (Mr. C.'s) Mission to England.

Mr Fowler read the report of the British North America Bank as to the character of the gentlemen who had made propositions to contract for the construction of the said canal.

Mr. Sykes was also present, and was called upon to read his report on the nature of the soil, &c., on the line of the proposed canal, which he accordingly did.

Mr. Fowler explained how the boring was done, as also the depths and nature of the soil.

Hon. Mr. Skead, who had been requested to attend, appeared.

The Chairman remarked that the Committee did not wish to impose on Mr. Skead the necessity of giving his evidence, if he was indisposed to do so, on a route which he might consider as a rival of the Ottawa River route.

Mr. Skead disavowed all such narrow prejudices, and said he felt a deep interest in the prosperity of the whole Dominion and was an advocate for progress and Public Works generally. Instead of viewing these prospects as rivals, or opponents, he considered them as being both necessary and calculated to accommodate a different kind of traffic,--while the "Huron and Ontario Canal" would be a Ship Canal, he considered such a channel as quite out of the question by the Ottawa route, which must be a barge canal. He thought that eight feet of water was as much as could be relied on at all seasons; and considered the fact of the necessary cutting being through the hardest granite quite conclusive against a deep water navigation.

Several questions were put to Mr. Skead, which he requested to be put in writing, which was done, and they were handed to him with a request that he would return written answers thereto.

SATURDAY, 12th June, 1869.

Mr. Fowler again appeared, and read several documents showing the financial prospects of the Company. He also stated that the Messrs Freshfield, of the "Bank of England" would have no hesitation in saying that in their opinion the necessary funds for carrying on the proposed work would be forthcoming, provided the grant of land be obtained from the Government. Also, that the labour to be performed, and the expenditure of from £5,000,000 to £6,000,000 would inevitably induce immigrants to settle on the wild lands of the Dominion and Provinces generally. That if the work does not go on, the money will not be spent; and that the Dominion Government has a greater interest in the scheme than the Ontario Government; and that in his (Mr. F.'s) opinion, the revenue to be derived from the settlers will more than balance the contemplated grant of land to the company.

Hon. Mr. Tupper, C. B., suggested that, as the proposed expenditure was mostly to be made in Ontario, a compromise be proposed by the committee, viz.: to ask the House of Commons to authorize a grant of 5,000,000 acres of land, provided the Ontario Government will grant the same amount; and by this means bring a pressure to bear on the latter Government, and throw on them the responsibility of carrying out, or rejecting the scheme.

 APPENDIX TO REPORT No. 6.

 REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON HURON AND ONTARIO SHIP CANAL.

 THE REPORT NOT ADOPTED BY THE HOUSE.

(The following Report was never adopted nor concurred in by the Legislature.)

TO THE HONOURABLE THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY, ONTARIO :

The Select Committee appointed to enquire into the present position of the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal, and also into the practicability and advantage of the proposed work have the honour to Report:—

That they have examined various witnesses and much documentary evidence, including maps, plans, drawings and estimates connected with the project, submitted for their consideration, and from which it appears to your Committee that no insuperable obstructions present themselves in the way of opening canal communication between the waters of Lakes Huron and Ontario, beyond a necessary grant of lands required by the capitalists and contractors as a condition precedent to the contract.

For testimony as to the practicability and advantage of the work, your Committee have had before them the various reports of former Committees, presented to former Legislatures with the evidence thereto appended, as well as the oral evidence of its most energetic promoter, F. C. Capreol, Esq., and that of R. A. Harrison, Esq., Q.C., M.P., Ex-Chairman of the Select Committee of the Dominion Parliament of last Session, who verified the documentary evidence then given, and now before your Committee. They have also had the evidence of Adam Crooks, Esq., Q.C., J. A. Donaldson, Esquire, Emigration Agent, Henry Graham, Merchant, and Wm. Sykes, Esq., resident Engineer of the Canal Company, and have examined his scientific and exhaustive report, replete with information and convincing proofs of the incalculable advantages to the commercial and general interests of the country arising from the construction of the Canal.

Your Committee have also read letters from Messieurs John Hawkshaw, of London, England, and A. M. Rendel, of the same place, who rank among the most eminent Engineers of the age, expressing their confidence in the practicability of the project, based upon said report. Also letters from Mr. Wythes, a reputedly wealthy and extensive English contractor, to the same effect.

From the evidence, documentary and otherwise, before your Committee, so thoroughly does the project seem to have been canvassed, and so sensible of its practicability and advantages do all parties appear to be, that your Committee deem it unnecessary to consume time in adding arguments or opinion to the foregone conclusion that the construction of the canal is quite practicable, and that it would be perhaps the most advantageous work which could be undertaken for the Dominion.

Your Committee, have been most careful, in the investigation of the question of means to meet the construction of so vast a work, and have no hesitation in reporting that in the event of Mr. Capreol being able to effect the land grant which he seeks, there is strong evidence of his ability to provide the necessary means and skill to accomplish the work.

Mr. Capreol produced to your Committee a proposal from reliable capitalists of the United States, to undertake one-half the contract, accepting in payment one-half the Company's stock—say $20,000,000, provided a grant of 10,000,000 acres of land be obtained in aid, and provided also that English capitalists would undertake the other half.

He also submitted letters from Messrs. Hawkshaw and Rendel, before mentioned, and from Mr. George Wythes, the above-named English contractor, proposing to undertake the other half upon like terms. Also other correspondence with English Financial Firms, giving assurance of the easy sale of the Company's Stock, in the event of the land grant above mentioned being made.

Amongst other evidence submitted, your Committee would respectfully direct the attention of your Honourable House to the suggestions of the Honourable Mr. Tupper, M.P., in his evidence before the Select Committee of the House of Commons, during last Session, as to the propriety of the Legislature of Ontario and the Dominion Government, granting respectively 5,000,000 acres of land each, to secure the accomplishment of so desirable a project.

Your Committee would also respectfully urge the privilege of referring to the vast tracts of lands, and the immense forests of most valuable timber, the water powers and minerals lying to the north of Lakes Huron and Superior, to the opening up and populating of which this Canal would be the most immediate means.

Also to the still more vast expanse of newly acquired territory, for the settlement of which the Dominion is making active exertion, and with which there are, in the opinion of Your Committee, no means of communication comparable with that created by the proposed Canal. To the fact also, that unless some such highway of travel to the outer world is furnished, there can be but little doubt that the trade and commerce as they are developed in that territory, will find their way through a foreign country, to the waters of the Mississippi, and thus pass off from us forever.

Your committee are unanimous in the opinion, that innumerable advantages would result from the construction of the Canal, and that no better use could be made of the lands of the Dominion, than in the encouragement and establishment of projects such as that submitted for their consideration. When the voluntary capital, the sympathy and exertions of outside people, are offered for our acceptance, upon terms so easy of fulfilment, Your Committee can see no valid reason for their rejection. The fact that $40,000,000 are obtainable for expenditure amongst us in exchange for 10,000,000 acres of our lands, impresses Your Committee as one of the most favourable possible overtures. Were those lands a commodity, which, when paid for by a foreign people, could be removed and leave our country territorially less and poorer, there might then be some slight subject for debate as to their value, and as to whether or not $4.00 per acre were too small a price. But when the converse is the fact; when we not only receive the moneys into the country, but retain our lands, still an undetached portion of our territory; when the expenditure of those moneys opens up a vast highway for commerce, and attracts the trade and attention of nations; when the ownership of the lands exchanged, establishes an intense interest on the part of those proprietors, in the development and population of our country, even in the selfish view of enhancing their own capital, by the corresponding increase in the value of these lands; when each thus interested will naturally become a voluntary agent, advising emigration to our shores; when the thousands immigrating, even to perform the necessary labours of the undertaking, will be so many added to our population; when we reflect that the wealth of a nation consists not in its territorial extent alone, but in the culture of its soil, the development of its resources, and the numbers of its producers and consumers; and when we reflect that in the land, in its present state, unpopulated and unimproved, we have at best but imaginary wealth and barren waste; your Committee cannot divest themselves of the feeling that under the proposed arrangement, there is much to gain and nothing to be lost. That thereby, in truth, the country would have still its land; would have the canal constructed, and would have the money spent chiefly in our midst, with all the advantages resulting therefrom.

That whilst in the earlier development of our country, it might have been pardonable to smile at the sincerity and ardour evinced by Mr. Capreol in the advocacy and promotion of so vast a project, Your Committee feel that under the present light of science, engineering skill and open money market of the world, added to the fact of Mr. Capreol's indomitable energy and undisputable financial skill, there is much to hope for. And even were they ignorant of the fact that in those earlier days, he was instrumental in surmounting difficulties, comparatively greater than the present, in the projection and construction of our first and most remunerative railway, they would feel bound, from facts before them, to commend, in strongest terms, the invaluable agency of his efforts and the indubitable feasibility of their realization.

Your Committee herewith submit the various evidence adduced before them, and above referred to, which they would respectfully recommend to be printed and distributed for the more convenient use and information of Your Honourable House.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. LOUNT, Chairman.

COMMITTEE ROOM, 21st December, 1859.

EXTRACTS FROM MINUTES—HURON AND ONTARIO SHIP CANAL.

This Committee met in room 13, at 9.30 A.M.

Present—Mr. Lount (Chairman), Hon. Mr. Cameron, Messrs. Oliver, Ferguson, Williams (Durham), Swinarton, Grahame (York), McCall (Norfolk), and Lauder.

Mr. Crooks was examined as to the practicability of the work. He said Mr. Sykes had presented a report to (now) Sir John Hawkshaw and Mr. Rendel, of England. Assuming that Mr. Sykes' data were correct, they had come to the conclusion that there were no engineering difficulties which could not be surmounted. In a conversation, which he (Mr. Crooks) had in the month of May last, with Mr. Rendel, while in England, that gentleman introduced the question of the canal himself. Mr. Rendel was not aware that he (Mr. Crooks) occupied the position of Provisional Director of the Company. In the conversation, Mr. Rendel said he did not see how the people of Canada were so blind as not to see it would be to their advantage to give assistance to the Company in the shape of a land grant. Mr. Rendel's position as an engineer, was one of the highest. He was at that time connected with extensive railway operations in England. He (Mr. Crooks) did not see Mr. Hawkshaw personally, but there was no question as to his being the foremost man in his profession at the present day. He had been connected with a great many extensive works, more particularly such as referred to the science of hydraulics. He was appointed to superintend large works in Holland, and he had been sent to inspect the Suez Canal, on more than one occasion. The last great work on which his opinion had been asked for, to determine whether it should be undertaken or not, was the projected tunnel across the straits of Dover, which some French engineers had been trying to work up for some time. He (Mr. C.) merely mentioned this to show what a high authority Mr. Hawkshaw was on questions connected with engineering. Mr. Hawkshaw had given his opinion in favour of the practicability of constructing the Huron and Ontario Ship Canal. Now, with respect to the present position of this scheme, he would say that every thing had been accomplished, except the building up of a financial structure. The fullest possible information had been obtained that was necessary for any one to be informed upon with reference to the practicability of the work, and the advantages to be derived from its construction, and the simple question now was the one of ways and means. Mr. William Freshfield, referring to this question, said there could be little difficulty in obtaining the necessary advances from English capitalists. He spoke with perfect confidence on the matter, and said, "Mr. Crooks, there can be no doubt if you can get a grant of ten millions of acres, you will succeed, but you must either have that or a guarantee of some kind. He (Mr. C.) saw Mr. Wythes, and he said the gigantic nature of the enterprise was no obstacle—in fact, it was rather an advantage, for capitalists did not care to embark in small enterprises. They would rather undertake one like this, involving five or ten millions sterling but there was a necessity for a land grant as well. Capitalists did not care to enter upon a work on what is called "the merits of the work" alone. It was difficult for a government to construct railways on its own guarantee. However clear the merits of the work, a backing of some kind was required. He referred to the Illinois Central Railway and other great works, which had become successful in consequence of having large tracts of land, beside their own merits to fall back on. Railways had grown into discredit in England lately. Capitalists had come to understand that railway debentures were not a charge on the property, but merely a lien on the earnings or income of the railway.

The Hon. Mr. Cameron wished to know if he had any discussion respecting the value of the ten millions of land, which the company asked for.

Mr Crooks said that he explained that the lands were different from those granted to the Illinois Central Railway Company. They were valuable principally for the timber and minerals.

Hon. Mr. Cameron said he supposed that, that so long as the millions of acres were granted, it did not matter a rap where they were situated.

Mr. Crooks—O, no! there would be the fullest investigation of the tract.

Hon. Mr. Cameron—Then it is not merely a ten million acres grant you want!

Mr. Crooks said it would be necessary for the canal to get further assistance than that. They would require some government guarantee of a certain small amount of interest on a small part of the capital—say one fourth of it. This was about the extent of his conversation with the gentlemen he spoke of. He was not in England at the time in the interest of the canal, and he carried no credentials from the Company. His conversations on the subject were merely accidental as it were.

Mr. Lount—Did you indicate in your conversations that the lands were situated on the north shores of Lakes Superior and Huron?

Mr. Crooks—No, I knew nothing about them.

The Committee adjourned at 10.15 a.m., till Tuesday next.

COMMITTEE.

The Committee met in Room No. 3, at 10 o'clock this morning.

Present—Mr. Lount, (Chairman); Hon. Mr. Cameron and Messrs. Wallis, Lauder, Williams, (Durham); Graham, (York); Hays and Coyne.

Mr. Capreol said the company had nothing to conceal, and they courted the strictest investigation.

Mr. Harrison, M.P., was called on. He said there was a Select Committee appointed by the House of Commons at Ottawa, last session, to investigate into the practicability and expedience of the work. The Committee was composed of members from all parts of the Dominion. They reported in favour of the scheme, and were quite unanimous in declaring their belief in the promises made to the company by capitalists in Great Britain and the United States. There was no attempt made to bias the Committee by undue influence, and he did not believe there were any of its members who could be so influenced. The members from the Lower Provinces seemed to take a very warm interest in the scheme, and to regard it as a great national work. The Committee were not appointed to report respecting a land grant, but they considered that without such a grant the canal could not be constructed. They believed that the wild lands of the country could not be better employed. They considered that it would be an immense benefit to the whole Dominion, from the introduction of labour and capital, and the improved means of communication with the West. By the term western country was meant not only the Western States of the neighbouring republic, but also the Red River territory. It was believed that without additional security, the canal could not be constructed. There were other outlets for the produce of the West, but they were not so short or otherwise so well fitted as this projected canal would be. It was found that the grain was injured in passing through the Erie Canal by the warm waters in that channel, but this difficulty would be obviated in the Georgian Bay Canal, for the waters from Lake Huron would always be cool. It was considered that the deepening of the St. Lawrence Canals would greatly benefit the Huron and Ontario Canal, and without that, sea-going vessels could not reach Lake Ontario. There was no evidence of mariners taken. His opinion was that a grant of five millions of acres to the Company, with certain checks, could not be better employed. What he meant by checks was, to grant the land as the canal advanced.

Mr. Capreol said it was not the intention of the Company to make the demand for ten millions of acres without checks. They proposed to receive one million of acres for every million of dollars expended. He meant by that, that the Company would expect to receive one million of acres on the north shore of Lake Superior, as soon as they should have expended a million of dollars, and so on, till the 10,000,000 were expended.

Mr. Harrison said, taking the experience of the United States—and they had been most successful in the construction of their public works—the best way to build the canal, was to grant the land to the Company and allow them to settle it themselves. The Committee were unanimous in expressing this view. There was evidence laid before them to show that it would be a good commercial investment. The Committee did not go into the question of jurisdiction, so that he could not say whether the Dominion or Ontario should grant the land.

Hon. Mr. Cameron asked if there was any champagne used to influence the Committee in favour of the scheme.

Mr. Harrison said no champagne was used in the room. Mr. Capreol invited his friends to drink with him at other times; but he was the same at all times. The facilities for transport from the North-West were no more than sufficient to meet the requirements of the present day, and not one-tenth of the North-West was yet settled. The Huron Canal, if constructed, would save 370 miles between Chicago and Quebec, and would be much shorter than the Erie route. The Committee examined Hon. Mr. Skead, who was not in favour of the scheme, but the Hon. gentleman declared as his opinion that the Ottawa route was impracticable as a ship canal.

PROCEEDINGS IN COMMITTEE.

The Select Committee appointed by the Legislature on this subject, met again yesterday morning. Mr. Lount in the Chair, during the first part of the proceedings, but being required at another Committee, Mr. Grahame took the Chair.

Mr. W. Sykes, Civil Engineer, handed in a series of written answers to questions that had been furnished him, as follows:—

1. Have you examined the route of the proposed canal?

Answer—Yes.

2. Will you describe its chief characteristic features?

Answer—It is intended to commence at Lake Ontario, near the mouth of the River Humber, and follow the valley of that river to the village of Berwick, from which place it will follow the eastern branch of that river to the township of King, then by a large excavation, to the valley of the Holland River, which it is proposed to deepen and straighten. Lake Simcoe will then be utilized for navigable purposes as far as Barrie, from which point, to the Nottawasaga River, another excavation of some importance occurs. It is proposed to follow that river for fifteen miles, deepening and straightening the same as far as Jack's Lake, from which point an excavation will be made to the mouth of that river, to avoid a large detour.

3. Are you aware what has been stated publicly in regard to the water supply?

Answer—I am.

4. What is your opinion as to the sufficiency of the supply of water?

Answer—That it is largely in excess of the requirements of the canal.

5. Have you estimated the cost of the construction of this canal?

Answer—I have.

6. What is the estimated cost of its construction?

Answer—About 36 millions of dollars, including right of way.

7. If the canal was constructed, could it pass a sufficient amount of freight to pay expenses, and a reasonable dividend?

Answer—It could.

8. In arriving at the conclusion on the last question, have you estimated the cost of maintenance and management?

Answer—I have.

9. Will you inform the Committee what is your estimate of tolls for revenue and dividend?

Answer—My estimate of receipts and tolls is as follows:—

5,175,000 tons at 80 cents	$4,220,000
Deduct cost of maintenance and management	175,500

$4,044,500

10. Do you consider this project to be complete in itself, or will improvements in the St. Lawrence be necessary to supplement this undertaking?

Answer—To make this canal a commercial success it is absolutely necessary to give a similar capacity to the navigable canals and shoals of the St. Lawrence.

11. On what grounds do you conceive there is a necessity for such a work as this?

Answer—On several, amongst others the manifest insufficiency of the present routes to convey the produce of the west to the Atlantic cities and European ports. Also, the necessity of opening up to the world at large the vast timber and mineral regions lying on the north shores of Lakes Huron and Superior. Facilitating the construction of ship building on a large scale in the aforementioned districts of Canada. Facilitating communication with our North-West, formerly the Hudson Bay Territory. Securing to Canada a long and important link in a future communication between Europe and Asia. Giving to Canada an important position in making arrangements with the neighbouring Republic for reciprocal trade, and certainly of securing peaceful relations with that Republic.

12. What are the chief sources of traffic upon which you will depend?

Answer—On the United States for grain, barrelled and cut meats, salt, mineral and merchandise. From Canada chiefly lumber and minerals, with returns of emigrants and merchandise.

13. Can you distinguish what will be peculiarly from the United States, and what is strictly Canadian?

Answer—My answer to the last question separates them generally.

14. From what sources did you derive your data for estimating the amounts of traffic?

Answer—From the reports of the Boards of Trade of the different cities of Chicago, Milwaukee, Buffalo, and others, and also from the traffic returns of the Sault Ste. Marie, the Welland, the Erie, the Oswego, and the St. Lawrence Canals.

15. What is the date to which you have brought this estimate?

Answer—The year 1866 in most instances, in some only to the year 1865, in lumber and staves through Buffalo only to the year 1862.

16. What was the population and proportionate area of land under cultivation for the districts which you took into account?

Answer—The area of land which I estimate as tributary to this Canal in the United States amounts to 614,548 square miles, say 394,310,720 acres. The population of which area in 1860 amounted to 4,132,827, and the amount of land under cultivation at that time was 34,983,680 acres, being less than seven per cent of the total area. In addition to this vast extent of country, there is our own North-West Territory, which is estimated at a much larger extent of valuable mineral and agricultural lands.

17. Have you estimated the comparative costs of freight between this route and others now in existence?

Answer—I have.

18. What do you consider will be the advantage derived from the construction of this canal?

Answer—A reduction of 50 per cent in freight, and a saving of time in the transport of freight to nearly the same extent.

19. In estimating the cost of constructing this work, on what data have you proceeded?

Answer—By first preparing the plans and specifications of what works I conceived would be adequate for the requirements of this canal, then carefully calculating the quantities of the same, and bringing out the results at what I believed to be good and sufficient rates.

20. Will you inform the Committee what are the chief items of your estimate?

Answer—Earthworks, about 61,000,000 of cubic yards, about 1,500,000 cubic yards of puddling, about 61½ miles of sloped protection and retaining piles, in deep excavation, 42 locks, 27 waste weirs, 4 railway bridges, 24 other bridges, 25 miles of hydraulic main, permanent and temporary fencing, terminal harbours, and crib protections in Lake Simcoe, land and severance damages, with culverts, flood-off-lets, towing paths, wharves, work shops, offices, and other works of a minor character.

21. Can you give the Committee any details showing the manner in which these estimates have been arrived at?

Answer—I can. My book of estimates is here for the inspection of the Committee.

22. Are you aware that it has been stated that if this canal was filled with vessels from stem to stern, and night and day, it could not pass sufficient freight to warrant the expectation of a dividend?

Answer—I am aware of what has been so stated, viz: that if it was filled with vessels from stem to stern it would not pay.

23. What is your opinion regarding that statement?

Answer—That it is totally untrue, and has originated in an error of calculation, in a report made by M. P. Hayes, Esq., to the Board of Trade at Toronto, which was received and adopted at the annual meeting of that Board, February 27th, 1856. Vide page 35, of that report.

24. What is your estimate of the capacity of this canal?

Answer—My estimate of the actual capacity of the canal, is 19,008,000 tons per year, but as the prospects of return freight are much more limited than freight going to the East, I have reduced this estimate to 12,672,000 tons per year.

25. Can you indicate to the Committee, or in any way state that any official communications have passed between any of the States Governments and the Government of Canada?

Answer—Yes. In 1863, a deputation was sent from the State of Illinois to the Governor-General of the British Provinces, at Quebec. I presume this application is on record in the archives of the House.

(Signed,)

WM. SYKES, C.E.

To Mr. Cameron—Mr. Sykes explained that the length of canal would be 40 miles. The whole distance would be 97 miles from lake to lake. It would take 42 hours to pass from Nottawasaga Bay to the Humber—possibly less—by tugging to long reaches or hydraulic power on the short reaches. There are 56 miles without a lock, there steam tugs would be most available, and 8 miles an hour might be obtained; in the canal about 4 miles an hour, or on the short reaches two miles an hour. He estimated 20 minutes for passing each lock. He stated the matter as if all were steamers, but if sailing vessels then as being towed, screw vessels could be used. He had seen hydraulic power applied on a small scale, but it was coming into existence more generally, and was now in use in Austria, and was being tried on the Erie Canal. There was no doubt as to its applicability, but screw vessels would soon be exclusively used. A screw vessel could come from Chicago to the point of divergence in about thirty hours. From the point of divergence to Collingwood might be about 350 miles, from the same point to the foot of Lake Huron about 600 miles. It would take 77 hours to go from the point of divergence to the head of the Humber, in Lake Ontario, and 90 hours from the point of divergence to the mouth of the Welland on Lake Erie, which is about 900 miles. It would take 24 hours to pass the Welland Canal. The distance from the point of divergence to Samia he was not quite sure about. A screw steamer should travel 375 miles in 35 or 36 hours. The Welland Canal has 27 locks, and is 28 miles long. This canal has 42 locks. He gave twenty minutes to each lock. Each lock covered about 60 yards. He estimated the travelling at the rate of two miles an hour through the 27 miles, which would make 13½ hours, and 9 for the locks—in all 24 hours. The lake navigation should be at from 9 to 10 miles an hour. The difference in distance would be 370 miles, and the difference of time 23 hours.

Mr. Cameron—If his figures were right, he made it 29 hours.

Mr. Sykes—It was 640 miles from Chicago to Collingwood, and say 100 miles through the canal, which would be traversed say in 122 hours. This was taking the lake navigation at 8 miles per hour. It is 980 miles from Chicago to the mouth of the Welland, and 27 miles through the canal, which would be traversed in 146½ hours, making a difference of 24½ hours. The cost per day of a vessel of 1,200 tons—a sailing vessel—would be $72 per day, including insurance and 17 men employed upon the ship. The canal navigation would be open for seven months, but these vessels could go anywhere, therefore the estimates had been made on annual wages. The average insurance would be about 7 per cent. The general idea of the tolls, was that they should average 80 cents on the gross ton, so that such a vessel would pay $960; such a vessel could not go through the Welland.

Mr. Cameron—Yes, if the Welland were deepened.

Mr. Capreol—And strike on St. Clair flats.

Mr. Cameron—The St. Clair flats have been deepened since this project was started.

Mr. Sykes—That the tolls on the Welland, were 25 cents a ton, but they must be increased if the canal were deepened. It costs now 1 cent per ton per mile, to bring corn from Chicago to Toronto. That, at least, is what it is done for, but it costs really more. There are $33\frac{1}{8}$ bushels in an American ton, and 37 bushels in a British ton. That 33 bushels would cost \$6. He did not believe it could be brought for half a dollar a ton.

Mr. Hays—From Chicago to Sarnia, it costs a York shilling ($12\frac{1}{2}$ cts.) a bushel.

Mr. Sykes—From Chicago to Collingwood, it would cost about $1.50 a ton. He thought a good deal of grain would be shipped from Canada by this canal, instead of by rail. He did not think there would be much saving in going by rail, considering transference and other delays and costs. The canal was for the advantage of the Western States and Canada also. The introduction of grain from the West, would not lessen the price of grain here, because it would mostly be exported. But if it were cheapened, he did not think the people would mind that. He did not think there would be anything wrong in bringing American wheat to compete with our own.

The Committee then adjourned.

Toronto, December 9th, 1869.

On motion of Hon. Mr. Hardy, Mr. J. H. Morris was heard by the Committee.

Mr. Morris addressed the Committee at great length, with special reference to section 25 of the Act, and asked that the same might be repealed.

Moved by Mr. Meredith, That the Committee regrets that it has been called together at so late a period of the Session that it is unable to read, much less to consider the replies that have been received in answer to the questions directed by the Committee of last Session to be submitted, and that the possibility of Legislation during the present Session with a view to doing away with such of the existing exemptions as are not founded on sound principles has been thereby prevented.

Moved in amendment by Hon. Mr. Hardy, That all after the first word "That" in the resolution be struck out and the following substituted therefor, such answers as have been received to the questions submitted by the Select Committee appointed in the Session of 1878 to consider and take evidence on the subject of Municipal Taxation and Exemptions and which were sent out to Municipal Corporations, Business Institutions and Corporations, to several cities in the United States, and to gentlemen in different sections of the Province, with the analysis thereof prepared by the Clerk of the Committee, be reported to the House, together with such other statements as have been submitted to the Committee and such other evidence as has been taken or received by the Committee.

Moved by Mr. Calvin, in amendment to the amendment, That the Assessment Act be so amended as to cover all personal property such as Bank stock, Insurance Companies stock, or money on hand, bonds of all kinds representing money or value, all Joint Stock Companies and Building Societies, subject to a set-off of any amount of indebtedness, no matter from what said indebtedness may occur.
